Pheasants Detect Presence of Enemy Airships in Britain

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—How cock pheasants in an English farm yard warned their owners of the coming of Zeppelins during the raid on London October 13, when fifty-five persons were killed, was told today by Mrs. T. C. Jones of New York on her arrival here aboard the American liner St. Paul, from Liverpool.

"I was stopping with friends at their country house, about fifty miles from London, the night of the raid," she said. "Shortly after 10 o'clock a servant advised the mistress of the household that the cock pheasants were acting in a peculiar manner and that she feared Zeppelins were near. Within a few minutes we heard the sound of motors. Then came a louder noise and soon an aeroplane was sighted. Presently, we could see high in the air, a huge cigar-shaped object making its way eastward toward Germany. Within a short time we learned of the Zeppelin raids on London."

Mrs. Jones, who is widely known in New York social circles, has been doing relief work in France.

Other passengers, including Waldo A. Ross, a Sioux Falls, S. D., aviator, who has been with the English flying corps at Hendon, and Lady De Bathe, formerly Lillian Langtry, an actress, gave details of the raid. They different little from the accounts previously called.

Ross, the aviator, will return to England as soon as he recuperates from injuries sustained by a fall several weeks ago. He said that the English show less skill in handling aeroplanes than the French, but that they are rapidly becoming proficient.

H. C. Hoover, head of the Belgium Relief commission; Joseph C. Baldwin, jr., vice president of the American Dye-works company, and Sir Charles Ross of Ottawa, Canada, also were included in the passenger list.

Among the second and third class passengers were 20 young Irishmen. Some of them said frankly that they left home fearing conscription.

COUNCIL ORDERS SIDEWALKS CLEAR

Holds Building Department Responsible for Violation of the Laws Governing Matter.

BUSINESS MEN PROTESTING

The city building department was censured by city commissioners, sitting in committee of the whole, the matter in hand being a violation of the city building laws by the builders of the Rose block at the southeast corner of Sixteenth and Farnam streets.

"I, for one commissioner, want to state that unless the building department abates the sidewalk obstruction nuisance instantly, I will be for proceeding against the building department," declared Commissioner Hummel.

Commissioner Butler said it was up to the city building department to enforce the laws pertaining to that department.

Led by Attorney Bradley a delegation of business men interested in sidewalk traffic south and east of the new Rose building appeared before the commissioners and vigorously protested against the continued closure of the sidewalk by the contractors. Mr. Bradley read a section of the compiled building laws specifically governing a situation like the one in question.

"All we are asking of the city commissioners is to enforce the law. We dislike to have to go to district court for redress," stated Attorney Bradley.

The result of the conference was that Structural Engineer Brown was directed to proceed forthwith to cause this sidewalk to be opened and to take similar action in the case of the World-Herald building.

High Students Go to Prayer Meeting

Fifteen boys and three times as many girls attended the Central High school boys' and girls' prayer meeting at the First Methodist church just before school opened Monday. These prayer meetings which will be held every Monday and Thursday morning, were launched by the "Billy" Sunday party.

Philip Thomas led the prayers, but there was only one other boy who was moved to prayer. It was the girls who prayed, for the success of the Sunday party wherever they go and for helpfulness in their school life.

Large banners with the inscription, "Brighten the Corner" in shining letters decorated one corner of the church. As the boys and girls filed out of the church, one girl was loud in regrets that the campaign song, "Brighten the Corner" had not been sung at this meeting.

"This is the only meeting I have attended since the Sunday party came, where it has not been sung," she exclaimed.

Miss Grace Robel is president of the girls' Bible study class and John Sunderland heads the boys' class. Principal Masters has offered to lead one of the boys' Bible study classes.

FRENCH PAPER SUGGESTS CHANGE OF GOVERNMENT

PARIS, Oct. 25.—"The duty of the government," is the heading of the leading article printed today in the Temps, which discusses the situation confronting the cabinet, brought on by the Balkan policy and aggravated by the resignation of Theophile Delcasse from the foreign ministry.

The Temps say the hour for manly resolution has struck. It admits a change in the ministry at this time would be a grave act, but declares that a feeling of uneasiness being apparent, it would be better frankly to remedy it, and that it would be possible to do so to its extent. The newspaper continues:

"Is the government of today capable of action with the promptitude and vigor demanded? We earnestly hope so. If not, we await with confidence the government of tomorrow."

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION TOO ZEALOUS FOR JUDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beem, 513 North Nineteenth street, evidently believe in celebrating birthdays enthusiastically, as the pair were each haled into police court and sentenced to ten days in jail for making merry in honor of Mrs. Beem's day of birth and disturbing the peace in so doing. Mrs. Beem had two well blackened eyes, which she asserted were received some time previous to the celebration. The judge thought otherwise.

PLENTY OF POTATOS TO FEED GERMANS

Official Statement Says Pork Being Produced in Empire in Unheard of Quantity.

POOR AND RICH ARE WELL FED

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The food supply in Germany, based on the nearly complete 1915 crop returns, which are declared to be more than large enough for coming needs, is explained in a statement issued by Under Secretary of State Arnold Wahnshaffe, at the instance of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor. The under secretary says:

"Especially in the foreign press there are appearing statements about a shortage of food, particularly milk, butter and meat, in Germany. They are intended to show the rest of the world that the starvation plan of our enemies is an accomplished fact; that the Germans and their cattle are hunger-stricken, and that Germans want speedily to make peace."

