Showwater Will Not Return to Creighton... Coach Tommy Mills of Creighton led his men through the first practice of the season Thursday afternoon. Earl Wise, "Dutch" Platz and "Butterfly" Earhart, regulars on last year's team, were out in uniform. Coach Mills stated that training rules must be strictly observed, giving the players the choice of cutting out smoking and late hours or of staying off the team.

Word was received that Captain-elect Showwater would not return to school this year on account of the illness of his father. A new captain will be elected in a few days. His loss will be deeply felt, as he was a tower of strength on his side of the line. He played tackle opposite Shannon. Mills is in communication with Shannon, who is at his home in New Jersey, in an effort to have him return to school this year. Shannon was a star in his position at tackle. "Bill" Brennan, captain of last year's varsity team, has returned to school, but dislocated an arm in practice last night and will not be out for practice for some time.

With both Brennan and Earhart back, Mills is not worrying much about the end position. Hale of David City, a recruit, and Negro, substitute quarterback on last year's team, are prospects for quarterback. Green, a big 200-pound guard who starred on the Campus college team last year, is out for a guard position.

INDIAN AND WHITE MAN ARE BOTH IN SAME BOAT... "I guess we're two of a kind, all right," said N. A. Barrington of Phelps, Wis., as he was introduced to Frank Polze, Winnebago, Neb., Indian, at police headquarters.

Barrington is the man who "bought" a third interest in the Union Pacific railroad for $40, and the Indian lost $200 to pickpockets. Both are penniless. They were staying at the police station, sleeping on cots in the cells while the police are trying to recover their money.

Barrington is married and has eleven children. He had just given his wife $10 to take care of the children for a few days and was going to buy a home with the rest. The Indian was on his way to Minneapolis to take care of a sick sister. The Omaha police have two men in jail, one of them identified, in connection with the Barrington case. Detective Frank Williams and Officer Peterson made the arrests.

The police are confident that the others will be landed also and the money returned. No arrests have been made in the case of the Indian, however.

MAIL CARRIERS ENJOY THEIR ANNUAL BALL... "We're carrying the males now," surged a young miss as she crowded into the Auditorium last night upon the arm of a stalwart mail carrier.

"I see you are," "I see you are," answered Charley Franko, manager of the big building. "Something like a thousand other young women are, too."

Nearly 2,000 persons crowded the dance floor of the Auditorium at the annual ball of the National Letter Carriers' association.

Just before the ball started the Women's auxiliary of the local letter carriers' association gave an exhibition of their skill at fancy drilling. They spelled out words, letters and made designs by standing in various formations.

HOME, SWEET HOME, SUNDAY'S THEME

Largest Congregation of the Revival Hears Noted Evangelist Roast Poorly Managed Homes.

Members of "Billy" Sunday's entourage Thursday declared the crowd was the largest of the Omaha campaign. Before 7 o'clock George Sunday ordered the ushers to stop further admittance except as seating space could be found here and there.

"Ma" Sunday busted herself arranging folding seats in places between the choir and platform, and some sat on the edge of the platform. Many stood up and many could not get within hearing distance of the militant evangelist.

Mr. Sunday found much in his subject of "Home, Sweet Home," to evoke laughter and to command serious attention. He did not find it necessary to doff his coat, but he managed to put over some hot ones, which had enough heat units almost to incinerate the saddest of the trail.

Sections Reserved. A large section of the front seats was reserved for delegates who have been attending the national convention of letter carriers. Postmaster Wharton filed in with the carriers. Another section was reserved for the "key women," those who have the care of office buildings.

Home, Sweet Home. Homer Roddeheaver took cognizance of the presence of the mail carriers by asking them to stand up, so everybody might see them. He said Carrier No. 15, at Springfield, O., hit the trail and passed the word along to other places where other carriers of the same number did likewise, the inference being that Carrier No. 15 of this city would be expected to take the lead here when the trail is opened.

During the song service Mr. Roddeheaver addressed frequent remarks to the choir. He told them their seats would not be reserved for them after 7:30, but up to that time they would have other carriers of the same number did likewise, the inference being that Carrier No. 15 of this city would be expected to take the lead here when the trail is opened.

