By MELLIFICIA. Monday, October 25, 1915.

On next Thursday afternoon the much discussed Cordon, the feminine counterpart of the Cliff Dwellers, will hold its first meeting in the Fine Arts building in Chicago. The name of the club, "Cordon," meaning many strands woven together, best describes this assemblage of social leaders, writers, actresses, musicians, business women and reformers. More than half the members "do something," and women of such international social prominence as Mrs. Hobart Chatfield-Taylor and Mrs. Tiffany Blake are respectively listed as "bookbinder" and "expert landscape gardener." The membership is limited to 400 and the club is starting its career with a long waiting list. The purpose of the Cordon is purely social, aiming to provide a pleasant gathering place to meet for luncheon, dinner or afternoon tea.

In this brilliant coterie, two women well known to Nebraskans stand prominently out, Mrs. Robert Burns Peattie and Miss Edith Abbott. While Miss Abbott claims Grand Island instead of Omaha as her Nebraska residence, she is a graduate of Brownell Hall and has many Omaha friends.

I mean to keep an eye on the Cordon this coming winter—the thing is unique, and it will be worth while to know what is talked about and planned when women picked for their effectiveness in all walks of life get together in an exclusively social way.

At the Orpheum Theater.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. George are giving a box party at the Orpheum theater to-night, complimentary to their house guests, the Misses Irene and Florence Grosse of Pasadena, Cal. After the theater, the party will attend the supper dance at the Fontenelle. The party includes:

Misses—Florence Grosse, Irene Grosse, Messrs—George Wright of Council Bluffs, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. George, Mr. F. A. Fitzgerald will entertain a line party of eight, and Mr. George Campbell, twelve.

Mr. Norris Brown will entertain five guests this evening, and M. Wasserman will have the same number of guests. Among those who are entertaining four guests are L. M. Cohn, C. L. Farnsworth, Carl Furth, Lester Heyn, R. L. Hontley, A. V. Kinsler, Fred Meyers, O. C. Redick, Fred Rogers, Judge Ben S. Baker, W. J. Connell, C. Kirschbraun, W. D. McHugh and J. E. Ludlow.

Reservations for two have been made by Dr. E. C. Abbott, J. M. Baldridge, J. A. Cavers, W. F. Gurley, Dr. E. C. Henry, Colonel Jewell, Ralph Kitchin, Mrs. Emma Manchester, F. A. Shotwell, H. A. Tukey and Earl Gannett.

Reunion of Old Friends.

Over forty former schoolmates met Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Lewis last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dumont. This has been the first opportunity that many of Mr. Lewis' high school and university friends have had to congratulate him upon his making good in New York. Mr. Lewis is assistant commissioner of corrections there. A college boy spirit pervaded the assembling, old songs were sung and memories revived.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left Sunday evening for New York to join their two young sons.

Affairs for Mrs. Lobinier.

Mrs. Charles Lobinier, accompanied by her sister, Miss Emma, returned from Hillsdale, Mich., arrives in Omaha tomorrow morning to visit Mrs. C. C. Belden. Mrs. Lobinier is enroute to Shanghai, China, where her husband, C. S. Lobinier, is judge of the United States court.

Mrs. Lobinier's stay in Omaha is limited to barely four days, as the larger part of one day will be passed in Lincoln.

On Tuesday Mrs. Draper Smith and Mrs. C. C. Belden will give a luncheon at the University club for Mrs. Lobinier. Two affairs transpire on Wednesday, a little luncheon at 1 o'clock, given by Mrs. Charles E. Johannes, and at 4 o'clock Mrs. C. C. Belden is hostess at an informal tea in honor of her guests. On Thursday Mrs. C. C. Belden and Mrs. C. R. Belden give a luncheon at the Commercial club.

Les Amies Whist Club.

The Les Amies Whist club was entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. M. Barr. Prizes were won by Mrs. J. M. Gerhard and the hostess, Mrs. George Keebler will entertain the club in two weeks.

Personal Mention.

Miss Ida Darlow will leave San Francisco for Los Angeles in a few days and will remain the guest of her aunt, the Misses Borglum, for a week or two. After the leaving of Miss Ida Darlow for the east, Miss Darlow was the guest of Mrs. Will Doane, whose daughter, Miss Margaret Rustin, is a student of Berkeley college. This evening Miss Darlow will attend the Daughters of the American Revolution ball in San Francisco with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whilden, formerly of Omaha.

Fast Festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. John I. Lijegren entertained twenty guests at their home last Sunday in honor of their silver wedding anniversary.

Husbands Entertained.

The Comus club gives a husbands' entertainment this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Jennings. Ten married couples will be present, with Miss Keller the guest of honor. Halloween emblems, including a live witch, will be the decorations.

Dancing Parties of the Week.

The Twinkle club will give a dancing party Tuesday evening in the ballroom of the Hotel Castle. The Pagalo club is planning a dancing party for Thursday evening at Metropolitan hall.

Date Set for Talk by Herbert Houston

Herbert S. Houston will be in Omaha November 1. At last the date has been definitely fixed. It has been known for some time that Mr. Houston would go through Omaha some time this fall and the Commercial club has been negotiating to have him deliver a talk to the club at a public affairs luncheon. Mr. Houston is vice president of the Doubleday-Page company, which publishes World's Work; is president of the Associated Ad Clubs of the World, and chairman of the League for the Enforcement of Peace.

EDUCATE OMAHANS TO PAY UP BILLS

Associated Retailers to Launch a Campaign Urging People to Settle Accounts Each Month.

