

CHINESE BOYCOTT JAPANESE GOODS

Tsin Tsin Doctor in Address to Teachers Says Militarists Gain Nothing by Occupation.

FRABT FOR FOREIGN DELEGATES

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 24.—Sessions of the various departmental congresses of the National Education association gathered today for the meetings of teachers who are here attending the fifty-third annual congress of the organization. No general session was scheduled.

Silent, all-embracing boycott of all things Japanese is the direct result of Japan's policy in China said Dr. Yamei Kin, superintendent of the Pei-Yang Women's hospital, Tsin Tsin, China, at a meeting last night of the department of school patron of the National Education association.

Greatest Boycott in History. "In China," she said, "one sees what its neighbor, Japan, claims to be military necessity, but in Asia militarists will find they have gained nothing, for they are engendering a spirit of ill feeling which already has caused a boycott which will remove Japan as China's chief source of supply.

The speaker charged that Japanese teachers had received Chinese students into their schools, and at the end of six months' instruction had sold them diplomas as civil engineers and doctors.

New Organization Formed. Another subsidiary offshoot of the National Education association was formed last night. It is the National Council of School Women. Several hundred delegates enrolled as members, and Miss Lucy K. Cole of Seattle, supervisor of music at the University of Washington, was elected president.

The personnel of the council will include only executive instructors, such as superintendents, supervisors and principals, it was announced, and the purpose of the organization is to evolve the perfect school.

Dinner for Foreign Delegates. The foreign delegates and the local committee of the National Education association were looking forward to the dinner that was to be given them tonight by the Oakland Commercial club. David Starr Jordan, past president of the National Education association, was on the program for an address entitled "Our Guests," to which a response was to be made by H. A. Van C. Torchiana, consul general for the Netherlands. "Our President" was the subject assigned United States Senator James D. Phelan of San Francisco; John Barrett of the Pan-American union and H. P. Claxton of Washington, D. C.

FRANK HANGED BY PARTIES UNKNOWN

(Continued from Page One.) and Walter Gann there wasn't anybody in the grove but Leo M. Frank. "When did you first know anything had happened that morning?" "About 8 o'clock that morning my brother telephoned me the state prison farm had been broken into and Frank taken out. Walter Gann, a traveling man from Augusta, was visiting at my place. I live right on the main road. Mr. Gann and I were in the field about 6:30 or 7 o'clock when three or four automobiles came whizzing by. Having heard about the break at the prison farm, it popped right into my mind there was something doing in the way of Frank."

Frey said Frank was seated in the rear of one of the passing cars with a man on either side of him. "Did you recognize any of the other parties in the cars?" "No, sir." "Do you know now who they were?" "No, sir." "Were they masked?" "No, sir, but they all wore goggles."

"I turned to Walter Gann and said, 'Let's go to the house; there's something doing.' We went to the house and Mrs. Frey had breakfast ready for us in about five minutes. We ate and I got my car started and we put out for Marietta."

Frey said he passed the actual scene of the hanging without noticing anything out of the way. He continued: "I came to town, but did not see anything. I went to the cemetery where Mary Phagan is buried, but there was nothing there. I came back into Marietta and met Gus Benson, who said: 'Bill, those automobiles turned into the road by your gin.' I drove right back to the gin and when we reached the oak grove there was the body of Frank hanging."

"Is there any further light you can throw on this transaction?" "No, sir." "Frey was excused."

SABER BESTOWED ON GEN. HARRIES

Omahian, Now Retired From District of Columbia Guard, Signally Honored.

DELIVERS FEELING ADDRESS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Major General George H. Harries, retired, now a resident of Omaha, was most signally honored yesterday at Colonial Beach, Va., by the National Guard of the District of Columbia in annual encampment on the historic banks of the Potomac, seventy miles south of Washington.

General Harries was for twenty-seven years a member of the national guard of the District of Columbia and for seventeen years, in command of the brigade. Having retired but a few months ago as major general, the district militia took the first opportunity to give their only major general a welcome such as has been seldom witnessed and in addition before the whole brigade and thousands of visitors.

General Harries was presented with a saber, symbolizing his rank with a scabbard of silver and bearing a large spread eagle in relief, a full dress belt, full dress tunic, a gold sword knot, and silver spurs together with the cases for property keeping these insignia of high rank. The sword bore on its blade the following inscription etched into the steel: "Major General George H. Harries, an evidence of esteem and affection from the national guard of the District of the Columbia.—1915."

Among other things which touched the hearts of those who had served under General Harries, particularly through the Spanish-American war, was this sentiment: "There were a great many of us here today, with whom I served in war and our hearts beat in unison. If the time should come, fortunately, or unfortunately, that our country is at strife, some of us may meet again and move together and do our part as we do in civil life to uphold the dignity and honor of the United States."

