

MOTORCYCLES LEAD TO RUIN OF GIRLS

Probation and Juvenile Court Officers Criticize Machines Which Are Built for Two.

SUGGEST A REMEDY AT LAW

Criticism of the motorcycle as a potent factor in wrecking the lives of young girls, especially those who work and those who do not receive proper parental care, was voiced by juvenile authorities, who declared the best remedy was a city ordinance prohibiting two persons from riding on motorcycles.

The story of the ruin of a 15-year-old girl was being told to Judge Leslie in juvenile court, by her mother, when Probation Officer Miller said: "Motorcycles are ruining more girls than automobiles. Something should be done to prevent the vicious work of this kind, which is constantly going on."

Miss Esther Johnson, probation officer, whose work daily brings her in contact with wayward girls, declared that the motorcycle was particularly dangerous to young girls who come from homes where parental care is lacking. "It is the girls who particularly need care, but do not receive it, who suffer from the invitations of vicious men and boys who own motorcycles," she said. "Any day or night you may see boys and girls riding together on the streets. The moral effect is very bad."

"I think an ordinance prohibiting two persons from riding on a motorcycle would be the best remedy. The practice is dangerous, in addition to causing immorality."

They Had Tunes for All the Employees At the City Hall

Four blind negro musicians called on Mayor Dahlman yesterday afternoon and entertained for nearly an hour with instrumental and vocal selections. These men attended a school for the blind at Little Rock, Ark., and have been companions since childhood.

Their music attracted quite a group of city hall people to the mayor's office. When they played "Five Shimmies," City Clerk Flynn and Commissioner Butler just couldn't make their feelings be have, so they yielded to an impulse to find the source of the music.

Then they struck up Harry Lauder's "I Love a Lassie," and Tom Bowie of Commissioner Kugel's office did a Highland fling up to the mayor's office.

"Die Wacht Am Rhein" was the next selection and August Specht of the health office joined the group of listeners. "Sweet Italian Love" brought Dairy Inspector Bosse from his work.

"You boys are a long way from home," remarked the mayor between tunes.

"Yes, boss, that's what we are. Ah got a good ole mammy down in Arkansas an' Ah jess wish Ah was dar now," one of the blind men replied.

Then they played and sang "When You're a Long, Long Way From Home."

Dreesen Dies from Burns in Pool Hall

Heinrich Dreesen, who was injured in the mysterious explosion several days ago in the pool room at Sixteenth and Howard streets, died last night at St. Joseph's hospital. At the time of his death Dr. Foltz, who has attended him since the accident, was present, as were a number of his family, including his son, Harry, with whom he owned the pool room.

Dreesen was 76 years of age, and resided in Florence with his son, who has been at his father's side almost constantly since the accident. The injuries received were very painful and prevented his talking. No explanation has yet been offered for the explosion, but the fire warden is attempting to find the cause.

Shortly before he died Mr. Dreesen gave his version of the accident which was the cause of his death. He said that he had been missing things from the pool hall of late and, hearing a noise, went into the basement room. Finding nothing he stood a minute and then lit his cigar, when the explosion followed.

Boy Struck by Street Car Rendered Insane

While on his way home shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, Fred Harrington, aged 13 years, living at 208 Decatur street, was struck by a northbound street car at Twenty-fourth and Decatur, and seriously injured. The impact threw him into the air, and he struck the pavement with his head. Dr. Shook and Zimmerman took charge of the injured boy. The result of the injury was to render him insane, bringing on an attack of acute mania. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital. Because of his mental condition it took two officers to hold him on the way to the hospital.

The street car was in charge of J. C. Gentry, conductor, and Ed Dordendorf, motorman. Harrington was in the employ of a baker at Sixteenth and Maple. No attempt has yet been made to place the blame, but the reports seem to prove that the motorman did all that he could to prevent the accident.

EXPERT WOMAN SWIMMER IN PARK POOL IN TIGHTS

Women bathers at the municipal swimming pool at Spring Lake park were surprised at the appearance of a Titian-haired young woman with the form of Venus in the water in black tights. Yesterday being "nude day" at the pool, the superintendent entered no objection when this strange visitor asked if her daring bathing garb would be in order.

