CORNELL CAPTURES THE VARSITY RACE AT POUGHKEEPSIE

Stanford Eight Takes Second Place and Syracuse Third in Big Boat Race on River. COURTNEYS TAKE JUNIOR RUN Pennsylvania and Columbia Finish Next in Order Named in This Contest. SYRACUSE GETS FRESHMAN ONE

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 28.—Cornell won the university eight-oared four-mile race, the feature event of the regatta, today by one length. Leland Stanford was second, Syracuse third, Columbia fourth and Pennsylvania last.

The official time: Cornell, 11:29.55; Leland Stanford, 12:37.74; Syracuse, 20:43.9; Columbia, 31:00; Pennsylvania, 31:10.4. Smooth water, a fast ebbing tide and a slight down-drift breeze held the five varsity crews when they started the four-mile race.

Stanford Takes Early Lead. Leland Stanford took a terrific pace at the start, rowing thirty-six to the minute and the Californians were soon a length ahead of the field. Before the half mile Syracuse challenged and was even terms with Stanford. Cornell also moved out, while Columbia and Pennsylvania dropped back. Passing the mile the race for the lead lay between Syracuse and Cornell. These eight led Stanford by a length, with Pennsylvania and Columbia in the rut. Near the two-mile post Leland Stanford spurred, but could not overtake Cornell, who was leading Syracuse by a quarter of a length. At the bridge Cornell led Syracuse by a length, with Stanford half a length behind the Orange, Pennsylvania and Columbia were on even terms four lengths behind the Californians.

Entering the last mile, the Courtney crew was weakening and Syracuse sliding up, with Stanford a good third. It was a terrific struggle, with Cornell and Syracuse almost killing themselves off for Stanford to win, but Cornell made a desperate effort and drew even with Stanford and won in a terrific finish. Syracuse was third, with Pennsylvania ahead of Columbia, with Pennsylvania last.

The Freshman Race. The second race on the program was the freshman eight two-mile event, the entries being Syracuse, Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania. The crews were off at 5:07 p. m. Cornell caught the water first, Columbia second, Syracuse third and Pennsylvania fourth. Winning the first quarter mile Cornell seemed to hold the slight advantage it gained at the start, with the other positions unchanged.

At the half mile mark Syracuse was in the lead by half a length, with Cornell second, Pennsylvania third and Columbia fourth. Approaching the bridge Syracuse and Cornell had a beautiful battle for first place, with Syracuse still leading by half length.

At the one mile mark Syracuse had increased its lead to a length over Cornell; Columbia was third by several lengths, with Pennsylvania a quarter of a length behind.

Syracuse Increases Lead. At the mile and a quarter Syracuse showed almost a length of open water over Cornell, with Columbia third and Pennsylvania a sore last.

Close to the finish line it was evident there was no reason why the Cornell shell, Syracuse gradually increasing its lead. Columbia had gained on Cornell and showed open water over Pennsylvania.

Syracuse won the freshman eight oared shells, two mile race here today by six lengths. Cornell was second, Columbia, third, and Pennsylvania, fourth. The official time: Syracuse, 9:29.4; Cornell, 9:48; Columbia, 9:47.4; Pennsylvania, 10:01.5.

Keeps Others Waiting. The Columbia eight kept the other three crews waiting at the stake boats for some minutes and it was 5:37 when the four shells got away. Syracuse was first to get the jump and the Orange crew cut

RUSS MAKE STAND ON THE GNILA LIPA

Czar's General Staff Announces that Army is Ready to Effectually Oppose Further Advance

TEUTONS TRY FLANK MOVEMENT BULLETIN. (Via London.) June 28.—The town of Halicz, in Galicia, on the Dniester river, has been occupied by German troops, according to the announcement given out today by the German military headquarters. Besides the occupation of Halicz, the official statement announces that the river Dniester has been crossed by the Germans along the entire front.

PETROGRAD, June 28.—(Via London.)—Officers of the Russian general staff now state that they have satisfactorily achieved the regrouping of their forces necessitated by the German Galician campaign and that they stand ready effectively to oppose a further advance of the Austro-German forces in Galicia or in southern Russia.

