SOCIETY FOR DEAF GATHER IN OMAHA

Three Hundred Members of National Organization Meet Here in Annual Convention.

BIG RECEPTION MONDAY NIGHT

Although they could not hear the noisome patriotism, nearly 300 delegates and visitors to the sixth triennial convention of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf fraternized at the Rome hotel and were mindful of the nation's natal day. Delegates are here from nearly every state in the Union.

The opening feature of the program was a reception and dance at the Rome hotel last evening. Many of the visitors enjoyed the afternoon at Elmwood park. This morning the first business session will be opened with an address of welcome by Mayor Dahlmann. Addresses will follow by Superintendent F. W. Booth of the Nebraska School for the Deaf and Superintendent H. W. Rother of the Iowa School for the Deaf.

A banquet will be held Wednesday evening at the Rome. Business sessions will be held each morning until next Monday morning, excepting Sunday, when religious services will be attended.

Lawn Fete Friday

Among the social features provided for the visitors will be a lawn fete Friday afternoon at the Nebraska School for the Deaf, visit to the Ak-Sar-Ben "Isle of Poo" Thursday evening; visit to Liberty Bell Friday morning, street car trip and visit to the Iowa School for the Deaf at Council Bluffs.

The following officers of the national society are here: Harry C. Anderson of Indianapolis, president; Henry B. Plunkett of Milwaukee, first vice president; William B. Davis of Philadelphia, second vice president; H. Lorraine Track of Boston, treasurer, third vice president; Francis P. Gibson of Chicago, secretary; C. C. Neuner of Columbus, O., financial secretary; Washington Barrow of Chicago, treasurer; George F. Flick of Chicago, chairman of trustees.

On July 13 many of the local members and visitors will join a special train for San Francisco. This train will start from Chicago next Sunday.

J. Schuyler Long is president of Omaha division No. 23, principal of the Iowa school, editor of the "Iowa Hawkeye," author of "Out of the Silence," a book of verse. Mrs. Ota Blankenship is chairman of the ladies committee.

Decide to Reunite on the Fourth After Having Lived Apart

The Fourth of July was chosen by Neal N. Elliott and his divorced wife, Edith J. Elliott, for the day of reunion. Two years ago they were married by Rev. Charles W. Savidge. A little over six months ago they were divorced. Sunday, which was July 4, 1915, came to an agreement. They agreed that they should not live apart. They agreed that their divorce had been the big mistake of their lives. So humbly they put out a call for the same pastor that had united them the first time.

"We want you to tie this over again," they both said.
So Rev. Charles W. Savidge repaired to apartment No. 4 in the Wright block, where they were waiting for him. (Here he pronounced once more the selfsame words he had pronounced two years ago.) The couple joined hands the selfsame way and promised to be good this time. Rev. Mr. Savidge blessed them for their second thought on this important matter and wished them well. They left immediately for a short honeymoon trip, after which they will come back to Omaha to live.

This marriage rounded out 1,150 couples that Rev. Charles Savidge has married.

Moving Pictures of Omaha for the Big Highway Reel

Omaha is to be on the move for several days following July 10, when moving pictures are to be taken of the metropolis at that time.

Money Disappears While He Goes to Get Change

S. K. Bang, proprietor of the Box Ton restaurant on lower Farnam street, lost $20 Monday afternoon. A customer offered a $2 bill in payment of a 20-cent meal. This occurred in the front of the restaurant and Bang went into the room in the rear to get change, leaving on the counter by the cigar stand a bag containing $20 in bills and gold coin. When he returned with the change, the bag of money and the customer had disappeared.

Ask Your Neighbor

So many thousands of women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that there is hardly a neighborhood in any city, town or hamlet in this country wherein some woman has not found health in this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy. If you are suffering from some womenly ill, why don't you try it?—Advertisement.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain malleated cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get malleated cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months.—Advertisement.