The woman jumped from the crowd with her expert antics in the water. Many stopped their swimming to watch this interesting visitor.

But it is Annette Kellerman, ventured one of the swimmers.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Workman in Delirium Tries to Step Out of High Window at Cooperage Plant.

COMPANIONS PREVENT THE ACT

With the words, "God made us, and He can take us away whenever He pleases," on his lips, Mike Morris, cooper working in the Armour & Co. cooperage plant, stepped into the sill of a third-story window of the packing plant shortly after quitting last evening at 5:30 o'clock and all but jumped to the earth below. Workmen standing nearby enlisted a retaining arm in the nick of time as the man, laboring under delirium, swayed perilously over almost certain death.

Morris, who is subject to these spells, was attacked by one shortly before quitting time. He is thought to have been affected by the heat. The police were called and the man taken to the station, where he was reported to have almost fully recovered last evening.

His mental condition rendered it impossible to get any definite particulars as to his personal troubles. He is a Lithuanian and is thought by the police to be unmarried.

Sergeant Dillon of the night force made the report. The man will be held for further investigation as to his sanity.

Protest Over Sub-Treasury. A party of South Side business men, led by John Watkins, lumberman, John Flynn, clothier, and Chris Melcher, druggist, will appear before the Board of County Commissioners at their meeting this morning at 10 o'clock to protest the rumored action to abolish the treasury.

No definite organization has been completed, but the men will appear in a body in unanimous protest. The rumored action to abolish the treasury, which policy City and County Treasurer W. G. Ure is said to favor, has aroused considerable opposition among local business men and citizens.

Will Foley Home Again. William Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Foley, 72 North Seventeenth street, South Side, who was seriously injured in a fall from a tree near Thirty-seventh and Cumine streets, some two weeks ago, while working as a tree surgeon, was removed from the First Methodist hospital of Omaha to his home yesterday afternoon. In the fall he sustained a fracture of the skull, a broken shoulder and several other minor injuries. He is now able to walk short distances, although in a very weak condition.

Seymour Medical Entertainment. The Seymour Lake Country club gave one of the most successful dances of the summer last evening at their club hall near the lake in Ralston. More than 100 guests attended from Omaha and a brilliant musical program was executed.

Theodore Lehmer, Nebraska university student and talented violinist, played several selections with his sister, Miss Olive Lehmer, accompanying. Misses Georgiana Davis, Jeanne Lee and Will Hunt, all well known alumni of the South Omaha High school, sang several vocal solos and duets.

Police Report Fight. Louis Maach, resident of Sarpy county, sent a distress call to the police station last Thursday evening shortly before 7 o'clock, stating over the telephone that he had been stung and robbed of $9. Detectives Lepinski and Zaloudek investigated and reported that he had been fighting with Ralph Lee, 2064 Polk street, and had called the police. On his bond, furnished by his wife, he was released later in the evening.

Cattlemen Win Game. Manager "Red" Moran of the now famous "Speculators" aggregation, led his team to a 11 to 1 victory over the "Sheepmen" nine and incidentally to the championship of the Omaha stock yards, yesterday afternoon at Rourke park. From the standpoint of high class baseball, the game was a two-hour fiasco, but the enthusiasm of the spectators and the funny antics of the stock hustlers made it a hummer in human interest.

Buzzing Bees' Dinner Party. Husbands of members of the Kensington of the Buzzing Bees were entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday evening at the country home of O. P. Taylor, on the Bellevue boulevard. Plates were laid for thirty-three attending guests. Music and speaking was on the program for the evening. The guests:

FEATHERY FINERY STILL IN DEMAND

Dressers Make Unprecedented Success in the Feather Boas Manufacturing Game.

Make Feather Boas Out of Your Old Plumage—Any of the Old Feathers Will Do Nicely.

If there's a single Omaha lady who has not yet secured a feather boa, let her hurry to possess one, for she surely would not want to be an exception—the only lady who isn't wearing one!

