

ROYAL WELCOME IS GIVEN TO KING AK-SAR-BEN XXI

Greatest of Long Line of Monarchs Comes to Chief City to Receive the Crown from His Subjects.

CITY TURNED OVER TO HIM Kingdom of Plenty Receives Ruler, Who Enters in Magnificent State.

"TALES OF CHILDHOOD" SHOWN

Hundreds of thousands clung to the steel cables that held them to the curbstone line last night and fed their eyes on the jeweled and be-spangled spectacle of the electrical parade that heralded the coming of King Ak-sar-ben XXI to the chief city of his realm.

For hours, thousands had clung stubbornly to their favored positions, and when the vast array of prismatic colors suddenly stabbed the October heavens with a million lances of light rays, strong hearts grew faint at the costly sight.

Well it is that science teaches there are but seven primary colors, for vast armies of people that witnessed the electrical display would take oath today that colors are myriad, so variegated was the light effect as worked out by the artisan of King Ak-Sar-Ben, who prepared the twenty flaming floats glided through the principal streets during the evening.

Thousands to See King. Every year for twenty years past have the thousands of subjects from the farthest reaches of the prosperous realm flocked to the chief city for this night, to look upon the face of their new king as he rides into their midst on his throne of gold.

Every year has a long caravan of jewel-encrusted floats preceded the regal float, and every year has this long caravan of floats, including that of his majesty, grown more beautiful and more striking in its allegorical representations.

Tales of Childhood.

"Tales of Childhood" was the theme of the parade last night. Every one of the nineteen floats that preceded that of his majesty portrayed some favorite and well-known fairy tale of childhood. No theme perhaps would lend itself better to the working out of a line of beauty that would be at once spectacular, sensational and costly in appearance. For the action that is contained in all childhood tales furnished the spectacular feature. The wicked deeds performed by witches, giants, bluebeards and wolves furnished the sensational feature. And the many jewels, gems, castles of marble and gold that abound in fairy tales furnished the brilliant and costly feature of parade.

Police Lead the Way.

By way of clearing the streets for the occasion, and by way of guarding against all possible accidents, a platoon of mounted police led the advance guard. Came then the members of the Board of Governors of Ak-Sar-Ben mounted on splendid chargers and clad in white. Throughout the entire length of the caravan of wonders hand after hand was interspersed and the night air rang with music for two hours, until his majesty's regal float had passed the city's castle where the king received the keys of the City of Cibola and the line was finally disbanded for the night.

Tales of Childhood.

Following the cavalcade of police and board of governors and the many jewels, came the wonderful procession of twenty floats. A stork hovering over the float carried the title ribbon in his beak, bearing the words, "Tales of Childhood." A big playground was represented, with many children, sons and daughters of the members of the board of governors, who were frolicking in the playground. The stork hovered over them.

"Old King Cole"

"Old King Cole" was the title of the second float, and this worthy old soul that lives in the hearts of all children, was seen sitting on the float reaching for his pipe, his bow and his fiddle, as his respective servants were handing them to him.

Don Quixote.

Don Quixote was the title of the next float, and this famous knight of fantasy was seen galloping toward the big Duron windmill with his lance fixed, ready to charge the wings of the mill which he takes to be a living and evil dragon. The dragons of his morbid imagination are seen twining about the mill, shooting fire from their wrathful jaws.

"Mother Goose's Nursery Rhymes"

"Mother Goose's Nursery Rhymes" was the title of the next float, flashing with jewels, clustered with castles, alive with fairies, and other representations depicting such familiar rhymes as "Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater," and many others.

"The Hare and the Tortoise" was next

SUNDAY TALKS ABOUT JOB

Out-of-town folks, composing about three-fourths of the big audience at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon, laughed and gasped at "Billy" Sunday's gymnastics and verbal pyrotechnics, his slang and "cuss" words and other idiosyncrasies.

The entire main part of the Tabernacle was filled and about 500 people sat on the platform, making an audience of 6,500, the largest it has been on a weekday afternoon during the campaign.