"What is true is this: It is true that our enemies have shut us off from importation and seek to starve out the peaceful working population, thereby the entire economic life of Germany has been changed. The old law of supply and demand no longer controls the market as in peace. Governmental regulations have replaced this law in order to prevent too high prices for the poor. We have in Germany carried out so much from the old harvest to the new that we are compelled to reduce the supply by 60,000,000 hundredweight, which will be fed to cattle. We can do this because we are now assured of the goodness and plenty of our crop."

"We have a record potato crop, such as Germany, since its foundation, never had. We had counted on a good harvest of nearly 900,000,000 hundredweight, but actually got 1,300,000,000 hundredweight. Pork raising has taken an undreamed of impetus in the last nine months, which was aided by the large potato crop. In short, we have what we need in abundance."

"The abundant potato crop will be apportioned out to the entire empire through an imperial potato center. Through the establishment of definite prices, it will be arranged so that this important food-stuff will surely and cheaply be distributed to the civil population."

"Butter prices will be regulated for the empire by the rules for Berlin, pronounced by the chancellor. Maximum prices will be set for milk. Needs of children, ailing mothers and sick will be especially cared for through sales counters and special tickets. Measures also will be taken whereby the poorer portion of the population will be able to get meat at cheap prices. In a few days we shall forbid the sale of meat and frying of fat in restaurants for several days a week, and so regulate the consumption that not only every one who can pay, but all who need them, will receive bread, potatoes and all other foods."

HIT THE TRAIL AND THEN THEY MAKE UP

Three Couples Ask to Have Divorces Set Aside During the Close of the Sunday Campaign.

ONE WIFE PERSONAL WORKER

After four months of divorce, Grover C. and Grace V. Farber of Omaha have had their divorce decree set aside and are living together happily again, as a result of the influence of the "Billy" Sunday campaign.

They have gone to Chariton, Ia., with their little 3-year-old daughter, and their friends consider that the couple is now on a real honeymoon, although originally married five years ago.

Over a year ago Mrs. Farber instituted divorce proceedings, alleging cruelty and asking for the custody of the child, Edith. District Judge Redick granted a decree last July, after Farber had filed answer in court to the effect that his wife had deserted him, taking the baby and would no longer accept his support. He did not defend the divorce suit, however, and Mrs. Farber secured the decree by default.

Farber left the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance company, for whom he had been agent in South Omaha, and went to Iowa to follow similar work. Mrs. Farber worked in Omaha as a stenographer to support herself and baby, living at 1214 South Forty-eighth street.

During the "Billy" Sunday campaign she was an active worker. When Farber visited Omaha two weeks ago she sought him and urged him to go forward on the saddest trail. The couple and their baby attended the Tabernacle meetings regularly for some time and the outcome was Farber's decision to take a stand with his wife.

Saturday morning they requested Judge Redick to vacate the divorce decree, the six months' period before the decree would become final and operative not having expired.

A court order was therefore signed by the judge, setting aside the divorce and restoring the couple to their full marital status again. They went away rejoicing in their re-established happiness, and with the little child will live at Chariton, Ia.

Two other reconciliations between divorced couples also took place in Omaha within the last few days. Mrs. Tita Mathews secured a divorce from William F. Mathews, and Mrs. Annie E. Hill secured a divorce from George R. Hill, both less than six months ago.

As the "Billy" Sunday campaign neared its close last week, these two couples petitioned the court to set aside the decrees and now they are enjoying happiness again in their restored love and marital felicity. Both couples have children. The Hill family lives at 652 Decatur street.

Joe Schutte, 415 South Third street, arrested for assaulting D. V. Skinner, 1011 South Twenty-fifth street, an usher in the Tabernacle, was fined $50 and costs when arraigned in police court. Schutte had been creating a disturbance during the services, and when requested to leave the building, struck Skinner.

MASTER SALES COMPANY IS ROBBED BY BURGLARS

Burglars broke into the Master Sales Company store at 320 Farnam street Sunday night and ransacked every desk in the establishment and made an effort to break open the safe. About $30 in cash was the amount of the loot.

Con Man Who Found Picking Good Here is Fined a Hundred

Charles Nelson, who has been posing as foreman of a ranch in Idaho, secured $20 from Ambrose Jacobs of Pine Ridge, S. D., whom he promised work on his ranch at $15 a month. Since the payment of $20 to catch the job Ambrose saw nothing of Nelson until Sunday, when he met him on lower Douglas street. After a chase Nelson was cornered at Tenth and Douglas, from where he was brought to the station by Captain Dempsey and Special Officer L. T. Finn. He was fined $100 and costs when arraigned in police court. On December 10, according to Finn, Nelson conned John Huntia and William Marrow of Cleo, Ark., out of $25 and $10, respectively. If these men can be located separate complaints for each case will be filed against Nelson.

Escapes from Russia and Lands in Omaha

Myer Levinson, 26 years of age, and a native of Russia, has been granted a permit to enter the ungraded room at Kellen school. He states he arrived here from Russia only two weeks ago, having escaped from the land of his birth by way of Siberia, China and Japan.

At school headquarters he said he was three months making his way from Gradno, Russia, to Yokohama, Japan, from which latter place he took ship for this country. He says he has relatives in Omaha.
