Judgments

MUGOSY MORAW has sent forth the edict that the Giants are to be entirely rebuilt. The latest member of the old machine to be sent to the discard is Marquard, sold to Toronto and refusing to go, is now likely to be found pitching for one of the Federal league teams soon.

SEASON NEARS THE CLOSE

Bad Weather Cuts Down the Receipts of the Amateur Base Ball Association.

NO BIG GAMES ON FOR TODAY

By FRANK QUIGLEY. Although climatic conditions have proved rather disastrous to the treasury of the Omaha Amateur Base Ball Association, nevertheless the proceeds of the games already played are above the mark predicted by the directors.

Armours in the Lead.

The Saturday Class A league closed the gates with the Armours perched in the lead and the Midland Glass and Paint company and Woodmen of the World teams tied for second place.

Gossip of the Diamond.

Today Pete McGuire will pitch for Atlantic, Ia. Hereafter Langford will hold down the first base for the Humbugs.

Getting away from the old pitchers

While we are on the topic of old-time pitchers, do you recall what a hobbyist was nicknamed up three years ago, when Charlie Murphy undertook to send Mordred Brown to the minors?

Did you note the way those romping

Monday week will be the last of the season at Omaha for the Western league, and the Rourkes ought to be encouraged by the presence of a record crowd at the park that afternoon when they take part in a double-header.

The Tigers got up to where they had

A lot of quiet still nestles lovingly over the foot ball field, and college days are only a step ahead. But wait till the coaches set the squads out for active work and we'll hear enough of them.

Joe Stecher is a pretty crafty guy at

GOLF HONORS ARE AT STAKE

Much Speculation as to Who Will Be Winner of National Amateur Tournament at Detroit.

ALL FAVORITES ARE ENTERED

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 28.—"Will the new golf champion be Evans, Outmet or Travers—or will he be some one else?" These three stars, each of whom is a champion, have been picked from a brilliant field by a majority of American golfers.

THE COURSE IS WELL GUARDED BY TRAPS

Tea is Elevated.

TEA IS ELEVATED

No. 4, 54 Yards—A sliced drive again discovers a ditch. The ditch is directly in front of the tee. It catches a badly topped shot. A long carry is required for a straight shot toward the hole; otherwise traps complicate play.

No. 5, 55 Yards—It will take three shots to reach the green. Traps and mounds catch inaccurate drives. A ledge which raises the green about three feet must be cleared. Banks at the rear and traps, right and left, add to the difficulties.

No. 6, 56 Yards—Believed by experience to be the best two-shot hole on the course. Heavy rough grass stops a pulled shot; a drive to the left offers opportunity for a good midiron second. Topped second, or slices or pulls to the green, will find traps. Par 4.

No. 7, 57 Yards—Woods to the right and a ditch to the left complicate this hole, but a good drive accurately placed will avoid these difficulties. The green is guarded right and left by traps and in front by a cross bunker. A picturesque and beautiful hole. Par 4.

No. 8, 58 Yards—About 400 yards from the tee is a creek and the fairway up to that point is well guarded by traps. A topped second shot will discover a cross-bunker, 300 yards from the tee. The green is also well protected. Par 5.

No. 9, 59 Yards—A troublesome hole requiring great skill and careful play.

MINNESOTA AND SOUTH DAKOTA, ALABAMA and Mississippi and Wisconsin and Purdue. The leading games of October 23 include: Harvard against Cornell, Princeton against Dartmouth, Army against Georgetown, Navy against Virginia Poly, Chicago against Purdue, Michigan against Michigan Aggies, Pennsylvania against Pittsburgh, Texas against Oklahoma, Yale against Washington and Jefferson, Wisconsin against Ohio State, Georgia against Virginia and Minnesota against Iowa.

INTERSECTIONAL CONTESTS. The final Saturday of October is marked by several inter-sectional games, Michigan meets Syracuse, Cornell faces Virginia Poly, and the Michigan Aggies play the eleven of the Oregon Agriculture college. Other contests in the various sections of the country bring together Harvard and Pennsylvania State, Chicago and Wisconsin, Vanderbilt and Tennessee, Yale and Colgate, Illinois and Minnesota, Princeton and Williams and Dartmouth against Amherst.

THE OPENING OF NOVEMBER finds the lead eleven gyrating together with the contest that on Saturday, November 6, Princeton and Dartmouth play at Boston, Princeton and Harvard clash at Princeton, Notre Dame travels to West Point to meet the Army, Cornell goes west to play Michigan, Chicago meets the Haskell Indians, Virginia and Vanderbilt line up. Yale has Brown as an opponent, Oregon will face Washington and Tennessee will play South Carolina.

