CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Fear that wet weather in the northwest might prevent timely deliveries on contracts made the wheat market today average higher. The close was unsettled at a net advance of %46%c to %c, with September at 19%c and December 18%c. Corn finished %c to%@ie down, oats off a shade to %c and provisions varying from 1%c decline to a rise of 12%c.

slons varying from 2½c decline to a rise of 12½c.

Wheat prices showed a decided bulge soon after the opening, but not until a burst of selling at the start had carried values values sharply lower. The temporary sag was chiefly due to big teceipts at the leading spring crop terminals. Reports quickly became current, however, that such large amounts of spring wheat had been contracted for that a few days delay from wet weather otherwise might make it physically impossible to fulfill bargains. Assertions though that the ensuing advance had given a serious check to export business led afterward to reactions, in which most of the gains disappeared.

Stocks of wheat failed to enlarge as rapidly as many traders seemed to have looked for. In this connection a good deal of notice was taken of the fact that supplies afloat for Great Britain and in store at Liverpool showed a decrease very unusual at this season. In the domestic vis ble supply the increase was considerably less than half the gain at the corresponding time a year ago.

Corn displayed weakness throughout the day. Many reports were received that the growing crop was making wonderful progress owing to the ideal weather. Oats sympathized with the bearish action of corn. The government ruling against sulphured shipments apparently tended somewhat for the time being to restrict demand.

Trading in provisions futures was at a restrict demand.

Trading in provisions futures was at a standstill the greatter part of the seasion. Cash demand nevertheless remained fairly active and exports showed a heavy increase as compared with the previous sreat plenty not only here, but at all other selling points. As a result the trade everywhere was inclined towards duliness, with prices showing more or less weakness. Cows and heifers, owing largely to the fact that there was no greater surplus of that stock, did not show much change, but sold at steady or pretty close to steady prices. Cattle of that description were among the first to sell in the yards. Stockers and feeders of good quality were also far from plentiful, and for that reason they sold in about last week's notches. The medium kinds, however, were very slow and anywhere from weak to as much as 10gHs lower. Beef steers were in large supply and buyers started out at the very beginning buyers shared lower started out at the very beginning buyers started out at the very beginning bidding sharply lower prices.

Beef steers were slow and weak all the morning at prices that were in many cases lights lower than last week. The demand was good at the decline and as the cattle kept selling the most of them changed hands in fair season.

Good lights were in fair demand this morning, and sold readily at just about steady figures, although prices might have been a little easier in spots. Sorted bunches sold better than $7.50 in several instances, and one full load as well as two or three pieces reached $7.70, the day's top. Shipper buyers had orders for a number of mixed and butcherweight hogs, butchers weighing from 20 to 230 being among the top sales.

Packers started out in a very leisurely rashion making their early offers at somewhat lower figures. They might have forced a slight decline had not the shippers started buying good mixed and heavy hogs at fully steady prices, but as it was killers were forced to come across, and in the end the bulk of the packing hogs went across the scales at generally steady figures. Movement was very slow all through.

With better runs at other markets than have been coming and the year's largest receipts here all buyers were determined to pound values this morning. Early packer bids on good lambs were fully a quarter below last Friday's prices, and feeder huyers asked price reductions that amounted to anyway logists.

The market turned out to be another all forenced session, but sellers could not offset the erfeit of the heavy run and when the offerings finally started scaleward, buyers had protty much their own way, the bulk of the good is lambs selling at $8.60, which was 20c under Friday at 100 miles of the diplomatic situation and the outcome of the impending selling at $8.60, which was 20c under Friday at 100 miles of the diplomatic situation and the outcome of the impending hostile air crafts last night to day's market, or about steady with the flected in the diplomatic situation and the outcome of the impending consultives.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE WILL MEET ARCHIBALD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.-Acting under nstructions from the White House, agenta of the Department of Justice will meet James F. J. Archibald, the Amercan correspondent involved in the case of Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador, when he lands at New York on the steamer Rotterdam from Holland. Archihald carried Dr. Dumba's letter to the Vienna foreign office disclosing plans to cause strikes in American munitions plants. It became known today that United States Attorney Marshall at New York has been instructed by the Department of Justice, which takes the view that there is ground for considering whether Archibald violated a federal law. The juestion of whether he actually knew the contents of the papers he carried probably will be the deciding factor in what action the government takes.

"Mayor Personally Ordered Votes Be Added to Tally"

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 13. - Mayor Joseph E. Bell, who is on trial in criminal court charged with election conspiracy, personally ordered votes added to a so-called machine candidate's tally in the primary of May 5, 1914, according to Prosecutor E. J. Rucker, who continued his opening statement today. The prosecutor at some length told how Mayor Bell, assisted by Thomas Taggart, succeeded in having the county commissioners appoint the registration inspectors named by Fred Barrett, democratic county chairman, after the commissioners had once refused to ratify the list. Barrett is also under indictment on the conspiracy charge. Prosecutor Rucker then told how legal voters were intimidated by policemen and sluggers and prevented from registering in a number of precinets.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Sept. 13.—Al new turn was given the election frauda cases on trial in the United States district court here when Matt L. Dunn was recalled today by the government to continue his testimony of Saturday in which he attempted to repeat an alleged conversation with Tom Dunn, one of the fortyone defendants. He related his story and then finally said the conversation concerning the supposed purchase of votes had reference to the primary election of July 25, and not the general election in November, which is specified in the indictments on which the men are being tried.

The witness declared that he sought information as to votes-buying from his cousin, Tom Dunn, that he might enlist the aid of federal authorities in purging elections of "crooked politicians" Nucces county.

Dunn added his life was not safe. was interrupted by Judge Waller T. Burns, who asked him if there were no hardware stores in Corpus Christi. Dunn replied affirmatively.