The choir leader found the approval of the women present by saying that the women of this city were better than other cities in the matter of removing their hats before they were told. He spotted a man wearing his hat and pointed out the offender. He also invited all high school boys and college students to bring their yells and songs this evening, when Mr. Sunday will have a special sermon for young people.

For All Sabbath Afternoons. Mr. Sunday announced that next Sunday afternoon the service will be for everybody, but subsequent Sunday afternoon services will be for men only. In his reference to the collection Mr. Sunday said, it should not be necessary for him to "nag and pull" to get the money. He declared 10,000 present should give $1 each, but the collection was $26, an average of less than 2 cents each.

Seated close to the evangelist was Major Charles Gants of Fairfield, Ia., said to be the smallest man in the world. The major is eighteen inches in height and weighs thirty pounds. He is 50 years of age and heard Mr. Sunday nine years ago in his home town. The dwarf is visiting his uncle, John T. Gants, 499 Hickory street.

The peroration of Mr. Sunday's discourse was a tribute to the writer of "Check Your Fall Cough."

HOME, SWEET HOME, SUNDAY'S THEME

"Home Sweet Home," at the conclusion of which the pianists struck up the famous tune and the choir sang the words. Mr. Roddeheaver won a share of the applause when he played "There is Sunshine in My Soul," and Mr. Brewster and Mrs. Asher were well received when they sang "He Knows the Way."

During his remarks the choir leader hinted that it might be necessary to build another tabernacle here to care for the overflow.

Blood Will Tell. "Billy" Sunday placed stress upon the thought that "blood will tell," that, for instance, Scotch blood stands for persistency. He said Jewish blood begets a tendency to acquire money. In that connection he said Solomon could have hired Carnegie for a chauffeur, Rockefeller to do his lawn and Morgan as butler.

He gave another demonstration of his histrionic ability by simulating the actions of a woman receiving at her home another woman with a lot of children. He showed how this host kissed the children of her guest.

"I must go," says the guest. "Don't be in a hurry and don't be so long before you come again," replies the host.

After the departure of the guest the woman discovers that her bric-a-brac dog was broken and she asks her children which one did the deed. No response. Then one of the children "turns state's evidence and takes an immunity bath," said Mr. Sunday.

"That mother taught her child to lie and then whipped it for lying," thundered the speaker, rising to his full height as if to pick a batted ball out of the air. He struck a note of sympathy when he declared that teachers and preachers are the poorest paid of the professions. He said he applied to only one public office and that was to be a member of a Board of Education. If elected he would pay every teacher for twelve months each year and would increase their pay.

He showed rare recitative ability when he read "Home, Sweet Home." He also was entertaining when he showed how he doffed his hat to a cow at Sharon, Pa., in preference to a quartet of "young bloods in front of a booze joint."

Lutheran Church Aids German Missions

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 10.—The Board of Foreign Missions of the General Council of the Lutheran Church in America reported at the biennial convention of the General Council here today that, owing to the world war, the Lutheran Church in America has been called upon to render aid to a number of German missions. The General Council's Foreign Board has added to its care missionary societies of the Gossner, Leipzig, Schleswig-Holstein and Hermannsburg missions in India. Another effect of the war is that a number of Lutheran missionaries who had planned to go out from America a year ago have been kept back, there being a force of fourteen missionaries who are waiting to be commissioned in some special service.

The proposal to establish a joint seminary at Madras, India, in which Lutherans of Europe and America are to cooperate has been delayed, also on account of the war.

The year 1917, in addition to being the 60th anniversary of the beginning of the Reformation, will mark the 75th anniversary of the departure of Father Heyer from Philadelphia to found the first Lutheran mission in India. It is proposed to make the anniversary an occasion of a general missionary celebration in the Lutheran church.

The receipts for foreign mission work during the year were $215,526.

Zoo Keeper Is Torn By Big Alaska Bear

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 10.—Charles Herrman, keeper at the Washington Park zoo, was seriously injured today in an encounter in a pit with an Alaska black bear. Hardly an inch of his body escaped the teeth and claws of the infuriated animal. The bear was stripped from his left leg, his left arm and scalp. He was rescued by J. L. Frohaska, the assistant keeper, who stunned the bear with an iron bar and dragged Herrmann outside.
