 Superintendents of State Institutions Hold Successful Session at Lincoln.

CONSOLIDATION PLAN GAINS

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The session of the superintendents of state institutions held here this week were well attended and a success in every particular. After a three-day session in which papers were read by several heads of departments covering work in which the institutions are interested and discussions had on the subjects, it was voted to hold the sessions twice a year, one being held next April and the other in October.

The chairman of the State Board of Control will act as chairman of the sessions and they will be held where it appears to be the most convenient.

Bank Case to Supreme Court.
 A question involving the authority of the state banking board to enforce a rule made by the board against issuing a charter to a state bank operated by national bank officers in connection with a national bank will be decided by the supreme court, Assistant Attorney General Charles S. Roe having filed a brief in the supreme court in the case of Chamberlain and others who were refused a charter at Clark.

District Judge Cornish of Lancaster county issued a writ of mandamus compelling the state banking board to issue the charter and the board has appealed to the supreme court. The writ of mandamus was issued on the claim by the applicants that the board is a board of regulation, but is instead exercising legislative and prohibitive powers.

Mr. Roe in his brief asserts that the board has the right to act for what is best for the public welfare and the words of the statute giving the board "general supervision and control" convey comprehensive power of a more than perfunctory duties.

On School Constitution.
 Dr. A. O. Thomas, state superintendent, has returned from a trip to Kansas and reports conditions along the border of school consolidation gaining. At Kansas, while there has been no consolidation of districts, several districts outside of the town have thrown up their schools and are having their children taken to the town school. About seventy pupils from the nearby districts are daily transported to and from school by the parents, and on the day in which the state superintendent visited the school about twenty different vehicles were drawn up around the building waiting to take the children home. Automobiles, motorcycles, bicycles and wagons are used and the plan has proven a grand success.

Dr. Thomas left today for a meeting to attend the Northwestern Teachers' association, to be held in that city tomorrow and Saturday.

Express Companies Pay Up.
 The Wells-Fargo Express company has paid into the state treasury its 1915 occupation tax under protest. The amount paid is $1,161.39, but the treasurer claims that the amount should be $1,277.72. The company insists that it should not be required to pay a 2 per cent tax on its money order business, while the treasurer insists that this should be included in the amount of business transacted.

The American Express company paid in today the sum of $10,700.38 as its tax under the law.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER FAILS TO GIVE BOND

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—A. Shilling, who was arrested September 25, charged with embezzling the sum of $2,000 from the Stickle Lumber company at Oconto, appeared before County Judge Ford for preliminary hearing. The prosecution introduced as witnesses W. L. Stickle, president and secretary of the lumber company, and Roger W. Wilson, who is auditor for the different places of business conducted by the Stickle company. Both testified that Shilling was short $2,000, or around that sum. The defense introduced no testimony. The court bound the defendant over to the next term of district court. Bonds were fixed in the sum of $1,000, in default of which the defendant was placed in the custody of the sheriff.

BOYS WHO STOLE AUTO GET SUSPENDED SENTENCES

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Three 16-year-old boys, Jan Flogett, Paul Marks and Robert Simonson, committed an automobile belonging to Bert Kaupp of this place, and took a midnight ride ten miles out in the country, where they ran out of gasoline and ditched the machine. They took possession of a horse belonging to a nearby farmer and started for home, but were apprehended by the officers. Being brought to Broken Bow, they were placed in jail for a short period, then taken before Judge Ford, who suspended sentence, but is keeping them under the jurisdiction of the court in case they show any further tendencies toward joy-riding. They also had to reimburse the owner of the machine for damages sustained to it.

POLLARD SHIES HIS CASTOR

Former Congressman Wants Republican Nomination for Governor of Nebraska.

WRITES LETTER TO BASSETT

NEHAWKA, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Ernest M. Pollard, former congressman from this district has announced that he will be a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. Pollard has written an open letter to S. C. Bassett of Gibbon, Neb., who sent him a communication enclosing a petition signed by fifty prominent farmers, urging him to enter the race. In his reply to Mr. Bassett Mr. Pollard says:

"I appreciate this confidence expressed in me by the men who know me best. It is a higher compliment than any mere office holding can give. I am now ready to undertake this move you suggest, partly because of your judgment, and partly because I am more or less ambitious, as every man should be, to identify my personality, while I live, with an important service to the people of the state in which I was born and to which I am indebted for whatever of success or happiness I have achieved.

"If your estimate of me is correct and if my personal ambitions are not prompting me to an over estimate of my equipment, there is enough in the enterprise to arouse my energies to the very utmost. "This is a fertile state in which the growth and prosperity of the towns and cities depend on the success of the farmers. When the farm prospers, the stores make money. When the farm operations are enlarging, the factory and the workshop has a demand for its output. The more the acre produces, the heavier becomes the traffic on the railroads.

"This is a big crop year in Nebraska. This is a good time for the state government to begin that long neglected work of emphasizing the development of Nebraska's agriculture. "The farmers know that their business needs, and deserves more attention than it gets from the men who manipulate our politics and our public affairs. Less attention to partisan politics and more attention to agriculture ought to be the battlecry of the voters in the coming campaign.

"I think you, my good friend, Mr. Bassett, and my other good friends who have expressed their confidence in me, I am only a young man, but I will do my best to measure up to your high estimate of me."

