BASE BALL MEETING EPOCHAL

So Should Be Omaha Gathering, Says O'Neill.

MIDDLE FOR MAJORS TO UNMIX

Majors Must Come to Minors' Relief or Frenzied Finance Will Complicate Its Work of Destruction.

The annual meeting of the National Association of Base Ball Leagues in Omaha, November 10-12, should be epochal in the history of the game, as President Norris L. O'Neill of the Western league says it.

"It is up to the big fellows," says "Tip," speaking of the wrongs and remedies of present conditions. "Another year of bad luck will surely follow unless the majors lend a hand. They have their chance to make good when the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues convenes at Omaha, November 10, 11 and 12. A joint session of the national commission composed of Garry Herrmann, Ben Johnson and John E. Tener, and the national board of arbitration should be productive of great results, inasmuch as the minors then might be enlightened as to what mode of procedure should follow in their future battles with the Federals.

"Heretofore the minors have met only to labor under a handicap in that they have been chary about taking the initiative in any matter, always fearing they might not get the support of the national commission. All through the minors there has been a crying need for assistance from the big fellows, and the time is ripe for drastic action."

How Western Has Suffered. President O'Neill goes on to show how the Western league, together with other minors, has got the worst of the raiding done by the Federals; how the major managers have for years promised much and done nothing to certify the minors against such encroachments. For it all, he blames "frenzied finance." Then he offers some interesting suggestions. For example:

Outright salaries should be abolished. Instead of a monthly limit of $2,000 the majors should make it $1,500.

No Class A team should carry more than fourteen players. The best winning bench managers, highly paid scorers and other supernumeraries should go. Every team should have a playing manager.

Expenses must be made more nearly to conform to gate receipts. O'Neill says while Wichita and Topeka lost heavily in 1914 the other Western league teams made a little, but on a reduced scale.

Big things must be done at the Omaha meeting to help save the day.

EXISTENCE UP TO BIG MAGS

Owners of Oshkosh Vase to Continue If It Is Shown at Omaha Meeting that Minors Will Be Treated Properly.

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 20.—While the attendance at this season of the Wisconsin-Illinois league was very poor, it was decided that this was an off year and considerable optimism was expressed for next year at a meeting of the club magnates here today.

It was voted to continue the league, provided the meeting of the major leagues at Omaha next November indicated that the minor leagues would receive proper treatment. President Weeks and Vice President Moll will attend the Omaha meeting.

Disturber IV Victor in Motorboat Race

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Disturber IV, owned by James A. Pugh of Chicago, today won the first of a series of motorboat races for the American championship. Black Demon III, owned by Johnson brothers of Terre Haute, Ind., was second and Hillman, the third boat in the race, suffered engine trouble, which forced its owner, W. T. Warren, to withdraw it.

The race was run over a thirty-mile course in Lake Michigan, just off the Chicago harbor. The boat winning the first three races will be declared the champion and the event was so closely contested by the Disturber and the Black Demon that it seemed likely the whole series of five races will be necessary to decide. The time was 31:1.

The second race will be held tomorrow.

Plan for Peace in Base Ball World

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—A tentative plan for peace in the base ball war between organized base ball and the Federal league has been reached, according to a statement made today by Charles Weighman, head of the local Federal league club.

Weighman would not make public the plan at this time, but announced it had been settled in a long distance telephone conversation last night between himself and August Hermann, chairman of the National Base Ball commission. The plan was discussed at a meeting here today of Federal league officials and will be taken up Friday and Saturday at the annual meetings of the independent club owners in New York.

IOWA CHANGING LINE FOR MINNESOTA GAME

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The Iowa backfield is to be changed considerably for next Saturday's game with Minnesota on Iowa field. Following the experience of the Chicago game, when the heavy backs plowed through for good gains while the lighter and faster men were unable to budge the big Chicago forwards, Hawley will send Garretson into the game at fullback and Kerwick to today's final practice with Gross at quarter and Parsons at right half. The combination lacks the speed of the other, but has drive and weight.

Iowa will go into the game with the Gophers with the line-up unchanged in other respects. Barron will not be able to play for two or three weeks, but Jameson played a strong game at his tackle on Saturday and no worry is felt on that score.

The only scrimmage of the week will be held tomorrow afternoon, when the freshmen will use Minnesota plays shown them by Assistant Coach Kent.

HOEFFEL SEES AGGIES PLAY

Assistant Nebraska Coach Declares M. A. C. Better Than Michigan.

JULIAN GREATEST FULLBACK

Last Year's All-American Chosen Declared by Hoeffel Still to Be Best Man in Country at His Position.

LINCOLN, Oct. 20.—(Special Telegram.)—"Nebraskans are going to see a real foot ball game," said Assistant Coach Joe Hoeffel, when he returned this morning after witnessing the Michigan Aggie-Michigan contest last Saturday. "Minnesota of last season wasn't in it with the Aggies."

The Aggies virtually played rings around Michigan, according to Hoeffel, although the pupils of Hurry-Up Yost were on the long end of a 3 to 9 score. "It was a lucky drop kick that won for Michigan," Hoeffel said. "In team strength Yost's team did not measure up to the Aggies."

Wonderful Backfield.

"The Aggies have the most wonderful backfield ever gathered together in the west," declared Hoeffel. "Time after time they would carry the ball fifty and sixty yards at a clip on consistent gains of from six to eight yards. They went through that Michigan line like it was so much paper. In Hennings and B. Miller the Aggies have the finest pair of ends I have ever seen on a team. Both are wonderful defensive players and Miller, especially, is a star in going down the field on punts. He calls the man in his tracks every time. Miller is also a star at handling the forward pass."

"The team is one of the most formidable I have ever seen," said Hoeffel. "It is remarkably well balanced and in

Ames Varsity Team Makes Poor Showing

AMES, Ia., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The Cyclones have lost on their open date which was Saturday and from now on it is scrimmage until the season closes down in Drake stadium, November 21. The coaching crew opened up drill yesterday for the game with Missouri on the Tigers' home field at Columbia next Saturday. The starter for the Tiger battle was strenuous for the first string, with the mentors driving it against the freshmen and bawling out every man in the lineup.

The coaches shoved the varsity harder than it ever has been shoved this season, and to top it off the varsity made the most miserable showing in scrimmage with the freshmen that it has chalked up against itself this year. The freshmen made the lineup that will undertake to curtail the Tiger's tall look like a bunch of candidates for a grade school team. They hammered the varsity front as if there were nothing more there than a sheet of air, puncturing the line for gains continually. Their backfield and line made a joke of the varsity defense and their defense could not be cut by the varsity attack. Varsity plays were smothered clear behind the line, and quarterback runs were short if they got away at all.

The coaches clearly were disappointed by the performance of their string and they just as clearly were not the sole and only factor of fault for the flat failure of the varsity yesterday. The varsity tried time and again to work the forward throw, but the ends and linemen just as often failed to make it creditable.
