MRS. CARMAN TRIED ON MURDER CHARGE

Wife Accused of Slaying Woman Patient of Dr. Carman Watches Selection of Jurors.

APPEARS IN STYLISH DRESS

Faleomon Asked Whether Installation of Telephone Device in Husband's Office Would Prejudice Them Against Her.

MINNEOLA, Ia., Oct. 19.—Florence Conklin Carman of Potosi was placed on trial today for murder. She was charged with slaying Mrs. Louise Bailey of Hampton on the night of June 10, last, while Mrs. Bailey was in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, the defendant's husband, whether she had gone for medical advice.

The case progressed swiftly and smoothly. As soon five men were in the jury box. The 12 talesmen, it was believed, would be more than adequate for the jury. A throng of men and women strolled the court house in a futile effort to obtain seats in the tiny court room. Few were admitted.

Questions to the Jurors. Besides the customary questions the talesmen were asked whether they would consider the testimony of a negro as they would that of a white person—Celia Coleman, the Carman's maid at the time of the murder, and now one of the state's star witnesses, being a negro—and whether the fact that the defendant was a woman of social position and wealth would influence them.

They were asked also whether testimony to the effect that Mrs. Carman installed a telephone device in her husband's office would prejudice them.

Mrs. Carman appeared to be helplessly, but became increasingly nervous as the proceedings progressed. She whispered often to her husband and cooed during the selection of the jury. William Bailey, whose wife was the victim, sat within ten feet of her, but apparently she did not see him.

Mrs. Carman was taken to the judge's chambers in the rear of the court room, through a subterranean passage. She was dressed in a blue tailor made suit. From beneath a stylish Parisian hat with a white feather peeped stray locks of blonde hair, marcelled with painstaking care. She looked as if she might have stepped into the court room from a stroll on Fifth avenue.

Fourth Attempt on Italian Consul's Life

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The police today were investigating a destructive explosion which occurred yesterday in a basement of a Fifth avenue apartment house in which Giacomo Fara Farsi, consul general in New York, has an apartment. William Walters, engineer of the house, was blinded and not expected to live. Inspector Egan of the bureau of combustibles, said the damage had been caused by some high explosive.

Consul Farsi was out of town and his apartment on the third floor was not damaged. It was recalled that the consul's life had been endangered three times this year, the last occurring on September 15, when he was struck down by a blackjack as he was leaving the subway.

CALLS IT A DOMESTIC QUESTION

Repeated Assurances that Germany Would Be Sent Home Thrown Aside and Government Shelves Whole Matter.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 19.—Via London.—According to a telegram received here from Berlin the Turkish government has requested the Ecumenical Patriarch, the head of the Greek Orthodox church, to leave Constantinople.

BULLETIN

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The correspondent of the Central News at Rome says that a telegram has been received from Bucharest, Roumania, which declares that a German train composed of 150 trucks laden with munitions and other war material for Turkey has been stopped by the Roumanian authorities on the railroad between Bucharest and Giurgiuvo on the Danube. The German government protested, but the train was not allowed to proceed.

BULLETIN

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 19.—(Via London.)—The Porte has declined to discharge the German crews of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau, which have been in Turkish waters since early in the hostilities and which are said to have been sold by Germany to the Turkish government.

This reply was given in answer to the British representations at J. regarding the continued presence of Germans on board these two vessels.

The government has now shelved the matter, declaring it to be a domestic question, although it had previously repeated assurances that these Germans would be repatriated.

The Greek Orthodox church is the dominant form of Christianity throughout the Russian empire, in the kingdom of Greece, in European Turkey among both Slavs and Greeks, in parts of Austria and Hungary, and in Roumania, Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro. The highest officers of the church are the four patriarchs of Constantinople, Alexandria, Antioch and Jerusalem, but the most important of these rulers is the patriarch of Constantinople, Germanos V, known also as the Ecumenical patriarch. He is the most exalted ecclesiastic of the eastern churches and his influence reached far outside.

ROADS MAKE PLEA FOR RATE RAISE

credit of the line. A recent note issued by the Baltimore & Ohio was marked at par, bearing 4 1/2 per cent interest and a commission of 1/2 of 1 per cent was paid, making the total cost to the company 5 per cent. This issue must be met in June next year. Mr. Willard said, and the present outlook was that money could not be obtained then at less than 7 or 8 per cent. Already, he said, other concerns have been forced to pay other rates than 5 per cent.

Mr. Brandeis took exception to the statement of the Baltimore & Ohio surplus. He intimated that $22,000,000 of the $22,000,000 was represented in the line's investment in securities of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad now in the hands of a receiver.