The Galla Lipa river, to which the Russian forces have retired, flows south from above Rohatyn and provides admirable facilities for defense. Fifteen miles further eastward the Zlota Lipa, paralleling the Gnila Lipa, the Russians believe, would offer even a stronger obstacle to the enemy, since it is supported with a good railroad line. The most important point of the present front is that portion of the Vistula, just north of the river San. Here the Germans are attempting to force the river and flank the Russian positions along the Tanew, which have successfully resisted frontal attacks.

The wooded approach to the river here allows the Germans to conceal their batteries, but up to Saturday no real advantage had been gained by the Germans. The importance of this move is well recognized by the Russians, since, if successful, it would unite the German forces on both sides of the Vistula with those operating on the Tanew front.

MUSCOVITES ARE FALLING BACK

Belief Expressed that Retreat Will Only Delay Successful Counter-Movement.

FRENCH FORCES LESS ACTIVE

LONDON, June 28.—The anniversary today of the assassination at Sarajevo of Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria, which turned Europe into an armed camp, finds the struggle between Teutonism and Slavism what is thought here to be its high water mark, with the Teutonic armies for the most part still outwardly dominating the situation.

The penetration of the Germanic armies eastward from Lemberg has had the inevitable result of forcing the Russians from the thirty-mile front, between Bobrka and Zurlawa. The Muscovites are now falling back to the Gnila Lipa river. Military writers here anticipate that this will necessitate a total withdrawal from the Dniester and that the Russians will make their next real stand on the river Bug.

These writers also hold that though the Russian retreat must mean a great retardation to the prospects of a Muscovite recovery to a condition making a counter offensive possible, it has also robbed the Austro-Germanics of what might have been a complete victory had they forced the Russians to fight to a finish instead of the latter being able to withdraw their armies virtually intact.

French Are Less Active. In the western field of war the French offensive seems less active than for some time past pending consolidation of the ground already won and a clearer insight into the next move projected by the Germans.

From Lake Victoria Nyanza, in Africa, the British war office reports a fruitful British attack on the German fortified camp of Bukoba, the movement being made both from land and water, with the result that on June 25 the fort was destroyed, the wireless station put out of action, many boats sunk and guns captured and destroyed.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., June 28.—(Special.)—The European war has "busted" up the official family of Sheriff Henry Heerlein, of Burke county, and one of his chief deputies, dissatisfied with the pro-German expressions of his chief, resigned his office by filing with the sheriff one of the most remarkable resignations on record. The retiring deputy announces that he will be a candidate for sheriff to succeed Sheriff Heerlein, and the prospect is that the chief issue of the campaign will be the European war.

ANSWER OF KAISER TO BE FAVORABLE

Dispatch from Ambassador Gerard Causes Feeling of Optimism at State Department.

ITS TEXT IS NOT GIVEN OUT

WASHINGTON, June 28.—A favorable reply by Germany to the last American note on submarine warfare is indicated in today's State department advices from Berlin.

The advices came from Ambassador Gerard and were notably the first of a definite nature received since the American note reached the German foreign office. The exact nature of the ambassador's message was not divulged and it did not become known whether he revealed any indication of the trend of the forthcoming German reply. The ambassador's dispatch was of sufficient detail, however, to put officials in an optimistic attitude. It was communicated at once to President Wilson at the summer White House at Cornish, N. H.

Gerhard's Message Effective.

Ambassador Gerard based his observations on the favorable effect which the visit of Dr. Anton Meyer-Gorhard, emissary of Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador here, had produced on officials of the German government. Dr. Gerhard was understood by Ambassador Gerard to have reported that public opinion in the United States had been growing more and more favorable to Germany, when the sinking of the Lusitania undid what had been accomplished. Gerhard made it clear also that the United States did not want war, but wanted a satisfactory reply to its representations.

German officials are eager, according to Ambassador Gerard's report, to give such an answer, but they have made it clear that Germany cannot make any concessions which would destroy the effectiveness of the submarine. The German government, it is understood, is seeking to find some method by which Americans traveling on ships primarily used for passenger traffic shall be safe when the submarine continues its activity against freight ships carrying chiefly contraband.

