HUMMEL INSISTS PARKS ALL RIGHT

Ministers Are Permitted to Hold Services There Each Sunday for Two Months.

MUST NOT RUN DOWN THE CITY

Speaking on behalf of the Omaha Ministers' Alliance, Rev. Titus Lowe told the city commissioners that members of his organization proposed to attack the devil in the public parks during the next six weeks. A committee of the Alliance asked the council for the privilege of holding services in Hanscom, Riverview, Miller and Fontanelle parks, which request was granted, subject to restrictions to be outlined by Commissioner Hummel.

"We believe we can improve the parks by holding these services," declared Rev. Mr. Lowe.

"I am here to say these parks do not need improving. They are strictly respectable and I may add that if the ministers are to speak in these parks they should not be allowed to say anything derogatory to the best interests of this city," was the sharp retort of Commissioner Hummel.

Rev. Mr. Lowe quickly explained he meant the services would add to the usefulness of the parks and that he did not mean to convey any impression that the atmosphere of the parks needed renovating.

"There are no better boosters in Omaha than the ministers," added Rev. Mr. Lowe.

It is proposed to hold these services at 4 p. m. next Sunday and extending to the last Sunday in August.

Veteran of Balkan War Wants to Join U. S. Aviator Corps

Two years of the fierce fighting in the Balkan wars did not quench the martial ardor of William P. Vance. The voice of his Spartan ancestors still cries from every drop of blood in his Grecian veins for more war, more bloodshed, more pillage and plunder and rapine.

These ancestors hotly reject the policy of "watchful waiting," for William is a waiter in the Metrop cafe, Bloomington, Ind.

He writes from that place to Recruiting Sergeant Hanson at the local army recruiting station to know whether he can join the aviator corps of the United States army. He was born in Sparta, Greece, and came to this country to make his fortune.

But when the Balkans were balkin' and were threatening the beloved soil of himself and Achilles and Agamemnon, William closed up his affairs of money making here and took ship for his native land. He enlisted in the Greek army and served for two years, winning two medals for bravery on the field of battle.

Sergeant Hanson has written to the warlike Greek instructing him to apply for enlistment via Washington.