Yale and Princeton will be the headliners in the east on November 13, while Minnesota and Chicago will play the leading roles in the middle west. Other important contests on the same day include: Washington and Lee and Cornell, Brown at Harvard; Michigan at Pennsylvania; Colgate at Syracuse; Penn. State at Lafayette; South Dakota at North Dakota; Amherst at Williams, and Illinois at Wisconsin.

THE INITIAL GAMES of many college elevens will be played on Saturday, November 20. The annual contest between Harvard and Yale at Cambridge stands pre-eminent on the day's card, but there are other games of importance scheduled, including Colgate at Georgetown, Dartmouth at Syracuse, Illinois at Chicago, Minnesota at Wisconsin, Denver at Colorado, Mississippi at Arkansas, and Missouri at Kansas.

Start in October. Cornell will not begin play until the final days of the month, but Saturday, October 2, will see the leading university and college teams of all sections lining up for contests, some of which can hardly be classed as preliminary games. Princeton will meet Rutgers, whose team has been looking forward to this match for almost a year. The day will also mark the debut of the United States Military and Naval Academy teams against Holy Cross and Georgetown, respectively. Still other teams to take the field for the initial games include Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Texas, Nebraska, Mississippi and Missouri.

Michigan, like Cornell, has selected a midweek date for its opening game, but will join the Saturday brigade on October 9 when a number of promising contests are scheduled. While the base ball fans are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the world's series, foot ball followers will watch with interest the result of such games as Cornell against Williams, Harvard against Carleton, Princeton against Syracuse, Navy against Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania State against Pennsylvania, Minnesota against Iowa, Notre Dame against Haskell and Yale against Lehigh.

A week later the leading games of Saturday will bring together Colgate and West Point, Pennsylvania and Navy, Chicago and Indiana, Pittsburgh and Carleton, Georgetown and North Carolina, Howard and Virginia, Princeton and Lafayette, and

TWO BROTHERS SELDOM STAR

Killifer and Schang Boys the Only Brothers in Big League and Both Making Good.

MANY COMPLETE FAILURES

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—An interesting question for base ball fans to discuss during their leisure moments away from the ball grounds, is the reason for the failure—almost absolute—of two brothers playing success on the diamond at the same time. This condition is true of the majority of sports competitions, and only a few cases can be cited where brothers attained success together.

In base ball this season there are two sets of brothers who are possessed of considerable ability, for they are holding down their berths in the major leagues. Bill Killifer of the Philadelphia Nationals and Wade Killifer of the Cincinnati Reds are brothers, and so are Wally Schang of the Athletics and Bobbie Schang of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Fritz Maisel has a brother, George, who is a sensation in the New York league, and who will get a trial with Detroit this fall.

In the old days there were the Tebbens and the Gleasons, then came the Delehantys, Ed and Jim and Frank, Fred Clarke, Pittsburgh manager, and his brother, Josh, were in the majors at the same time for a short period, when Josh was with Cleveland. Josh Bivall was just going back when his brother, George, came up.

Bobby Roth of the Chicago White Sox has kept the family in the game since his brother Frank dropped out. The Hinchman boys, Bill and Harry, were on the Cleveland club together for a short time.

Paul Cobb Only Fair. Family failures have been more numerous. Ty Cobb's brother, Paul, is only a fair minor leaguer. Christy Mathewson's brother, Hank, couldn't make a go of it, and neither could Roger Bresnahan's brother, Joe; Johnny Evers's brother, Joe, is a minor leaguer, and so is Ed Grob, a brother of Heinie, of the Cincinnati Reds.

Harry Coveleskie has a brother, who he says, is a better natural pitcher than he, but this boy has yet to get above the Pacific Coast league, and another outfielding brother of Covey's never got above a state league in Pennsylvania.

Veon Gregg's younger brother was tried by Cleveland and sent back. Ed Walsh's brother looked good for a time, then went to the bushes. The same thing happened to Harry Camnitz, a brother of Howard, who starred with Pittsburgh.

Tyler's Brother Goes Back. George Tyler, the Boston Brave left-hander, had a brother who was tried by Boston as a catcher and sent back. Fred Smith, brother of Charlie, who was with Washington, Boston and the Cubs, did fairly well.

There are a number of fighting families, but it seems only one of each set can get to the top. Tom Gibbons can't hold a candle to his brother Mike, and Charley White is a lot better than his brothers Jack and Charley, the latter fighting under the name of Charley Wagner.

Frankie Conley won the bantamweight title, but his two younger brothers never got beyond the preliminaries. Leach Cross is away above his two brothers and Monte Attell was never as good as Abe.

In many other cases athletes who got to the top had brothers who tried to follow them, but couldn't even break into the newspapers.