TO DISCOURAGE OVER-BUYING

To educate credit-buyers to pay their bills between the first and tenth of each month, is the purpose of a campaign that is being inaugurated by the Associated Retailers of Omaha by the credit rating department of that association.

At the last meeting of the association it was decided that something should be done along this line, for the purpose of getting money into the treasury of the retailer when it is due him. A committee is to be appointed to attend to this matter and outline a plan to be followed in getting this idea before the people. Newspaper advertising was suggested as a means to get this property before the people.

Accounts Allowed to Drain.

It was pointed out that when goods are bought on credit, with no definite agreement other than that they are to be charged, it is always understood that they are to be paid for between the first and tenth of the month following. Very often this obligation is neglected, and accounts are allowed to drain for months.

Each retailer is under obligation as a member of the Associated Retailers to report the credit standing of each customer at the end of the month, so that the credit rating department of the association may make a record as to whether "John Jones" is thirty-day pay, sixty-day, ninety-day, slow pay, or absolutely poor pay. In many cases, the retailers point out, a customer may carelessly allow a bill to run ninety days or longer, when he has the money to pay all the time. He is reported to the association as ninety-day pay, according to when he pays his bills. This militates against him in seeking credit in the future.

To Much Over-Buying.

The campaign of education is also expected to educate people not to overbuy. It is found that there is often a tendency to buy above one's means when credit is easy to get. "It is easy to get credit, but not easy to maintain it," said J. W. Metcalfe, secretary of the association, "if one does not guard his buying after his credit is established as well as he guarded it when he was paying cash for everything. The individual does not realize the importance of keeping his credit first class as much as the industrial house realizes it. A business house knows that it must meet its bills promptly in order to maintain a good credit rating. The individual ordinarily does not realize that he is making a rating for himself, good or bad, according to whether he is paying his bills promptly."

The suffrage autoists arrive in Omaha from Lincoln, where they will spend Wednesday and where Governor Morehead will receive them and they leave Friday for Des Moines.

When Mrs. James L. Hand, president of the Detroit branch of the Congressional union, who is spending a few days at the Fontenelle, learned of Miss Vernon's presence in the city, she immediately made arrangements to remain over in Omaha to assist in the reception of the suffrage party.

POP-POP COPPERS TO LOOK FOR HALLOWE'EN JOKERS

Starting tonight twenty officers will start patrolling Omaha on motorcycles, with an eye toward the prevention of undue celebration of Halloween. Small boys with a propensity toward hanging other people's gates on telephone poles and puncturing automobile tires by the sack system are warned to beware of the enlarged flying squadron.

Four-Year-Old John Doe, 104, Is Now Finley Jay Shepard, Junior

Little Finley Jay Shepard, Jr., the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard (the former Helen Gould), is a sturdy 4-year-old, blue-eyed and fair-haired. Until his adoption last week he was known at the foundling home as John Doe 104, alias Austin McCleary.

The fortunate youngster was just found. He was first found by a policeman, sitting on the steps of St. Patrick's cathedral on Fifth avenue, New York, and after all efforts to establish his identity had failed, he was sent to St. Christopher's home at Dobbs Ferry. In this institution he was discovered by "Helen's Babies," Margaret and Dorothy, daughters of Frank J. Gould, who are Mrs. Shepard's pet nieces and the light of her home at Irvington, N. Y.

Our little nieces were frequent visitors to St. Christopher's home," said Mr. Shepard, in telling about the discovery. "On one of their trips they saw Finley playing with 200 comrades. All wore blue rompers. My wife and I thought it strange that the children should have picked this one out when they praised him to us that night. We were forced to listen to no end of praise. We looked him up and found him to be all that Margaret and Dorothy had said.

"We had already engaged detectives to search for the McCleary boy. Mrs. Shepard was very excited when she learned that the little boy to whom her nieces were so attached was the very lad we were trying to locate.

"We borrowed him on two different occasions from the home and when we returned him my nieces were heartbroken. 'His schooling?' We really haven't decided upon that as yet. We want him to have a liberal education. We will not force any profession upon him. He may choose his own work. No one can take him from us now. We made a diligent search to find his parents and, having failed to do this, he is ours by right of legal adoption.

"Mr. Shepard and I have longed for a son, and now our hopes have been realized."

JOHN DOE, 104.

Gypsies Attempt to Tap Till of Saloon

Shortly after noon a call to the police station conveyed the information that a daylight robbery was under way in Jack Graham's saloon at Fifty-sixth and Center streets. All of the coppers in the station boarded the emergency automobile and hustled to the scene at break-neck speed to find a gypsy caravan in front of the place. While one of the gypsy women was telling the fortunes of the bartender in the saloon the remaining members of the troupe rifled the cash register and obtained $5. Four of the gypsies were pinched and are now telling fortunes for customers of the city jail.

BEAR FOR THE NEXT FEED OF SPORTSMEN'S CLUB HERE

The bear has come. And it is some bear. The bear has been killed and is now cooling and ripening in the great cold storage plant of Armour & Co. at South Side, where Bob Howe is having it all fixed up for the next feed of the Sportsmen's club. Contract Let for Two Consumers of Court House Smoke

Two smoke consumers are to be immediately installed in the court house at a total cost of $2,500. The contract has been awarded to Dan C. Whitney by the Board of County Commissioners. A practical and ornamental system of street electric lighting for the Field club district has been agreed upon by the city, county and property owners concerned. At the county board's regular meeting the plan was accepted. Property owners will install the underground conduits and ornamental posts and fixtures, the county will pay for the part of the project abutting its property and the city will maintain the system. Streets concerned in the plan are Fifty-third, from Pine to Pacific streets and Pacific from Thirty-sixth to Fifty-eighth streets.
