Example of Zaccheus Is Used by Sunday To Win More Souls

take all the sawdust up and to rub every particle of it through their hands and hunt for the thing in that manner, paying these men $5 a day, then I would be truly seeking it. The first effort I made carefully down the aisles would be looking for the article, but the last effort would be seeking it.

"For the Son of God is come to seek and save that which is lost."

The Bible says ye shall seek Jesus. What if a fast train is put on one track just back of it headed in the same direction, was placed another engine, a slow one. The result would be that the slow train never would catch the first and fast one. But if they are put on the same track, facing each other, no matter how far apart, they soon will meet if started. Jesus seeks us, and it is our duty to seek Jesus.

At a meeting which was held in Saginaw, Mich., Colonel A. T. Bliss was among the converts to come forward. Later at a meeting he discussed the conversion and his Christian experience. He said that when he went into the army he went out as a private and he was advanced to colonel. He then had the opportunity to give his heart to God, but he said, "No" to Him. Later on he thought if he only had the opportunity to represent his district in the lower house of congress, that he would give his heart to God and would be a professing Christian. But he said, "No" after that. He said that he believed that if he could only be governor, he would take the stand, but he also said "No" then. If he could only be rich, he would do so then. But when he became a multi-millionaire, he still was dissatisfied. Finally, when did it do, he found that the best time always is now. Make haste!

Looked for Her in White City. A policeman noticed a little boy and a little girl standing bewildered at the Fifty-seventh street entrance to the White City park. He asked them what they wanted. They told him they were looking for their mamma, saying that she had died several weeks before and had said she was going to the White City. They were there, in their innocence, to try and find her. Have you anybody in God's White City you want to meet sometime?

Your soul is worth 10,000,000 worlds; why don't you give God a chance to save it? If I could preach one sermon of salvation to the imps and devils in hell, and give them the same invitation, I would depopulate hell in fifteen minutes. Yet a lot of you people with chance to escape hell are breaking your necks to get there. You're a pack of fools!

I wish I possessed the power to picture the beauty of heaven which will be lost to many, and to picture the terrors of hell and the glory of salvation and the repulsiveness of sin. And you are lost to heaven. The thought of heaven comes to me like a shower of glory. Some day I will be swept through the gates washed in blood. I'll see Him whom, seeing not, I have loved, and whose gospel I have preached.

If eternity meant to me eternally without God, without wife, without children, without all that is dear to me, then eternity would be the saddest word in the dictionary to me. But it doesn't. It only means that when you don't accept Jesus. How can you know and go ahead as you are?

Whatever else you may say about me after I've left town, you can't say this: "He said it was easy to be a Christian." No, I never said that, but I have said, and do say, it's easy to get right, but hard to keep right.

Way Paved by Lincoln's Son. During the civil war conditions became such that Abraham Lincoln issued an order that none of the soldiers would be granted a furlough. A while after that order, one soldier got word that his wife was dying. His superiors couldn't grant him the furlough, but they did let him go and try to see the president. But when he reached the president's office a guard outside stopped him and told him it was impossible to see the great man. The soldier went away discouraged, his eyes filled with tears.

Outside a little boy saw him. The boy was Tad Lincoln. The little boy said, "What's the matter, Mister Soldier?" The youngster had to ask several times before the soldier heard and answered him. And when the man told the child why he mourned, the little fellow said: "Come with me; I'll take you to see him—he's the guard at the door and Lincoln signed the order allowing him to go to the bedside of his dying wife."

That story is perfect. Here is sin, the guard at the door, and you can't get by. Sin is the barrier. Twenty-nine years ago, in a Chicago mission, Jesus Christ came to me. "I can't get by," I said. But He took me in and the peace of God has been with me ever since. Try it, you people.

TWO INDIAN GIRLS ARE SOME WORKERS

STOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—Kate Little Thunder and her sister, Grace, are Indian girl students of the government Indian school in Rapid City. They have just returned to school for the winter term. That they did not spend their vacation in idleness, is indicated by a letter which the school authorities received yesterday from the father of the girls, aged 70, on the Rosebud reservation.

In the letter the father asserts that the girls were of great assistance to him during the summer and fall. He has no boy at home and is too old to work. To do the work on the farm which the family owns, the girls operated mowing machines and a hayrake to the extent that they put up twenty-four tons of hay, cultivated the potatoes and harvested thirty-eight bushels. They also cut and hauled sufficient wood to last during the winter months, so their aged parents would be as comfortable as possible during the time they are completing their education in the government Indian school.

Horse Doctors Disagree. PIERRE, S. D., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The State Live Stock commission heard the arguments in the dispute in the Niederwaller case from Spink county, in which Niederwaller asks that the certificate to practice veterinary medicine and surgery, granted to Walker, be cancelled on the grounds that Walker is not a graduate veterinarian. It is the contest which is being urged by the graduate veterinarians against allowing the old-fashioned horse doctors to practice in the state. The board did not announce its decision, but will consider the matter for the present.

It is here now—
The National Highway "12"
This new car Makes Good Every Claim made by the factory. We are proud of the car in every detail. We will have the demonstrator for a few days and want you to come and see it— to ride in it.

TRAYNOR AUTOMOBILE CO.

A FEW POINTS OF VITAL INTEREST IN THE National "12"

1. High-Precision Navigation. The great automobile motor of more than six cylinders to have this kind of precision. Fully accessible.

2. Includes World's Best Seats direct to both sets of cylinders from one carburetor. Hot water jacket to insure perfect combustion.

3. Cylinder Head, 2 1/2 bore by 4 1/2 stroke. Total piston displacement 213 cubic inches. Develops 15 horsepower. Aluminum piston and ring.

4. Outside Valves. All valves located outside the V and therefore as easily accessible as an hour or six cylinders. This is a distinctive feature of the National Twelve.

5. Cylinders. Cast in blocks of six and placed V-shape at 60-degree angle. Entire motor very compact, permitting use of same size hood as for six-cylinder.
