By MELLIFICIA. Saturday, October 23, 1914.

THIRD held now graces the house of Creighton William C. Creighton arrived Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Creighton. The christening was performed Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. John's Collegiate church, by the Rev. Father Francis Xavier McMenemy, president of the Creighton university.

The prettiest feature of the ceremony was the youthful god-parents who participated. Charming little Miss Emma Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Nash, and Master Charlie Allison, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Allison, acted as sponsors at the baptism.

Among those present at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Creighton and Mrs. and Mrs. W. J. Connell, grandparents of the new arrival; Mrs. F. A. Nash and Miss Ellen Creighton.

To Honor Visitors.

Examiner to Come to Omaha for Testimony in Lumber Rate Case

Almost a score of Omaha lumber men would have lost their chance to vote at the election November 4 if Manager E. J. McVann of the Commercial club's traffic bureau had not interceded in their behalf with the Interstate Commerce commission. They were to be witnesses in the important yellow pine lumber rate hearing before an examiner at Kansas City on election day. However, McVann took up the matter with the commission and secured an examiner to come to Omaha November 7 to take their testimony, so they will not have to go to Kansas City and lose their votes in the general election.

Mr. McVann has just returned from Washington, D. C., where he presented the final arguments before the Interstate Commerce commission in the important hardwood lumber cases which have been pending for a long time.

BOHEMIAN AND YIDDISH LIBRARIES ATTRACT MANY

Two hundred books in the Bohemian language have been presented to the public library board by S. A. Beranek. He took them out to his private library, to improve the collection of volumes in the new Bohemian branch library, just opened at sixteenth and William streets, in the Beranek drug store.

Over 150 new Yiddish books have also just been acquired by the public library and are now a part of the collection at the new Yiddish branch library, in the Economy drug store, Twenty-fourth and Hamilton streets. The Levy, proprietor of the store, is in charge of the Yiddish station, which was opened Saturday.

Miss Edith Tobitt, librarian, reports that both new branches are already being eagerly patronized by many citizens whose ignorance of English has heretofore prevented them from enjoying the privileges of the public library.

City Dads Run Into "Some" Real Estate Deal of Patterson's

How D. C. Patterson, real estate man, kept control of a strip of ground on Seventh street, from Dorcas to Hickory, was learned by a committee of city commissioners, who investigated Patterson's request to have the street narrowed from 100 to sixty feet. Patterson sold a lot to a man, who built a house on it, but retained two feet along the curb. This gave him power to sign for improvements, and so he signed for narrowing the street, which would have given him a twenty-foot strip, which he proposed to sell to the man with the house, the man told the committee. The city, when the street was opened, paid Patterson for this land. Admitting that the street should be narrowed, the commissioners refused to authorize such action because of Patterson's deal, which the home owner declared would be a hardship on him, because he either had to purchase the additional strip or else see Patterson build on it to his disadvantage.

T. F. Quinlan Takes Up His New Work at the Brandeis Stores

Thomas F. Quinlan has taken up his new work as assistant to George Brandeis in the management of the Brandeis interests in this city. Mr. Quinlan has his office next to that of George Brandeis on the third floor of the Brandeis main store. Monday morning he was meeting his old friends who had come to congratulate him on his advancement. During the last week Mr. Quinlan has been taking a vacation in the form of a hunting trip on the Platte at Clarke, where he bagged some stray geese who were down a little ahead of the regular season.

ELSASSER FAMILY TO HOLD REUNION SATURDAY

Saturday night at the German Home on South Thirteenth street will be held the annual reunion of the Elsassers family of Omaha. Of this family, including aunts and uncles, cousins and second cousins, there are about 200 persons residing in Omaha and Nebraska, with something like fifty more in Iowa and Wyoming. At the reunion this year an attendance of 100 is expected.

The Elsassers will begin to arrive about the middle of the week, and by Saturday it is expected that they will all be here. Saturday morning the first gathering of the reunion will be held. At the German Home there will be a big dinner during the afternoon, the affair closing with a dance at night.

POLICE TO ARREST LOUD AUTOMOBILE HORN BLOWERS

Police Commissioner A. C. Kugel will begin a strict enforcement of the ordinance prohibiting loud and unnecessary noises. Several persons have complained to the police department against the tooting of raucous automobile horns in the wee sma' hours and against the blowing of whistles at unseemly times. There is an ordinance controlling this nuisance and the police commissioner has instructed policemen to detect the offenders and file complaints.