Shenandoah, Ia., had a special delegation of 15 and about 100 were in a reserved section from Burt county, Nebraska.

"Hello, here comes a band! It is the State Industrial school band from Kearney, the boys all in gray uniforms. 'Rody' invites them right up on the rostrum and then they played, and played so well that the big audience insisted on their playing again.

Hurray for You, Too.

"Thank you," he drawled with a grin, and hurray for you, too." Billy preached about Job, showing how the devil failed to budge him from his place as a perfect man in God's sight. Billy pictured the devil as "lying awake nights worrying because he couldn't get Job." And he dramatized God's question, "Hast thou noticed my servant Job?" as an ironical question. "That gets his goat," laughed Billy. "Poor old devil hadn't been doing anything else but noticing Job; he'd been walking up and down the earth and looking at him from every side."

"You say the world's growing better," he shouted. "No, it isn't. You show me a man today as good as Job and I'll talk to you. If you can't, nothing doing on that subject."

In the course of a bit at the saloons, "Billy" remarked, "I want to come back here next fall and tour the state for prohibition. The hour of the saloons has come—yes, and they know it, too."

Amateur Wireless Stations Will Be Organized by the Navy Department

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—All commercial and amateur wireless stations in the United States will soon be organized by the Navy department for immediate use in case of emergency by the intelligence bureau of the navy.

In the event of war, hundreds and perhaps thousands of operators along the coast lines would be instructed to "listen-in" on any radio conversation that might be in progress within range of their instruments.

To facilitate co-ordination of the communication methods of the navy, five wireless antennae are now being erected on the roof of the State, War and Naval buildings here, and in a sound proof room close to Admiral Benson's office will be established what might be called an exchange station, with five operators and five sets of instruments.

CABINET OF GREECE BREAKS WITH KING

Constantine Disagrees with Foreign Policy of Premier Venizelos and All Ministers Resign.

CHAMBER ADJOURNS IN TURMOIL

LONDON, Oct. 6.—King Constantine of Greece has accepted the resignation of the Venizelos cabinet, according to an official dispatch which reached London today.

ATHENS, Oct. 6.—(Via London.)—After his conference with King Constantine, Premier Venizelos returned to the Chamber of Deputies and made a statement of the causes of the disagreement. He then announced the resignation of the entire cabinet. Sitings of the chamber were suspended.

The resignation of Premier Venizelos was altogether unexpected. He conversed with the correspondent of the Associated Press at noon today in a manner which indicated the utmost confidence in the future course of his government.

Meanwhile King Constantine came to Athens from Tatoi, the summer residence of the royal family, and summoned the premier to the palace.

After a terse interview, in which there was the plainest speaking, the premier proceeded to the Chamber of Deputies and announced that he had again disagreed with the king on foreign policy and had presented his resignation and that of his cabinet.

The announcement led to wild disorder in the chamber. The city is greatly excited. There is much discussion of the formation of a coalition cabinet.

First Troops Landed Saturday. PARIS, Oct. 6.—French transports arrived at Saloniki Friday night and troops began to land Saturday afternoon, says an Athens dispatch to the Matin. Perfect order was maintained in the city and the inhabitants gave the French soldiers a cordial reception.

Reports received in Athens, the Matin's correspondent says, state that 3,000 German and Austrian officers have taken over the principal commands in the Bulgarian army.

Protest Against Landing Mild. ATHENS, Oct. 2.—(Via Paris, Oct. 6.) Delayed by censor.—The following statement was issued officially after a meeting of the cabinet tonight:

The French minister delivered the following note to Premier Venizelos: "By order of my government, I have the honor to announce to your excellency the arrival at Saloniki of the first detachment of French troops and to declare at the same time that France and England, allied to Serbia, send their troops to help the latter, as well as to maintain the communication with it and that the two powers count upon Greece, which already has given so many proofs of friendship, not to oppose measures taken (Continued on Page Four, Column Three.)

The Day's War News

BULGARIA NOT ONLY has rejected the demands of Russia, but has sent an ultimatum to Serbia concerning Macedonia, according to Petrograd. It is declared that a reply from Serbia within twenty-four hours is demanded.

