The fourth fled down the track and was brought down with a bullet in his thigh. Just before noon a third robber was wounded at Hall's prairie. Standard Captured By French Soldiers

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) PARIS, Oct. 2.—Le Figaro publishes the following account of the capture of the battle flag of the Thirty-sixth regiment of Prussian infantry by three soldiers of the Two Hundred and Ninety-eighth regiment of French infantry, for which its own flag was decorated with the insignia of the Legion of Honor.

"On September 1," the article reads, "the Twenty-second and Twenty-third companies of the Two Hundred and Ninety-eighth regiment were deployed in skirmishing against a group of the enemy from 700 to 800 meters distant. When the distance diminished the Germans raised their hands and shouted: 'France, England, friends!'

"Our men, advancing without distrust, were fired upon point blank. Without allowing themselves to waver, they replied with a bayonet charge. A half-raised flag was observed, under which two Germans were lying. The soldier Guillemand transferred the bearer of the flag with his bayonet and kicked the hand which held the pole. Corporal Michalet threw himself upon the other man, permitting Guillemand and Sergeant Antoine to seize the flag."

Collect Tobacco for English Army Lads

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) LONDON, Oct. 2.—Messages from the front saying that tobacco is like gold dust to the soldier has so touched the sympathy of smokers that mail to the continent is now filled with cigarettes, pipes and plug cut. Societies are formed for the collection of tobacco in its various forms and boxes for such contributions are now prominent on hotel desks and club tables and other places frequented by smokers.

While all classes are helping Tommy Atkins to get his smoke, temperance societies are fervently urging him not to drink. These societies want men to volunteer to do what was made compulsory in the Russian army by the czar's anti-vodka decree. One well known Anglican bishop has asked the men to pledge themselves to refrain from drinking even beer or light wines, although they may know the water to be polluted. The bishop himself is not joining the expeditionary force.