"Our apple harvest at Nehawka is about finished. I am still very busy, however, with home affairs. A little later I will write you more in detail as to my plan for effecting a substantial development of Nebraska's one great resource; agriculture."

OXFORD, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Republican Valley Medical association was held at Oxford Thursday. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Hal Smith of Franklin; vice president, C. L. Fahnestock, McCook; secretary, L. W. Rork, Oxford; treasurer, W. D. Banister, lecturer for the bureau of health and public instruction of the American Medical association. The doctors extended a special invitation to the high schools of Furnas county to be present at the lecture. Cambridge, Beaver City, Holdrege, Edison and Arapahoe sent delegations.

The Oxford High entertained the visitors quite elaborately. In the afternoon the girls played basket ball with the Cambridge girls and the foot ball teams of the two schools clashed. The visitors carried off the big end of the score in both games. Following the games was a banquet at the new gymnasium tendered to the visitors by the Oxford High school students, at which 250 were served.

MOREHEAD IS TO SAVE PARTY

Such is the Argument of His Friends to Induce Him to Run Again.

NO CHANCE FOR SENATOR

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—The proposition which confronts the democratic party at the present time and one which causing many sleepless nights for the political prophets, is who will be the man to lead the state ticket at the coming election in 1916. That Dr. P. L. Hall cannot be forced into the race is becoming almost a certainty. Dr. Hall is a pretty wise sort of politician. He would like to be governor all right, the same as any other man who relishes political honors, but his long line of unbroken political success has made him careful and he does not care at this time to have that success broken by a possible defeat. He stands well with his party and the public generally, but he does not care to mar that popularity by a possible defeat.

Therefore the hope all runs in the direction of a third term for Governor Morehead. Friends of the governor are saying on the quiet that the governor is the solution of a very vexed problem. They assert he has made good as an executive and if nominated the only real thing that can be brought against him is the third term idea, which they now claim is of little consequence.

Wants to Be Senator.
 Governor Morehead would really like to serve his state as a United States senator. It was hoped at one time that he would be able to land the nomination because of the support of the Bryan faction of the party. But now chances of that have gone glimmering because it is generally considered that a deal has already been made in which Congressman Shallenberger is to receive the support of the Bryan element in his fight to wrest from Senator Hitchcock a re-nomination. It is said on reliable authority that such an understanding has already been reached between the Alma statesman and the friends and political managers of the Bryan political machine.

Therefore it is up to the democratic party to find a man who can receive the support of the whole party and should Mayor Charles Bryan finally figure that he does not want to make a try for the nomination for governor, it is reasonable to suppose that the governor will find little opposition to the third term idea.

As the dope reads at the present time, Governor Morehead will be forced to enter the race for the nomination because of the demand which will come from his followers to take a chance in order that the party may be saved.

Anti-Hog Cholera Club Organized in Gage County

BEATRICE, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special.)—What is supposed to be the first anti-hog cholera club in the state was organized Thursday evening at the Prairie Cottage school house three miles east of Blue Springs by Farm Demonstrator Leaders of this city, A. E. Anderson of the State Farm Commission and four sections in Blue Springs township will be appointed to carry on the work by Elton Smith, chairman. The methods to be used in stamping out the disease are to get and clean up farms, isolate hogs, bury the dead ones and vaccinate at the proper time.

The first of a series of High school faculty dinners was held Thursday evening in the domestic science department of the High school. A roast pig was served to the students by Miss Marie Upson and Mr. and Mrs. Tillotson.

Lieutenant Colonel Hollingworth has just returned from a trip to Hebron, where a National guard company will probably be organized. He addressed a meeting Wednesday night upon the subject of preparedness in case of war.

Divorce was granted Thursday by Judge Emberton to Albert C. Moschel from Freida Moschel, the grounds being desertion and extreme cruelty. The defendant was allowed alimony of $50 and the custody of the three minor children.

The grounds for action are not known, as the papers were taken from the court house by the plaintiff's attorney. The principals in the suit are well known residents of Wymore, the defendant having served one term as mayor.

Hitchcock Says Wilson Is Issue of The Campaign

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—President Woodrow Wilson will be the political issue in the next campaign, according to Senator Hitchcock, who was at the state house this morning and talked with newspaper men.

The senator believes that the democratic party has done some good things in the last two or more years, but none of them it appears are good enough to make a campaign on, so as the party of the past had nothing in its record to hold up before the people but the name of Andrew Jackson and Thomas Jefferson. In the next campaign it will hold up before the people the name of Woodrow Wilson, and on that issue fight the political battle of 1916.

The regional bank legislation, in the mind of the senator, has been worth while and has proven a success, but it would appear has not been such a success that it would appeal to the voters in a degree that it would make votes, so the man and not the measures will be the slogan of the democratic battle cry.

There are some other things which have been pulled off by a democratic congress which look good to the senator, but none of them is likely to appeal to the voter when he looks at the democratic deficiency in the treasury, the war tax when the United States has no war, and many other schemes which have been used to keep the ship of state floating, and so the war cry will be "Woodrow Wilson or Bust."

There are no republicans, according to the senator, with a sufficient personality to be able to appeal to the voters, with one exception, and he is impossible. He thinks Theodore Roosevelt might make a good showing could he receive the support of his party, but he believes he could never be nominated as a republican candidate and therefore cannot be reckoned with as a possible nominee.