Willard Admits This

Mr. Willard admitted this, but declared the purchase of that road was not at issue in the present hearing.

"Whatever our indebtedness," he said, "they are due to the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton."

"Yet you have $25,000,000 in notes to pay next year," said Mr. Brandeis, "and you have advanced $22,000,000 to the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton."

Reverting to the possibility that interest rates would be greatly advanced when these notes fell due, Mr. Brandeis asked:

"If it be true that you may have to pay 7 or 8 per cent, isn't that that which should be taken by the stockholders as a reduction of dividends rather than be met by an advance in rates? You defend here today a reduction of practically every railroad expense except dividends."

"Nothing we do in the way of decreasing expenses of maintenance and equipment is permitted to encroach on safety of operation," Mr. Willard replied.

Mr. Brandeis declared the statement of the railroads had disclosed so far nothing originated since the commission's recent ruling, rejecting the eastern lines' previous plea for a 5 per cent advance in rates. In reopening the case, the commission specifically limited it to matters arising since that time. Mr. Brandeis said that decision had forecast a falling off in revenue of $75,000,000 for the period embraced, and the company's statement of $76,000,000 shrinkage only served to confirm that estimate.

"The commission also forecast improvement in business conditions," said Mr. Willard, "whereas there actually has been retrogression."

Expenditures Reduced. The expenditures on maintenance of way and equipment, Mr. Willard said, had been greatly reduced because of the field outlook. He added that thousands of cars in bad order were being held by his line without repairs because they could not now afford it, although the demand for the cars had decreased.

The general manager has received instructions not to expend more than 1 per cent of the gross earnings for maintenance," he added.

In response to further questions by Mr. Brandeis, Mr. Willard said the railroads had followed the suggestions of the commission in making some increases in passenger rates, both on mileage books and straight fares.

What Increases Would Amount To. To the Baltimore & Ohio he thought it likely the increase would aggregate in time $10,000,000 annually on the mileage books, but it was impossible to say how much might be realized from advances on other lines.

The roads had also followed the suggestion of the commission as to the elimination of certain free services, but it probably would take many months fairly to work them out.

Germany Consents to Admission of Food for Destitute Belgians

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The German government has consented to the admission of food supplies for destitute Belgians. The British ambassador here and American Ambassador Fage in London have been notified by the State department.

The State department had been urging this action by the German government for nearly a week and had addressed two separate inquiries on the subject to the foreign office through Ambassador Gerard at Berlin.

It is known that the German military officials in Brussels, fully aware from personal observation of the necessities of the local population were quite willing to have food supplies brought in from abroad. The question presented—that of bringing in supplies from a belligerent country (the relief committee had accumulated them in London), is believed to have been without any precedent, and it is thought here that the German officials felt it incumbent on them to consider the application very carefully because of the possible far-reaching effect of an affirmative decision.

As understood at the State department, the American relief committee, of which Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium is at the head, has gathered up about 1,500 tons of food supplies in London ready for shipment to Belgium. By the arrangement effected with the German foreign office, these supplies may enter Belgium, provided they are consigned to Minister Whitlock.

The German embassy today announced the receipt of the following wireless from Berlin:

"Official headquarters report on October 18 that the western theater of war has quieted yesterday, with the situation not changed. In the eastern theater German forces are advancing near Lyeck and fighting is going on near and south of Warsaw."

men have withdrawn from this town, but this is not confirmed, nor is the report that they evacuated Courtrai, nearly thirty miles northwest. It seems plain, however, that the menace here grew marked and that the German army operating along the coast of Flanders found itself in peril of being cut off from the main body.

All reports seem to agree that the city of Ostend is practically clear of Germans, who apparently are reforming to the south with reinforcements and the siege guns used to batter the Belgian forts, and that they now propose to hammer on toward Dunkirk and Calais. One report says they are beyond Furnes, less than ten miles from Dunkirk.

Further south in France reinforcements from Brussels are said to have been brought up before Lille, which the Germans are reported as bombarding in a desperate attempt to retake the place.

Allies Continue Attack. PARIS, Oct. 19.—An uninterrupted offensive movement by the allies at certain points in northern France was predicted here today as the battle was resumed. The retaking of Arrerontjeux, on the River Lys, on the Belgian frontier, and the occupation, ten miles west of Lille, of the right line leading toward Douai via Givency and Fromelles, was considered as constituting an excellent advance guard position by reason of its numerous places of support. This, with the progress in several sections, notably Arras, gave the allies hope of a continuance of their advance.

