THIRTY-NINE KNOWN DEAD IN ERIE FLOOD

Great Piles of Ruins in Devastated City Yet to Be Explored-Eighteen Are Identified.

GUARDING AGAINST PESTILENCE

ERIE, Pa., Aug. 5 .- Working in relays under a scorching sun, police, firemen and volunteers today continued their search in the masses of wreckage piled along Mill creek by Tuesday night's freshet for the bodies still believed to be in the debris. The coroner estimated the death list would total seventy-fve.

Some headway was made during the night, but there still remain, however, great piles of ruins that have not been explored. One body was recovered during the night. Eighteen victims of the disaster have been identified. Twenty-four bodies have been recovered and fifteen are known to be missing. Coroner Hanley said this morning that he thought the death list would reach seventy-five. being swelled by the probable loss of a number of foreigners whose houses were swept away on the banks of the creek at Ninth street.

Naval Militta on Patrol Duty. Work of clearing up the city was co menced in earnest this morning. The naval militia was called out to reinforce he national guardemen on duty guarding the stricken section, and sightseers were kept away from the working gangs.
