Somewhat similar points were advanced by H. L. Russell, director of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. He devoted his paper to discussion of the work of county agents and urged increased agricultural extension service by state schools.

The Philadelphia has aboard 611. Of these 206 were in the first cabin, 206 in the second

Text of Holt's Letter. WASHINGTON, July 7.-The text of Holt's letter telegraphed to the Navy department was as follows:

"Tear this off until after this happens The substance of Holt's letter was sent by radio to the commanders of the two vessels, as well as the department's report that it had been unable to verify that explosives had been put aboard one ship or the other. Two other transatlantic liners left New York about the same time, and navy officials expect that they also would pick up the message and make investigations. The vague nature of Holt's message made it possible, officials thought, that some steamer other than those he named had been marked for destruction.

FRANK HOLT KILLS HIMSELF IN CELL

Assailant of John P. Morgan Fractures His Skull by Jumping from Top of Door.

HE LEAVES NOTE FOR HIS WIFE

NEW YORK, July 7 .- Frank Holt, the man who shot J. P. Morgan, lay dead today in an undertaking establishment at Hemstead, L. I., and the New York police had in their possession his trunk, containing 134 half-pound sticks of dynamite with which, it is believed, he planned to wreck public buildings in New York

An autopsy early today established the fact that Holt committed suicide by leaping from the top of his cell door in the Mineola, L. I., jail.

Walter R. Jones, the Mineola coroner, issued a statement after an autopsy had been performed by the prison physician.

"Holt came to his death by a compound fracture of the akull and cerebral hemorrhage caused by a fall." Although the autopsy performed on Helt's body early today by Dr. Guy Clegborn established definitely that his death was due to a fractured skull, Walter R. Jones, the coroner, said that he would hold an inquest into the manner in which

Holt met his death. This, Mr. Jones said, was purely formal.

Guard Tells His Story. Jeremiah O'Ryan, the keeper wno was on guard at Holt's cell when Holt committed suicide today, gave a connected story of what happened. O'Ryan said that he had been employed by Sheriff Pettit to guard the prisoner, with instructions to watch him from 8 o'clock at night till 8 in the morning. Last night when O'Ryan went to the entrance of Holt's cell Holt seemed to be cheerful.

"I had some food today and managed to retain it," O'Ryan said Holt told him. 'I feel much better now, but I must get ome sleep. These detectives have been coming in and asking me all kinds of trestions, and they have been bothering me day and night. I must get sleep. I have got an important statement to make tomorrow, and I must be able to convince people that what I say is true." O'Ryan said he told Holt to go ahead and sleep and that Holt turned over on his side with his back to O'Ryan and remained there for about an hour. Then O'Ryan heard a noise in the next corridor. He glanced at Holt and saw that he was facing the door, but apparently Holt was sleeping. O'Ryan then crept, he says, on his hands and knees down the corridor to check the disturbance so that

Summer-Spoiled Skin Removed by Absorption

As undue summer exposure usually leaves an undesirable surface of tan, redness or roughness, often freckies, too, the sensible thing to do it to remove such surface. There's nothing better for this than ordinary mercolized wax, which actually absorbs an unwholesome complexion. The thin layer of surface skin is itself absorbed, gently, gradually, so there's no inconvenience, no detention undoors. Spread the wax lightly over the entire face at bedtime and take it off in the morning with warm water. If you will get one cunce of mercolized wax at the drugstore, use it for a week or so, you may expect marked improvement daily. When the underlying skin is wholly in view your complexion will be a marvel of spotless purity and beautiful wniteness. Den't let those summer wrinkles worry you; worry breeds more wrinkles worry you; worry breeds more wrinkles worry you; worry breeds more wrinkles shallsh them by bathing the face in a solution of powdered assolite. Don't Use Soap On Your Hair

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared sham poos contain too much alkall, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats scape or anything else all to pleces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a tenapoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust mirt and dandruff.-Advertisement