Allies' Position Better. Lieutenant Colonel Rousset, the military critic, in reviewing the situation, refuses to concur in the statement made that the battle of the Aisne has been definitely won by the allies.

"One never knows what will happen," he says, "and while the enemy will not take the return route, a revival of its activity can be produced in another vicinity, especially if the Germans see that their maneuver in the north is endangered. But it is certain that on the horizontal line, going from the Oise to the Meuse, the allies have nothing to fear, as every effort of the Germans from this side would certainly be stopped."

"As to the new battle, what of Flanders, it is clearly offensive on the side of the allies. The circumstances which inspired us are that it will develop on ground more favorable for attack than for defense and that it is unulating land, widely spaced, where troops can easily defile for aggressive movements."

The sociologists of France have declared as inopportune and premature the suggestion made that their comrades in the United States hold an international peace congress.

The public was greatly pleased that Sunday passed without a visit from German aeroplanes and today it had much praise for the activity and vigilance of the aviation guard.

Pistol Shots Break Up Social Card Party

MITCHELL, S. D., Oct. 19.—John Mitchell, former city policeman, was shot in the shoulder and his wife was shot in the right jaw as a result of a fusillade of six shots fired upon them while playing cards at the home of a friend, Mrs. Jennie Heuserman, late last night. Seven persons were in the room when the shots were fired. Charles Heuserman, husband of the woman who was entertaining the Mitchells, has been arrested. His wife had started suit for a divorce.

French Cavalry Takes Offensive and Performs Gallant Feat of Arms—Allies Arrive at Calais First.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A correspondent of the Times in France telegraphed Sunday and declared that any plans the German general, Von Kluck, may have had for sweeping down on Calais has failed because, he says, the allied forces arrived there first.

"When last Thursday week the Germans put out a feeler toward Hazebrouck, from which a raid on Calais would have been easy," the correspondent continues, "the French cavalry assumed the offensive and performed a very gallant feat of arms. The Prussian held the right bank of the River Lys in force and searchlights and mitrailleurs were trained on the two forts at Merville and Estaires."

"The French cavalry commander, under cover of night collected his men near Aire on the left bank of the river without being detected. Here the current is swift and the water deep and the Germans had regarded the river as unfordable. A French trooper, who is an expert swimmer, stripped and swam across the stream bearing a light line. When he reached the opposite bank he hauled a heavy rope across and made it fast and other men and horses began to cross. When dawn broke 2,000 French dragons were on the right bank of the river. The Uhlans saw themselves outnumbered and outflanked and retired toward Arrerontjeux."

Allen was caught in the quicksand while digging a well near his home. Last night a second hole was dug about fifty feet from the well and the rescuers began to construct a ditch, thirty feet wide, from the hole to the well, boarding the walls as fast as they could. In this manner it was hoped to reach Allen before he succumbed.

Rescuers Attempt to Reach Man Buried in Quicksand in Well

WARE, Mass., Oct. 18.—Fifty men with picks and shovels worked hard today in an effort to rescue Maurice Allen, who since Saturday has been held fast in a quicksand twenty-five feet below the surface of the earth. Allen was supplied with air through a diver's helmet, while food and stimulants were administered through a tube.

Taft Tells Lawyers Reform Divorce Law

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Reform in marriage and divorce laws through uniform state legislation was urged today by former President Taft today in a brief address before the commission on uniform state laws. The former president condemned the "looseness with which the marriage tie is looked on in many states."

"Taft placed his opinion on record as flatly opposed to 'tinkering' with the federal constitution under present conditions. "I am not in favor of any amendments to the constitution," he said emphatically. "I am not in favor of tinkering with that governmental instrument at a time when there are so many cranks and so many movements looking toward its total abolition."

Sage Tea Keeps Your Hair Dark

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring back color, thickness and luster—Everybody is using it again.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair, besides, no one can possibly tell, at a glance, so naturally and evenly. You mistaken a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

Sermon at Funeral of Hamilton Held Amid Din of Strife

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A letter received in London today from an officer friend of Major General Hubert Hamilton, whose body has been brought to England, tells how the English general met his end on the French battle field.

"He was standing with a group in a covered place," the officer writes, "when a shrapnell shell burst 300 yards away. A bullet struck General Hamilton's temple and he was killed on the spot. No other member of the group was scratched."

"It was a fine death, but I know how the general would have felt to be taken before his work was done."

The funeral service, the officer adds, was held while shells were bursting all around. The din was so great that the chaplain's voice was drowned.
