WE MAY boast of a real genuine high brow in our canine set. Miss Mary Lewis Wood has a little German Dachshund she purchased abroad, which understands two languages.

Miss Wood always speaks to him in either French or German, and for some reason he has never taken kindly to our native tongue. His name is Grabach, named after the little German village in which he was born. He is with his mistress on her jaunts, either for pleasure or business, and accompanies her on all her shopping expeditions. He has an aristocratic ancestry and is counted a very valuable possession by the owner.

Not very hot in Omaha yet, but the heated spell is coming.

When it's hot children must have fresh milk and ice, and many a poor family cannot afford to buy it in needed quantities.

This fund is to supply that want—if it saves just one baby it will be worth while.

Contributions from 10 cents to $5 are solicited and will be acknowledged in this column.

MAKE BUILDING RESTRICTIONS

An extraordinary sale of close in residence lots was begun Friday by the real estate firm of Shuler & Cary when they offered seventy-five lots in the West Farnam and cathedral districts at prices ranging from $65 to $75 each.

"These are unheard of prices," said Mr. Shuler. "Any real estate man in Omaha, if he is unprejudiced, will admit that."

"Considering the location, between Forty-third avenue and Forty-third street and California and Burt streets, adjoining the very best residence local-

HE WATCHES THE STAND. BUT ROBS THE REGISTER

"Put not your trust into a stranger" is a caution which John Darwell will more closely heed in the future. Darwell has a little novelty stand near the Union station, where he sells a considerable assortment of articles. He wanted to leave the stand for a minute and asked a stranger standing near by to tend shop for him.

The stranger was agreeable, but when Darwell returned there was only a small boy watching the place, to whom the agreeable stranger had given a nickel. The cash drawer was open and empty, $6 in change having disappeared with the accommodating one.

ties in Omaha, easily reached and quickly by three of the best car lines in the city, with all improvements, ready for building. Schools and churches are within two or three blocks. Only a few blocks away, at Thirty-ninth and Dodge streets, a lot recently sold for $15,000. This sale indicates the residential desirability of this part of the city.

"The sale will continue Saturday and Sunday until all the lots have been sold. Sewer, city water, sidewalks and shade trees are all there. Twenty thousand cubic feet of earth was moved in preparing the lots for building.

"Building restrictions will be imposed so as to insure the most desirable houses. Restrictions will range from $300 to $2,500, thus making certain homes of four or six rooms up to large residences. "The easy monthly payment plan of $5 to $10 a month on which the lots are being sold adds to the attractiveness provided by the very low prices."