But, sometimes the cost enters into the matter. Here's a way to sidestep most of the cost. Hunt up your old feathers. Then bring and send them to, or have Dressers call for them. Dressers will then make up those old feathers into a charming feather boa, as dainty as any of the boas sold in the shops; as prettily colored as can be imagined. In fact, you may have the boa made up in any shade you set your heart upon, for Dressers clean and dye your old feathers before making them up into boas, and they will not charge a cent extra for the cleaning and dyeing part of the job.

Among the many Dresser departments is one devoted exclusively to feather work. Not only do the Dresser experts make the above described popular feather boas out of old feathers, but they do the regular run of feather work. They dye, curl, make up plumes, etc.

Many of the costumes of today are matched throughout and to accomplish this a service of an expert dyer must be enlisted. In Omaha this, of course, means that Dressers would be the dyers for no more complete dyeing department exists in all America than the dyeing department maintained at Dresser Brothers' $57,000 cleaning plant at 2211-2212 Farnam Street. Dressers are every day dyeing gloves, feathers, hose, waisis, parasols and even shoes to match costumes, and the prices charged for such work are admittedly reasonable.

If you've any feather box or dyeing work to be done, call up Tylar 24 or leave your work at Dresser's Tailors, 1615 Farnam, or at the Dresser branch in the Pompeian Room of the Brandeis Stores.

Dressers pay parcel post charges one way on any sized bundle to any point in America.

Recipes for Today

By Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer

Convert Pie. Boil three ounces of spaghetti or macaroni. Chop one red and one green pepper. Butter four slices of bread and cut them into dice. Chop one tablespoonful each of parsley and onion. Grate quarter of a pound of cheese. Put a layer of macaroni in the bottom of the large casserole, dust with pepper, parsley, onion and salt, then a layer of bread, then cheese, then again macaroni, the last layer bread. Beat two eggs, add a cupful and a half of milk, pour these over the other ingredients, let them stand five minutes, bake a half hour in a quick oven and serve with mushroom sauce.

Eggs en Casserole. Cover the bottom of one of the casseroles with carefully boiled rice, put over finely chopped red and green pepper, break on top four to six eggs, cover with a half pint of white sauce and bake in the oven ten to fifteen minutes or until the eggs are "set."

Potato Roll. Two cupfuls of mashed potatoes. One cupful of chopped nuts. One egg yolk. One tablespoonful of chopped parsley. One teaspoonful of salt. One-quarter teaspoonful of pepper. Mix well, form into a roll six inches long, roll in crumbs and bake on the pie dish until a nice brown. Baste with melted butter once. Serve on a platter with white sauce.

Mock Chocolate. Three level tablespoonfuls of cornstarch. One pint of water. Half cupful of sugar. A teaspoonful of vanilla. Whites of four eggs. Moisten the cornstarch gradually with the water and stir it over the fire until it is thoroughly cooked, add the sugar, take from the fire, add the vanilla and pour slowly, while hot, into the whites of the eggs, well beaten. Moisten the bread pan with cold water, turn in the chocolate and stand it aside until solid and cold. Serve with mustard sauce made from the yolks of the eggs.

WITNESS AGAINST BECKER ARRESTED IN A RAID

NEW YORK, July 31.—Jacob Luban, a witness for the people in the first trial of Charles Becker, was arrested with two other men today when the police raided an alleged gambling house on Lower Sixth avenue, said to have been operated by "Dollar John" Langar, frequently mentioned in the Becker case. The names of sixty-five men who were in the place were taken and much gambling paraphernalia was confiscated.

LINCOLN UNIONS PARADE; PROTEST AGAINST WAR

LINCOLN, July 31.—The Central Federated Labor union of Lincoln at a meeting last night decided to make its annual parade this year one of protest against war. The usual floats and emblems bearing on the rights and grievances of toilers will be entirely absent and banners carried will refer exclusively to the European struggle.

APPEAL TO WILSON IN REHALF OF PUBLISHER

CORNISH, N. H., July 31.—Appeals were made today to President Wilson in behalf of Paul Hudson, the publisher of the Mexican Herald, placed under arrest in Mexico City by General Zapata. Friends and relatives of Hudson asked that the president obtain his release.
