Twenty Hit Trail at the Brandeis Theater Yesterday. Twenty men hit the "carpet trail" at Brandeis theater yesterday following an urgent plea by "Billy" Sunday. "Billy" stood on the piano and leaned over to shake hands with the trail hitters. The opening of the trail was anticipated by those who heard the sermon, as "Billy's" talk was for the most part devoted to urging his hearers to be courageous enough to acknowledge Christ publicly. "You can no more reason yourself into Christianity than you can reason hair on a bald head," Sunday said. "What most of you need is a stout pair of legs to take you up the trail. You are already convinced hitting the trail is the right thing to do, but you want the other fellow to do it." Sunday offered the audience the choice of heaven or hell. "God has made the revelation. Take it and go to heaven or leave it and go to hell," he said. "If you want to inherit the blessings left you by God's will you must prove that you are one of His children," said Billy, "just as though you were to inherit an estate on earth. Do you want a good lawyer? Jesus Christ is ready to plead for you and he is the only lawyer who will be heard before the throne of God." Alumni of College of Medicine Are in Session Here Now. From Nebraska, South Dakota, Wyoming, Iowa and Kansas, have come eighty-five doctors, alumni of the College of Medicine of the University of Nebraska, to take post-graduate courses of one week at the College of Medicine in Omaha. The post course will end at the end of the present week. This is the sixth annual alumni week of this kind held here. Lectures are given and clinics held by members of the staff of the College of Medicine daily. Dr. H. M. McClanahan gave a lecture on infant feeding today. Dr. A. C. Stokes gave a lecture on gastric diagnosis of stomach cancer and stomach ulcer. Dr. W. F. Milroy talked on "A Good Insurance Risk from a Medical Man's Standpoint." Members of classes from as far back as 1885 are here. At noon the various classes grouped themselves and took lunch at the University club rooms. Dr. A. C. Crofton of Chicago is to lecture this evening at the University club on "Decentralization in Medicine." Public Defender Takes Charge of Twenty-Nine Cases. In the first month of the fall term of the district court, Richard Horton, public defender appointed under a law passed by the last legislature, has examined twenty-nine cases referred to him by the presiding judge. The cases referred to him were those of prisoners who pleaded financial inability to hire a lawyer. The cases have been disposed of as follows: One convicted, one acquitted, eight ready for trial, six called by the county attorney, one plea of guilty accepted, one paroled after pleading guilty, eleven pleas of guilty to misdemeanors instead of to the offenses as charged. Under the old system in each case an attorney would have been appointed who would have received from $25 to $50 from the county. Many prisoners who under the old system would have pleaded poverty do not do so now, finding that a little diligent search enables them to raise the amount of a retaining fee.
