FEMINE frills and fancies are always of deep interest to society maids and matrons and doubly so when it comes to the finery incident upon the selection of a trousseau.

A friend who had a peep at the trousseau of Miss Catherine Barker, who is to be married on July 31 to Howard H. Spaulding, Jr., of Chicago, has described it as the most complete and beautiful possessed by any bride in years. Not only the wedding gown itself, which is of softest white satin and misty tulle and silver lace, but the gowns of the bridesmaids and of the little flower girl, Mary Barnes, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson L. Barnes, are of exquisite materials and workmanship and in the latest mode.

The wedding gown is to have a touch of novelty in the lining of the train which is of flesh-colored chiffon over white satin.

The bride will wear a wreath of orange blossoms bound about the veil of tulle and caught at the back with a bow of silver lace and her only jewels will be a string of pearls and a diamond bracelet, the gifts of the bridegroom.

The little flower girl is to wear a dainty, airy costume of flesh-colored tulle, and she will carry a basket of pink roses. The little sons of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, John and Nelson, Jr., are to wear costumes of white satin, made in Lord Fauntleroy fashion, and they will carry the bride's train.

Miss Barker has presented her wedding attendants with the costumes they are to wear. Her maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Goodrich, is to wear a costume of green taffeta, with mauve girdle and a mauve tulle hat, and the gowns of the other attendants, made from the same model, are also of tulle in salmon pink over taffeta. The bodices are to have silver trimmings, and the hats are wide-brimmed and transparent, made of tulle and trimmed with silver flowers.

SAENGERFEST WINS OUT FINANCIALLY

Large Sum to Be Cleared Above All Expenses—Huge Attendance Makes the Money.

NEXT MEET AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City will be the meeting place of the next national saengerfest, in July, 1917.

The present saengerfest has been so successful that it will yield a profit of about $4,000 over and above all expenses.

These two important facts became known Friday.

It will be the first time in all the history of the saengerbund that Kansas City has succeeded in getting the national saengerfest.

The financial success of the present fest was the occasion of much jubilation among the directors and the local committee. These men have worked untiringly day and night for months and feel a natural pride and elation at the successful fruition of their efforts.

Attendance Makes for Success.

The musical success of the big affair was assured at the two tremendous Thursday concerts. Its financial success adds another victory to the successful record of the local German-American singers. For the saengerfest held here in 1910 was also a financial as well as a musical success, clearing about $2,000 above all expenses.

"The actual expense for our music alone was about $15,000 said Peter Laux, one of the directors of the local association and chairman of the music committee. "This includes payments to the orchestra and soloists and rent of the Auditorium."

From this some idea can be secured of the magnitude of the saengerfest proposition.

Delighted with Omaha.

Mr. Laux voiced the universal delight of the singers and visitors with their reception in Omaha. "They can't say enough," he asserted, "about the hospitality of Omaha and their fine entertainment here. They are delighted. The weather has been so good, too. Five years ago we had clear weather, but it was awfully hot. This year it has not been hot."

The time of visiting and good fellowship has been extended to include Sunday as well as Saturday. "This morning there is to be a big parade. The afternoon and evening will be devoted to a grand picnic at the German home and park, 4406 South Thirtieth street.

Sunday there will be a special festival and reunion at the German home and park.

Singers Drill for Big Concert at the Auditorium Tonight

Rehearsals in the Auditorium started early this morning again. First Director Kelbe drilled the mass male chorus in the songs to be rendered at this evening's concert. Then Director Reese took the stand and drilled the chorus of the Nebraska Saengerbund in the songs of the afternoon. The soloists came on for their final rehearsals. And through it all the orchestra worked.

Prof. Reese worked in his shirtsleeves and mopped the perspiration from his brow from time to time. When Henri Scott came up he took off his light coat and appeared in the coolness of his tan shirt, soft collar and green tie.

Scott is the personification of good nature. He smiled upon the musicians; he shook hands with Prof. Reese; he had a copy of a noon newspaper in his hand, and at times in the midst of his song he would read from it. Singing seemed the easiest thing in the world for the great bass.

At the end of his song there was applause from the few onlookers. Mr. Scott made a mock bow.

As he left the platform he met Mrs. Marie Rappold-Berger. He shook hands with her and did a final bit of opera bouffe by kissing her hand with great ceremony.

Then he came and sat in the Auditorium and gathered about him a crowd of Greek and Italian "newspics," who were selling German newspapers at 5 cents each, and almost producing a panic in newsboy circles with this get-rich-quick scheme.

Mr. Scott showed them various wonders that he had in his pockets. Oh, a jolly dog is Henri Scott.

Saturdays many of our saleswomen don't come to work till 10 a. m. This forces us to schedule the very big sales for that hour.

While 10 is the starting hour, sales continue while the goods last, or until we shut up shop at 9 o'clock.

IMPORTANT SILK STOCKING BUY—It has been mighty hard to get the desirable things in Colored Silk Hosiery, and now and again a certain color in a certain size has been absent at roll call. For special reasons a manufacturer had to free his looms for a very important undertaking. He whispered in our ear a price for a cleanup of an especially good lot of Silk Stockings. It didn't require more than a minute to close the deal. We could peddle them out at a big profit, but that's not our way. As we buy a bargain, so we sell a bargain—59 Cents the pair Saturday at 10 A. M., and the saleswomen on hand to hand them out quickly.
