OMAHA AND JOSIES EACH WIN A GAME

Double Bill is Featured by the Dispersal of Manager Krug by Umps Mullin.

FORSYTHE MAKES A HOME RUN

For just five minutes over four hours the sterling athletes tolling in the employ of Messra, Pa Rourke and Jack Holland battled on the ball yard at Rourks park yesterday afternoon. So far as can be learned neither side gained anything as the result was an even split of a bar-

St. Joseph walked off with the first affair, 6 to 4, and Omaha carried home the second, 5 to 3.

The first game was a swell fray. To liven things up, Umpire Mullin, acting in his first Western league combat, had an argument with Manager Marty Krug, which resulted in the chasing of Manager Marty to the club house after a flock of precious minutes had been consumed in Umps Calls a Balk. It all happened in the fourth inning when Tom Blodgett committed a balk, according to the umps. As it has been an unwritten law that there is no such thing as balk in the Western league, Krug put in a kick. It didn't do any good, the umps called it a balk and that settled it. From the press coup it looked like a perfectly good balk, but the fans couldn't see it and put Mullin on the gril the rest of the day.

Blodgett was hammered hard in the first four innings and all sig runs were fade off him. Johnson, who finished the game, allowed but one hit during the five frames he worked.

Collegian Is Defeated.

Johnson then took on the job of huriing the second bit and got away with it. A youth named Taylor, just fresh from the University of Missouri, was touched for the victory. A home run drive by Cy Forsythe in the opening spasm with Breen on the runway, albeit a walk, gave the Rourkes a two-run lead off the collegian and the game was ours ever after. The intermittent showers and dark skies kept the attendance down, even though it was a double-header, to about 600 persons. The same teams play a double bill today. First game called at 2 o'clock. Score, first game: Score, first game ST. JOSEPH.

Only one accident marred the contest. C. Cox, who took Rawlings' place, ripped the rear of Rickenbacher's wheels on the back stretch and crashed through the fence. At the hospital this evening, it was said his condition was serious. His mechanician was only slightly hurt. Almost 10,000 people witnessed the race.

Tennis Sharps Are Wondering if Champ Of 1914 Can Repeat

NEW YORK, July 3 .- From now on tennis will begin to take a place of increasing importance in the news of sport. There is no doubt that the intersectional matches which will bring R. N. Merely the assurance of another set of neetings between Williams and Maurice E. McLoughlin would be enough to keep tennis fans all over the country close to the telegraph wires. INTER-CITY MEET ON CARD

The first annual Townsend Memorial shoot will be held at the Omaha Gun club today in honor of the late Billy Townsend, one of the best known sportsmen and trap shooters the country ever knew. It will be a 100-target event and any trap shooter is invited to take part. A handsome trophy will be sonated by the Townsend Gun company for the winner. A shooter winning the trophy three times, not necessarily in succession, will receive permanent possession of it.

The first squad which will line up at the sixteen-yard rise will consint of Ray Kingsley, Henry McDonaid, George Rogers and Don McCown. Townsend's name will be number one and will be placed in his column.

In addition to the Townsend shoot teams from the Omaha Gun club and the Columbus Gun club will battle for the Knowless.

Columbus Gun club will battle for the state club championship. These two teams have met twice before, Columbus winning once and the other a tie. The Omaha team plans to get revenge this time. WHO'S WHO AMONG THE SPEED KINGS

Little Sidelights and a Few Records of the Drivers Who Will Race in Omaha Classic.

RESTA HAS THE BEST RECORD

Darto Resta, Peugot. Only recently in the racing game in this country, Resta has done more than any one driver in a similar period. Resta. who is of Italian birth and English education, has been in four races in this country. Of this number he has won three and was second in the fourth. Resta was one of the great Brooklands drivers in England and has several foreign victories to his credit.

Eddie O'Donnell, Deusenberg. Not so very long ago Eddie was a hard worker on a farm. Eddle was lured into the game when he left the farm to work in a sarage. The racing game was the next step. He was mechanician for Eddie Rickenbacher at Sloux City last year when Rick copped the money, so that when Rick quit the Deusenberg team it was only natural that he should get a Tom Orr, Maxwell. When it comes to getting cars in shape for a race Tom Orr is the man who becomes the goat. Orr is Ray Haroun's chief assistant. Orr is also a good driver and when his car is running right he is a man to be feared by other drivers.

Charley Keene, Porter-Knight. Keene first attracted attention a year ago at Indianapolis when the railbirds saw him come forth in a machine of his own making with front wheels larger than the rear wheels. He was laughed at at first, but when he came home in eighth position the world took notice. Keens gave so much promise of being a star that Finley R. Porter selected him as a member of his team when he started to recruit drivers for his Knight-motored Hughie Hughes, Porter-Knight. For many years Hughle has fellowed the chosen trail of Finley R. Perter, although he has been wont to break away for a brief time or two. Hughes drove his first great race at Savannah when he piloted the Mercer built by Porter into first place. His most recent showing was his winning of third place in the Grand Prize in a Cine car.

Ralph Mulford, Mulford Special. His smile gets him everywhere and you never find a race where he hasn't a large gathering of followers in the crowd. Not content to drive a car belonging to a company or a sportsman he has built one of his own design. Mulford has been racing seven years. In 1911 he walked off with the Vanderbilt and was second at Indianapolis. He was the first man to ever drive the entire 500 miles without making a tire change. He did this to 1913, piloting a 1918 Mercedes, the heaviest car in the race.

Eddie Rickenbucher, Maxwell. Eddie jumped to the majors after cap-turing the race at Bioux City last year. although his finishing money in the In-dianapolis event showed him to have the (Continued on Page Four, Column Two.)
