GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Strong Market Sends Price of Wheat Up for Big Gain of Two and a Half to Three Cents.

CORN DEMAND IS ALSO GOOD

OMAHA, June 16, 1915.

The market was strong today. Wheat showed the biggest gain and was quoted Pieco above vesterday's prices. There was an active demand for all the different varieties of wheat and there were several cars sold on the advance.

The demand for corn was also good and the market advanced from 1442c. There was a fair number of sales of this cereal reported.

Oats was not no much in demand as corn and wheat, but there was a fairly good demand for the commercial grades and the market sold $491c up.

The weather is more favorable for repening, cutting and threshing wheat in the southwest, and in many instances producers are asking for hids for their grain, and it expected they will meet the views of the buyers.

Clearances were: Wheat and flour equal to 2000 bushels.

Liverpool—Spot wheat unchanged to 20 lower; corn, 3c higher.

Primary wheat receipts were 717,000 bushels and shipments 517,000 bushels last year.

Primary outs receipts were 84,000 bushels and shipments 54,000 bushels, against receipts of 55,000 bushels and shipments of 56,000 bushels and shipments of 760,000 bushels last year.

Europa.
One lively reaction took place in the wheat market owing to late advices that charters had been made to carry 4,000,000 hishels of wheat from northern Hussia to France. The report, however, was not generally accepted as true and the effect failed to last. On the other hand, a good deal of attention was given to camples of winter wheat from around Carrollton, Mo., badly infected with black rust.

Shorts were free buyers of corn. The chief reason was wet weather over the greater part of the belt, with predictions of more. Country offerings were small, twing largely to the poor start of the new crop. Oats hardened, msinly in respirate to a good demand from the seamboard. Hank growth and a tendency to lodge was reported from various lecthings, and the

SALES ARE 315,000 SHARES

NEW YORK. June 16.—After backing and filling for the greater part of the session today's stock market turned strong in the final hour, its rise coinciding with the declaration of the regular Reading dividend and vague rumors of impending developments favorable to the United States Steel corporation. Prior to that period the market had shown no very definite trend, standard stocks moving within comparatively narrow limits, while manipulated specialities repeated their recent sensational gyrations.

In the railway lists, grangers and some of the transcontinentals moved in confusing fashion, for which mederate foreign selling might have been responsible. Canadian Pacific held rather better than any other important issue in the internaand lires continued to move favorably to this market at $6.31, but offerings of bills on Berlin and Rome were very light.

Further gains in the steel trade were reported by the recognized authorities in that industry, recent domestic orders for new equipments adding to the increased activity at leading mills. Sales of refined copper at a substantial fracth in under the bigh price of 20% were not confirmed.

Fatures of today's bond market were the strength of New York Central debentures and Bethlehem Steel convertibles. Total sales, par value, aggregated gameson. Encore.
