

HOUSTON PLEADS FOR WORLD COURT

Noted Editor Talks On "Commerce and World Peace" at Commercial Club Yesterday.

BUSINESS AFFECTED BY WAR

A world court, made powerful by the combined influence of all the commerce of all nations, and with a commercial boycott by all other nations as the penalty for any country that does not abide by the world court's decisions, is the business man's solution of the war problem, and the surest way to permanent world peace, according to Herbert S. Houston.

He spoke along those lines at a public affairs luncheon at the Commercial club yesterday, taking "Commerce and World Peace" as his subject. Mr. Houston is chairman of the information committee of the League to Enforce Peace, was a delegate to the international peace conference at Paris, and is now on his way home to resume his business as a publisher and member of the firm of Doubleday-Page & Co.

Mr. Houston is president of the Associated Ad Clubs of the World and was the guest of the Omaha Ad club at a banquet at the University club last evening. Vice President Lefe Young, Jr., of Des Moines also spoke.

All Business Affected.—"American business as well as that of every other nation, has been profoundly affected by the war," Mr. Houston said, by way of beginning his business man's message on the war. "Therefore, American business men are anxious to substitute law for war."

He outlined a referendum plan soon to be submitted to the 60,000 Commercial club men of the United States, providing for a survey of the peace question. Continuing, he said:

Arbitration Mandatory.

"The sanest and most practical men who have studied the question agree that if arbitration of international disputes is to get anywhere it must be mandatory instead of optional with the nations concerned. So the idea has been evolved of enforcing peace by commercial power, with military power as only the last resort, not for making war, but to bring peace.

"The way the bankers of Venice delayed Philip II's armada, and the fact that today 90 per cent of the world's securities are owned internationally, shows what tremendous power commerce has to ward off war and punish recalcitrant nations.

World Needs Court House.

"Education, music, literature and religion are international forces, just in spite of them nations engage in war. Law is the stronger force for peace within a nation, and it can be between nations also. The world needs a court house, just like states, and the court world court, when backed by the combined commercial power of the world, will be the greatest possible guarantee of permanent world peace.

"Any nation that breaks its treaties, oversteps international law or refuses to arbitrate its difficulties with another nation, would be commercially boycotted by all other nations through the world court."

Urges Referendum Vote.

The speaker urged Omaha business men to vote on the referendum for the United States to join the world court, with the world commercial backing, he outlined. As to the possibility of war, he said that whatever the price may be, it will be much cheaper than war.

Ralph Sunderland presided, and among those at the speaker's table were Senator G. M. Hitchcock and Victor Rosewater.

Mr. Houston said it was a pleasure for him to be in Omaha again. He said the city shows rapid, definite growth. Many years ago he was correspondent for an Omaha newspaper.

Dobbin Poisoned and Family Loses Its Only Income

Mrs. R. W. Tigh, 278 Hazel street, with tears streaming down her face, came to police headquarters this morning and exhibited a package of biscuits which had been literally saturated with strychnine and several fed to her horse. "It was our living, and now he's dead," she sobbed. Dr. D. C. Scott, who examined the biscuits and attempted to save the horse, said that enough strychnine had been employed to kill a dozen animals.

R. W. Tigh, the woman's husband, is a cripple, having fallen from a scaffolding while employed as a plasterer and sustaining fractures of both ankles and a broken right wrist. Her 13-year-old son, Watson, received a broken collar bone recently while playing foot ball. Meanwhile the little woman with the horse and wagon has struggled to keep the household going by hauling wood and coal. With the horse dead and her family unable to work Mrs. Tigh says she can't see how they will get through the winter.

Jailed for Bigamy, George Harris Runs Into More Trouble

George E. Harris, who was bound over to the district court, several days ago on a charge of bigamy after being brought back from Tulsa, Okl., on complaint of alleged wife No. 2, is made defendant in a complaint filed by County Attorney Magney charging him with passing a check for $15 on the National State bank when he had no funds to meet it. The check was drawn on the Omaha National bank.

Cured Boy of Croup.

Nothing frightens a mother more than the loud, hoarse cough of croup. The labored breathing, strangling, choking and gasping for breath call for instant action. Mrs. T. Neumann, East Clark, Wis., says "Epirol's Honey and Tar" cured my boy of a serious attack of croup after other remedies had failed. I recommended it to every one, as we know from our own experience that it is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. It clears air passages, soothes and heals. Suffs to Get the Election Returns at Dinner Tuesday

Omaha suffragists will meet at dinner at the Young Women's Christian association this evening at 6:30 o'clock, complimentary to Mrs. McClure of Kansas City, Mo., a prominent suffragist in her state. Mrs. McClure is active in women's club affairs. The women will receive returns from the three big states in the east which vote on suffrage today. Miss Joy Higgins will give a monologue. Mrs. H. C. Sumner will receive reservations for the dinner until 9 o'clock this morning.

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN OMAHA BEGIN TO PICK UP

During October building operations in Omaha were $22,325, as against $157,575 for the corresponding month of last year. The total for this year to date is $4,982,194; for first ten months of last year, $4,890,238.

GRAIN STOCKS IN OMAHA FALL OFF

Over Two Million Less Bushels Stored in Local Elevators Than at This Time Year Ago.

WHEAT IS MOVED QUICKLY

While Omaha grain receipts are fairly heavy and quite up to this time a year ago, stocks in storage continue to decrease. The decrease is attributed to two causes. One is that wheat received is sent out about as fast as it comes in, and the other cause is that new oats have not commenced to appear on the market in large quantities. Grain in storage at the beginning of this week and on the corresponding date of last year, in bushels:

Wheat	520,000	1,000,000
Corn	45,000	45,000
Oats	42,000	2,515,000
Rye	2,000	34,000
Barley	12,000	49,000
Total	1,119,000	3,449,000

The decrease is 2,330,000 bushels. Wheat receipts for the day were 176 carloads, most of which was sold before the close of the session and without breaking the market. The price held up reasonably firm and was about the same as last Saturday, 50 to 55 cents per bushel.

Corn receipts were 63 cars and prices were 2 cents down, the bulk of the sales being made at 58 to 60 cents, with off grades dropping a cent or so below these figures.

Oats were in good demand and 1/4 of a cent higher, selling at 25 1/2 to 25 3/4 cents. Receipts were seventy-three carloads.