GERMAN GUNS BROKE UP yesterday a French attempt to resume the offensive on the front of the former attack in the Champagne, Berlin declares.

RESIGNATION OF Premier Venizelos and his cabinet has been accepted by King Constantine of Greece. Official advice to this effect was received in London today. The Greek premier's resignation, which has further complicated the already decidedly uncertain Balkan situation, was because the king informed Mr. Venizelos that he could not pursue the cabinet's policy to the end, according to Athens advice. The premier had indicated that he favored strong support of Serbia, in compliance with Greece's treaty obligations.

LANDING OF ALLIED TROOPS at Saloniki continues. Additional French forces disembarked today, supplementing the force of 70,000 already landed, it is reported from Athens.

ROMANIA IS SHOWING signs of activity, hurriedly sending troops to the Bulgarian frontier and taking other military measures of an extraordinary nature, because of ARTILLERY FIGHTING, with some hand grenade operations, is reported from the front in France. The French claim to have made some progress in connecting trenches in the Artois district.

Sofia Rejects Russian Ultimatum and Sends One to Serbia Demanding an Immediate Answer.

FRENCH TROOPS MARCHING ON King Ferdinand Also Makes Peremptory Demands on Serbia Regarding Macedonia.

ONE DAY IS GIVEN FOR ANSWER

PETROGRAD, Oct. 6.—(Via London.)—Bulgaria has rejected the Russian demands and has sent an ultimatum to Serbia concerning Macedonia, according to information which has reached the Serbian Archimandrite Michael, says a Moscow telegram to the Bourse Gazette. Bulgaria demands that Serbia reply to the ultimatum within twenty-four hours.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—(By Wireless to Sarville.)—A dispatch from Sofia yesterday's date, as given out here today by the Overseas News agency, says that the Bulgarian government made a reply yesterday afternoon to the joint note presented last month by the entente powers. The news agency also says that Bulgaria has made a reply to the joint ultimatum of Great Britain, France and Russia.

A dispatch from Nish, dated October 4, said the quadruple entente would send a collective ultimatum to Bulgaria on that day.

The joint note to Bulgarians last month was designed to compel the government to state its position. It was announced in London yesterday that the offer of the entente powers to Bulgaria, conditioned on her support of the allies in the war, had been withdrawn.

Macedonia Only a Mask. PETROGRAD, Oct. 6.—(Via London.)—The correspondent at Nish of the Novoye Vremya sends the following interview with Ljoubja Jovanovitch, Serbian minister of the interior: "To mask its real aims in mobilizing Bulgaria has again advanced the Macedonian question which is essentially a Slavic family affair of secondary importance at the time of a world war. During the last year we have twice officially offered Sofia to make any reasonable agreement concerning Macedonia, in addition to which the entente allies repeatedly have attempted to reach a peaceful solution of this question in order to avert the danger threatening Slavdom. All these efforts were unsuccessful, because there is no critical Macedonian question. The question is German influence, the complete subordination of Bulgaria to German interests. "Germany is not interested in Slavic affairs. It is merely using the Macedonian question to promote its hegemony in the Balkans and complete the conquest of the near east."

Roumanian Active. LONDON, Oct. 6.—Reuters Athens correspondent states that Roumania is hurriedly dispatching troops to the Bulgarian frontier and otherwise taking extraordinary military measures.

The Roumanians are feverishly fortifying Giurgiuvo on the Danube, forty miles south of Bucharest across the river from Bulgaria, according to advice reaching Athens. Roumanian officers of Bulgarian origin are being transferred to interior posts. Young reserve officers have been called up and reserves who were to have been disbanded, are being kept with the colors.

French Continue Move. PARIS, Oct. 6.—(11:15 p. m.)—The landing of French troops at Saloniki and their prompt dispatch northward across Greek territory to the Serbian frontier, will proceed without regard to the cabinet crisis at Athens.

