BRIEF CITY NEWS BUSINESS MEN ASK FIRE PROTECTION

Present Request for Better Fire Alarm System to the City Commissioners.

SEEKING FOR LOWER RATES

F. S. King, president of King-Peck Co. and other members of the Retallers association, appeared before the city council committee of the whole, to urge the commissioners to install a modern fire alarm system, according to an enact- 18462. ment of the last legislature.

The commissioners were impressed by Mr. King's presentation of an axcerpt from the report of the National Underwriters, setting forth the antiquated condition of Omaha's present fire alarm system.

"We contend that the installation of an up-to-date fire alarm system would have the effect of reducing insurance rates in this city. We wish to bring this matter to your attention and have you begin to think of it seriously," stated Mr.

Behind the Times.

report of the underwriters sets forth the need of an improved system, particularly in the business district. It notes the lack of sufficient boxes with glass-covered keys and adds that signs showing the location of keys are lacking. In a general way the present system is shown to have fallen behind the growth and needs of the city.

The 1916 budget, passed by the council a few weeks ago, included 866,500 for motoring the fire department and for installing an alarm system. The legislature provided for an annual expenditure of this amount for five years. It is estimated that a modern fire alarm system for Greater Omaha will cost about $200,000, and could not be installed in much less than two years.

Will Submit Plans

Commissioner Withnell of Confire de partment states he has had this matter in mind for some time and expects to have plans and specifications prepared for the new system within the next few months This matter will be taken up again next Monday morning by the committee of the whole. In this connection the Nebraska Telephone company presented an estimate of the cost of connecting the South Side fire and police alarm systems with the Omaha system. To cover the interim until a new system shall have been installed, another contract will be made with the telephone company, probably for two

The telephone company now maintains and operates the fire and police alarm systems under a contract with the city.
