

Nebraska CARRIERS GET AXE TO SAVE EXPENSE

Four Lincoln Men Relieved of Work and Thrown Out of Jobs They Expected to Keep.

ARE TOLD THEY MUST RESIGN

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Efforts of the democratic administration at Washington to stave off the inevitable deficiency are again being shown in the postoffice department here in Lincoln, and efficiency is said to be suffering because of cutting off carriers in order to save the money.

During the present month four carriers have been dismissed from the postoffice force who were under civil service rules. All were substitute carriers and two of them have been in the service four years.

L. F. Grandy, whose story is similar to the rest, but more noticeable because he quit a good job at school teaching nine months in the year to take on the carrier job, where he could work the year around, was dismissed without a hearing as the civil service rules require. When called on the carrier job Grandy and the rest were given the choice of having their heads lopped off by a request to resign or signing a prepared resignation which would allow them to work a month longer. The took the latter way because each of them needed the work.

Grandy, who has a wife and two children, is now at work on a farm outside of town. All of them worked long enough so that they were in line of promotion to a regular carrier job.

The only reason given for the action of the department was that they were too old. The rules of the department are that a man must be under 45 when he enters the service. Grandy was 40 when he went to work four years ago. It is charged that if the department had no idea of allowing these men to come in because of the age limit, it had no right to take them on as subcontractors knowing that they expected promotion.

PROHIBITION WORKERS ARE HAVING MERRY WAR

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—What the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina, according to rumor, several years ago when the two met on a warm day in the gentle summer time, may have been interesting to them from a prohibition standpoint, but A. G. Wolfenbarger, chief attorney for the prohibition forces in Nebraska, is saying about Frank Harrison, also a prominent worker along making Nebraska dry lines, is important at this time in that it shows that the dry forces are not going to be found working in harmony in the coming campaign.

Mr. Harrison is not backward in accusing the forces under General Wolfenbarger, who have for many years fought for prohibition as a party issue, of collecting funds under a false representation. Wolfenbarger comes back at Harrison and knocks the chip off of the vaillant leader of the dry forces outside of the prohibition party and the two are having a busy time accusing each other of wanting to make Nebraska dry in his own particular way.

OCONTO MAN HELD ON CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Sheriff Wilson has returned from Kearney with John A. Schelling of Oconto, this county, who is charged with embezzling from the Stickel Lumber company of that place the sum of $1,300.77. The complaint was filed by County Attorney Kelly at the instance of W. L. Stickel, a member of the Oconto branch of the Stickel Lumber company from 1911 to sometime in 1915, but was working at the Stickel yard at Kearney when the warrant was served upon him. He has always been popular as a business man and has many friends in the neighborhood of Oconto. The shortage is alleged to have been discovered when Schelling's accounts were audited. Schelling is now in the custody of the sheriff pending the return of County Judge Ford from Omaha, when preliminary hearing will be had.

Nebraska FINE CROP IN LINCOLN COUNTY

Senator W. V. Hoagland Will Not
Run for Lieutenant Governor
This Year, He Says.

TOO MUCH DOING IN THE LAW

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—According to Senator Walter V. Hoagland of North Platte the corn in Lincoln county and the country around that section will turn out a wonderful yield, the largest in the history of the state.

Senator Hoagland will not be a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor next year. He says he has all the business he can attend to and does not care to pass it up to play second fiddle in the Nebraska state political orchestra.

However, he believes chances for republican success in this state will be exceedingly good. According to his way of looking at it the democrats are so split up that they will not be able to get together on anything except Wilson, and the republicans, presenting a united force will be able to clean the political platter and put the state once more in the hands of an administration which will mean much to the state in a business way.

The senator was here attending a session of the supreme court and while awaiting his term, called at the office of Governor Morhead and paid his respects to Private Secretary Mumford, in the absence of the governor.

Protests to the decision of the County Board of Equalization were filed in the district court Wednesday by six banks of this county. The banks are attempting to set aside a decision of the county board relative to the taxation of certain mortgages in their possession.

The management of the Gage county fair, which is to be held in this city next week, is endeavoring to arrange with Adjutant General Hall for aeroplanes from the army service to give flights for three days. The management has also arranged for a match race between Hal McKinney and Columbia Fire, a Lincoln horse.

At a meeting of the city commissioners Wednesday the protest of property owners on South Sixth street against repaving that street was taken up and discussed. The commissioners decided to drop the matter and will do no more paving this winter.
