VASSAR COLLEGE is to celebrate its fiftieth anniversary the first week of October. Elaborate preparations are being made for the commemoration of this event and members of the alumnae from all parts of the country are planning to be present.

It will be a three days' affair, and the time will be devoted to lectures from men of note from the eastern colleges, banquets and afternoon teas. Omaha has been well represented in the annals of Vassar college. Mrs. W. C. Shannon was the first Omaha girl to carry off a diploma of graduation from this institution, and from that time on one or more girls from Omaha have been pupils there.

We may boast also of a few girls in our midst who carried the famous Daisy chain, the time-honored and well known custom of Vassar. Miss Natalie Merriam, now Mrs. Barton Millard; Miss Laura Congdon, who is Mrs. Arthur Rogers, and Miss Caroline Congdon, who is Mrs. Herbert French of Louisville, Ky., each received this honor while attending Vassar. Miss Josephine Congdon represents Omaha in this year's graduation class and Miss Mona Cowell graduated from there last June. Miss Cowell will be present at the celebration, as also will be Mrs. Warren Blackwell, who is now in the east. Miss Margaret Bruce, Mrs. Miles Standish, Miss Hilda Hammer and Mrs. Frank Crawford are other members of the Vassar alumnae who are making plans to celebrate this anniversary at the college.

At the Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamilton will entertain fourteen guests at dinner this evening at the Country club, complimentary to their guests, Miss Grace Williams, of Los Angeles.

The table will be attractively decorated with quantities of pink and white asters and covers will be placed for:

AND PEDDLER GOES TO JAIL

"I believe that this good man is telling the truth and that he is selling genuine home-cured bacon. I will purchase some," said Watson (an employee at Riverview home).

"My dear Watson, how can you be so obtuse? Does it escape your notice altogether that this supposed farmer who says he lives north of Florence is driving a horse which has no mud on his feet on this rainy morning?" replied Sherlock Holmes (Superintendent M. B. Thompson of Riverview home), with his never-failing look of surprise at Watson's density.

"Then there are one or two other points which make this little case not without some slight interest," continued Omaha's Sherlock Holmes, as he lit a cigar in lieu of the clay pipe which he should have had in his pocket. "For instance, there is a government stamp on this bacon and it is trimmed neatly after the fashion of packing houses. You may recall that I am the author of a 10,000-word treatise on the differences which may be observed in the curing of various kinds of meats, which has been favorably mentioned in the European reviews."

Calls Scotland Yard.

"Now, friend Watson, if you will just hold this spurious farrow for a few moments by pretending you are about to make a purchase, I will call Scotland Yard, rather, I mean, the Omaha Central Metropolitan Police station, and Le-strade, or, I should say, Steve Maloney, will see that he is placed behind the bars."

The foregoing imaginary passage from A. Conan Doyle occurred in real life at Riverview home.

The police arrived while the spurious farmer was discussing a supposed sale and he was arrested. He told the police he purchased the bacon from Morris & Co.

A Remedy For All Pain

"The efficiency of any drug," says Dr. C. P. Robbins, "is known to us by the results we obtain from its use. If we are able to control pain and disease by means of any preparation, we certainly are warranted in its use. One of the principal symptoms of all disease is pain, and this is what the patient most often suffers from. I, as a physician, to relieve his pain. If we can arrest this promptly, the patient is most liable to trust in us for the other remedies which will effect a permanent cure. One remedy which I have used largely in my practice is Asiatic Tablets. Many and varied are their uses. I have put them to the test in many cases, and have never been disappointed. I found them especially valuable for headaches of malarial origin, where quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the bad after-effects of the quinine. Asiatic Tablets are also excellent for the headaches from improper digestion; also for headaches of a neuralgic origin, and especially for women subjects to certain times. Two Asiatic Tablets give prompt relief, and in a short time the patient is able to go about as usual. These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for Asiatic Tablets. They are also unexcelled for neuralgia, neuritis and all pains.