JERRY McMAHON WEDS WEALTHY ILLINOIS WOMAN

Jerry C. McMahon of Morris, Ill., former resident of Omaha and a well known democrat in Nebraska, was married Wednesday in Chicago to Mrs. Inger Omsanson of Morris. The marriage followed a romantic engagement during which former plans for marriage once were thwarted by the bride's relatives. Mrs. McMahon is reputed to have a fortune of a quarter of a million dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. McMahon are at home to their friends at the bride's fine residence in Morris. Their plans may, however, be changed by the fact that Mr. McMahon is a candidate for a position in the Treasury department at Washington. He has been employed by the Chicago Telephone company.

WHY THE VOTE WOULD BE INJURIOUS TO WOMEN

By the Reverend Lyman Abbott, D.D.

(Extracts from Dr. Abbott's convincing argument)

"Fifty years ago I wrote an essay in favor of woman's suffrage. Happily for my reputation the magazine for which it was written declined it, and it remains in my pigeonholes to this day among my unpublished manuscripts....."

"It was my wife who led me to see the difference between influence and power; between counselling and commanding. She led me to see that voting is not a right, but a duty; not a privilege refused to woman, but a task from which she has been exempt in the past and from which an overwhelming majority of women wish to be exempt in the future. The question for the woman is not, Have I a Right to Share in the Privilege of Governing the State? but, Is It My Duty to Take Up the Task of Governing the State? The question for the man is not, Shall I Refuse to Woman An Equal Share in Political Privilege? but, Shall I Lay Upon Woman An Equal Share in the Burden Which My Fathers Bore Alone?..... Let us make no mistake. A ballot is not an expression of opinion; it is a command. They do not wish to enter into this conflict of wills. They do not wish to command the State. Shall they be required to do so? They are not volunteers. Shall they be drafted?"

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Over Fifty

The federal grand jury, after quietly folding its tent, left the federal building Saturday afternoon, leaving a string of indictments in its wake for action on the part of the marshal's office. Over fifty individuals received the demerit mark at the hands of the jury, while nineteen no bills were returned. Among those indicted who are safely in the clutches of the government officials are Lawrence Retchde, Ed Gibson, George Casey, Slim Wood, Susan Davis, Daniel Woodhull, Abraham Priest, Max Silber and Carl French, all charged with selling liquor to the Indians. E. Oakes, charged with using the mails to defraud Paul Meyen, stealing mail; Joe Wong, Dan Womack, Nora Ellis and Ernest Brown, accused of concealing opium; McArthur Walker, supposed to have committed an assault on the Indian reservation, and Dan Fourcloud and Joseph Leedom, charged with retailing liquor without paying their tax, are being detained for trial. Frank Harris and J. Harrison Davis, Jr., for a violation of the Mann act; J. C. McMillan, for using the mails to defraud; Charles Penn, obtaining a letter through deceit and fraud; Nick Levenski, forging a money order; Ernest Brown and Lawrence W. Beck, charged with sending nonmailable matter and sundry others who have not yet been apprehended by the officers.

LOWEST TEMPERATURE OF SEASON REACHED SUNDAY

The lowest temperature of the season was reached Sunday when the thermometer hovered for more than an hour at a fraction below 31 degrees.

Monday morning the mercury succeeded in descending as low as 28 degrees, but soon crept up to a more temperate level. Fair weather is apt to continue indefinitely as all indications at distant stations are such as to warrant no stormy weather for at least several days.

Suspended Fines of Police Court Total Eleven Thousand

Police Court Clerk Thomas O'Connor's report on the 34 suspended sentences in Judge C. E. Foster's court has been referred to the Board of Education by the city commission. The school district lost $11,000 by reason of these suspended fines.

BRYAN PROMISES TO HELP SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT PASS

Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan has telegraphed the state suffrage headquarters at Omaha that he will do all in his power to aid the suffrage amendment in Nebraska. Mr. Bryan has expressed himself several times as being in favor of the measure, and as a result local folk interested in suffrage are confident that his influence will do much toward helping through the desired measure.

TUESDAY---COMES THAT BIG SALE OF

Curtain Materials at 1/3 to 1/2

As you read this advertisement, you hear on all sides of the tremendous bargains offered in our sale of Lace Curtains Monday. Now for the sale of Curtain Materials—in which the bargains are even greater, because the mills were more anxious to clear out their stockrooms of all small lots of Curtain goods—which accumulate faster than lace curtains, of course—and there are so many of these small lots that it is hard for the mills to keep track of them.

All these lots are fresh, new goods, made within the last few months, and the values offered here Tuesday are so great that we expect a still larger crowd on Tuesday than we had on Monday, although our Third Floor was packed to its limit.
