SIGN TO RACE HERE

Ralph Mulford, Joe Cooper, Billy Chandler and Otto Benning Are the Latest Entries.

MULFORD FORMER ROAD CHAMP

Four more great racing drivers have been signed to compete in the 300-mile derby on the Omaha track July 5. They replaced Cicotic, allowed only three hits are Ralph Mulford, Joe Cooper, Billy and struck out nine, while Morton was Chandler and Otto Henning. Mulford will drive his Mulford Special, a car he built himself. Cooper will drive a Sebring, Chandler an Ogren and Henning a Mercer. All of these cars qualified at Chicago at a speed of over eighty-five miles an hour.

Mulford is the best knewn of the four drivers. Smiling Raiph, as he is called, was in 1910 the road champion of America, driving a Lozier. He also won the Vanderbilt cup race that year and was runner-up at Indianapolis.

Mulford has a dozen personal oddities that make him one of the characteristic figures in the racing game. He never drives without a clean, white, starched collar, which, he says, makes him feel at home, and he constantly eats gumdrops during a contest. He is also a fiend for chocolate eclairs and never goes without one if he can help it. Henning's Mercer qualified at Chicago at ninety-five miles an hour, and Henning declares the boat can keep it up for 500 miles. Cooper made ninety-two miles an hour and Chandler the same speed in the elimination trials at the Windy City.

This makes a field of fifteen drivers signed for Omahe, and F. J. McShane, director of contests, is still in Chicago signing up drivers. A report was published in an afernoon paper yesterday saying that Gil Anderson and Porporato had been entered, but neither of these drivers has been signed up. McShane