Wishes to Protect Americans.

Just what proposal Germany will make officials here cannot conjecture, but since Germany seems to be willing to safeguard the rights of Americans on ships primarily engaged in passenger traffic an adherence to the principles expressed in the American note that non-combatants should be immune from attack would seem in the opinion of officials here to be reasonable.

No information had been received on what the attitude of Germany would be toward assuming liability for the loss of American lives on the Lusitania, but the feeling prevails that if a satisfactory arrangement can be made as to the future conduct of submarines towards vessels carrying Americans, Germany would suggest a basis for a favorable adjustment of the Lusitania case as well.

LONDON, June 28.—The French bark Dumfrieshire of 2,365 tons gross, which sailed from San Francisco June 25 for Dublin with a cargo of barley, was sunk today by a German submarine. The crew was landed at Milfordhaven, Wales.

The Day's War News

TEUTONIC FORCES have pushed their way across the Dniester along the entire front, the German official statement shows. The Russians admit that they have withdrawn from the thirty-mile Bobrka-Zurlawa front, making it appear that the entire battle front in this territory will be shifted to the eastward.

INSIDE DETAILS OF HUERTA PLOT ARE LEAKING OUT

Former Dictator Sounded Washington as to His Attitude Toward Him and Was Given 'Unfavorable Reply.'

MAKES A DEAL WITH ITURBIDE

Cientificos Junta in El Paso Has Maintained Form of Government for Several Days.

PROMINENT AMERICANS IN DEAL

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Inside details of the plot to restore a Huerta regime to Mexico, nipped in the bud by the United States, began trickling out today through the net of official secrecy, while General Huerta and his chief lieutenant, Pascual Orozco, are under federal detention at El Paso.

Other Mexicans, nearly a score of whom had a part in the plot that failed, and probably some Americans, are under surveillance by the Department of Justice.

Secretary Lansing conferred today with Assistant Attorney General Warren and it became apparent that the Department of Justice intends to stir the case to find the backers of the new revolution. Where the trail might lead in the United States is only a matter of conjecture. All officials were silent on that feature, but it is generally believed by those in close touch with Mexican affairs that the coup was to have the financial support of some prominent American interest.

Sounds Washington Government.

In unofficial circles it was disclosed that Huerta in supposed seclusion in his country place on Long Island, offered his services to General Iturbide, one of the exile colonies in New York and at the same time sent word to Washington to ask if he would be persona grata to this government if he took part in Mexican affairs.

Iturbide declined Huerta's company and simultaneously Washington sent word to the former dictator that he would be persona non grata, decidedly so. Immediately thereafter, the official advice here says, Huerta renewed his offer to Iturbide, with a modified proposal that Iturbide accept Huerta's aid without Huerta's leadership, but with the cooperation of his associates. This last offer, officials here and diplomats with Mexican interests—who have been keeping themselves informed, say Iturbide accepted.

In view of this information, officials are puzzled to know just how much of an active part Huerta intended to take in a movement on Mexico soil, although they have no doubt that at least he intended to take charge of affairs on the border.

Huertista Junta Active.

In that connection, it is known that for weeks a party of prominent Mexicans, styled by the Carranza and Villa adherents as "Huertistas" and "Cientificos," have been maintaining an active junta in El Paso, in constant communication with General Huerta and other members of the exile colony in New York and maintained among themselves the form of a provisional government, with a president and members of a cabinet. Advice to Mexicans here have continually indicated that the junta was planning some definite move.

Secretary Lansing disclosed today that an initiative had been taken by the Department of Justice. He declined to say whether any consideration of American policy was involved, but it is known authoritatively that the United States intends that no more revolutionary elements shall be introduced into the Mexican situation, and that as far as possible there will be vigorous prosecution of all other Mexicans who may be planning to set foot military expeditions from the United States.

Assistant Attorney General Warren made it clear that the agencies of the Department of Justice are being directed not alone against Huerta and Orozco, but against all other offenders affiliated with all Mexican factions who now are under indictment. Officials of the Department of Justice were much surprised to learn that Huerta and Orozco had been released on bail and ordered that a close watch be kept on them.