"I sincerely hope that nothing will come to interrupt the training which you are enjoying. It is never going to be less, but more than before. "You've stood by me, and no one in the brigade is going to get more than his just share of the credit for the success of this command. You have emphasized the fact that I am not now on the active list. I cannot forget you. Your feeling for me will not be forgotten. I am going to do for you everything which I can which will work for the success of the organization. You can command me until the last minutes of possibility. I will always be glad to see you and glad to remember you, as I have during my past associations."

Novogeorgievsk Is Battered to Ruins by German Cannon

WARSAW (Via London), Aug. 24.—The fortress of Novogeorgievsk lies in ruins. The Germans entered the heart of the great Russian stronghold from the right. It is the belief of the Associated Press correspondent who had witnessed the impressive spectacle of the terrific assault which led to the fall of the fortress.

From a point to the southwest of the fortress it seemed as if brilliant flashes of lightning were constantly hanging over the great ring of forts. There was a constant rain of exploding shells, searchlights moved from point to point and magazines exploded at brief intervals, rockets whizzed into the air and the thunder of cannon was continuous.

Shortly before 11 o'clock sheets of flame sprang into the air from the northern front, indicating that one of the forts had been blown up. Soon afterward a second fort exploded. The bombardment continued, however, with undiminished violence as the Russians expended their last efforts to save the citadel, upon the strength of which they had pinned their hopes. The final opposition was from the southerly forts.

Four Courses Served Captives of France PARIS, Aug. 24.—Baron d'Estournelles de Constant, who has been visiting the camps of German prisoners at Belle Isle, in writing for the Temps a description of what he saw, declares that every officer has an orderly who blacks his boots, brushes his clothing and does his washing or has it done. All the officers wear spotless linen and are freshly shaven.

Some soldiers complained of their treatment. Asked what they wanted, all the men in the group explained: Baths, gardens, liberty. They were reminded that they had two sea baths a week, and on many occasions were permitted to wander about quite freely, but that guards were necessary. The food provided is of good quality, and there is considerable variety. Dinner consists usually of four courses.

The prisoners have magazines and wicker chairs are provided for their use when they sit on the beach. There also is an improvised gymnasium and musical instruments. The prisoners complain, however, that they are compelled to sleep twelve in a dormitory.

Oldest Convicts of Iowa Are Pardoned By Governor Clarke

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 24.—Nathan and Frank Rainsberger, sentenced to life imprisonment from Hardin county in 1887 for the murder of Enoch Johnson, were pardoned today by Governor Clarke. The pardon is conditional, providing that the Rainsbergers shall remain peaceful and law abiding citizens for a period of three years, after which the pardon is to become absolute.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Aug. 24.—Nathan and Frank Rainsberger, Iowa's oldest convicts, who were today pardoned conditionally by Governor Clarke, were confined in this county, although they were Hardin county prisoners. Nathan Rainsberger, who is now 62 years old, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the November term of the district court in 1885, and Frank, who is now 59 years of age, was sentenced at the March term in 1886.

Both men were convicted of the murder of Frank Rainsberger's father-in-law, Enoch Johnson of Grant township, Hardin county. Johnson was found dead November 15, 1884, alongside of a public highway, apparently the victim of a runaway accident. His skull was fractured and his body mutilated. These circumstances, which were led to the belief that her husband and her brother had committed murder, and she was chief witness for the state at their trials. The Rainsbergers were convicted largely on circumstantial evidence.

MESSAGE FROM KAISER RELIEVES CAPITAL TENSION

Count von Bernstorff, in his telegram, said that if an American were killed "it was contrary to the intention of the German government" and that it was not the intention of the German government to sink any peaceful merchant ships in a flagrant manner.

The telegram was not made public and officials declined to discuss it. The ambassador's request comes as the first ray of promise on a situation which admittedly was growing darker with each hour of silence on the part of Germany.

Now, in view of the ambassador's request, the State department can do nothing but wait a reasonable time for word from Berlin. Ambassador Gerard has been instructed to watch for a report, but has not been told to ask for one.

Meanwhile the State department is gathering evidence from all other sources to supplement what it already has, but considers too fragmentary to be of full value. When some word is received from Germany this government's action will be decided. The effect of the latest development in the situation is to delay any forward move a few days longer.

Zapata Chief Gets Vault Combination and a Half Million

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 24.—Details of events at Mexico City, between the first and second occupation by Carranza forces under General Gonzales, are related in courier dispatches received today from the capital.

The entire city council was arrested by Zapata men last night. It was stated under Carranza command general secured the combination of the treasury vaults and extracted $480,000. The road situation here is desperate this morning, and the police records showed a number of bodies found in vacant lots resulting from death by starvation. Among these were five children.

A group of twenty people were seen carrying carcasses of dead horses found in fields.

Concluding, the dispatch says: "The relations between Villa and Zapata men are very strained and trouble between these factions is looked for."

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 23.—Wireless communication between Mexico City and the outside world is expected to be established soon, according to a cablegram received from Vera Cruz today at the Carranza consulate here. The message reported the erection in Mexico City of a wireless station and said that preliminary trials between the capital and Vera Cruz had been satisfactory.