The downfall of the Venizelos cabinet is considered here as relating to formalities rather than to determined opposition to the landing of French troops. Statements evidently based on official information relate King Constantine received the French minister at Athens after the landing of French troops had (Continued on Page Five, Column Three.)

VAL PETER HEADS GERMAN ALLIANCE

German-American Alliance of Nebraska Concludes Convention by Election of Officers.

PROTEST MUNITION EXPORTS

President—Val J. Peter, Omaha. First Vice President—Carl Rohde, Columbus. Second Vice President—Carl Kauf, Hastings. Third Vice President—John Schindler, Stanton. First Recording Secretary—Richard Goehring, Grand Island. Secretary—Hans Warkow, Lincoln. Corresponding Secretary—John Mattes, Jr., Nebraska City. Treasurer—Fred Volpp, Scribner.

Wednesday afternoon the German-American alliance concluded its work and the meeting adjourned, officers having been elected as indicated above.

The morning session was given over largely to the receipt and acceptance of reports of the committees. The school committee in its report urged the teaching of the German language in the public schools of Nebraska and requested the Germans seek to obtain this end through the boards of education.

The school committee protested against the cheap class of German literature that it was asserted is being published and offered for sale in bookstores, insisting that it is of a character that misrepresents the Germans and their literary achievements.

Protest Export of Munitions. The following resolutions relative to the manufacture, sale and shipment of munitions of war to Europe were adopted by a unanimous vote:

As loyal American citizens, loving our adopted country and anxious for its future, we deplore the enormous munitions "stained by our trade in arms and ammunition" which are being shipped to Europe and which traffic should be stopped by law, and we commend both Nebraska senators and those of our representatives in congress, who supported measures to that end in the last session. We urge the government to take direct action to stop the traffic in munitions, and to all such munitions to be heavily taxed and their sale to be prohibited.

We feel it our duty to God and to a Christian civilization to do nothing to prolong this frightful war and every citizen in our power to shorten it. We are creating bitter division along racial lines among our own people and threatening that, if not stopped, it will be essential to our nation's future greatness.

Old-Timers Talk. During an interval while the meeting was working under the head of "Good for the order," there was an address by Dr. Hennrich of Omaha. The doctor is 86 years of age, has been a resident of Nebraska sixty years and is the father of ten children, the oldest being 56 and the baby 37 years of age.

Fred Krug, sr., a resident of Omaha for more than half a century, and 82 years of age, was called upon for a speech and talked fifteen minutes on Nebraska and some of the things that have occurred since he came here.

Dry Penalty Law of Colorado Valid

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 6.—The prohibition penalty law enacted by the last legislature to enforce the state wide prohibition constitutional amendment was upheld in the district court today. The court ruled adversely on the application of the "wets" to mandamus John E. Ramer, secretary state, to place the law on the ballot at the 1916 general election on a referendum vote.

Then "Rody" announced "No, 45," and the audience proceeded to "Brighten up the Corner" with such good effect that a large colored woman marched up on the rostrum and through an occupied newsmen's section, threw up her arms at "Rody" and cried, just as the song closed, "Glory, glory and hurrah for you." Mr. Rodeheaver was right there with the repertoire.

Mayor Thompson's Manager Explains the "Wet" Pledge

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Fifty organizations affiliated with the United States for Local Self-Government called meetings today to pledge their support to any action which may be taken to oppose Mayor Thompson's Sunday closing edict against the 1,132 saloons of this city.

Eugene Pike, city comptroller, who managed the mayor's election campaign, admitted today that the mayor signed the "wet" pledge not to interfere with the saloons, but Mr. Thompson, according to Mr. Pike, attached his name under a misapprehension.

"He was told that the Sunday closing law was a dead letter and that nothing in the pledge called upon him to violate the law," explained Mr. Pike. "When the corporation counsel reported, however, that the Sunday closing law was perfectly valid and operative, there was nothing for the mayor to do but to perform his sworn duty, namely to see that the law is enforced."

To all visitors within our gates, a cordial welcome to our city! Ak-Sar-Ben is at his best; "Billy" Sunday offers to point the way to Salvation; the German-American Alliance is in session. Welcome to all.
