WOULD TAKE IN FEDERALISTS

Justice of Central Association Will Ask Their Recognition.

LITTLE LEAGUES ORGANIZE

Class B, C and D Leagues to Get Together to Make Salary Limits Lower and Uniform in All Classes.

President M. E. Justice of the Central association is the first minor league president to officially announce his intention of advocating at the minor league convention in Omaha November 10, 11 and 12 that the Federal league be recognized by organized base ball.

It is generally conceded that several other leagues are inclined toward the same view and it is certain that the question, when brought up, will be given many an assenting vote.

Justice is one of the men who will pull for lower salary limits. Others who take the same view are O'Neill of the Western, Weeks of the Wisconsin-Illinois, Ternery of the Three-I and Murnane of the New England.

Weeks of the W-I is planning to organize the magnates of Class B, C and D leagues into a body for the purpose of making the salary limits in those classes lower and uniform.

O'Neill Supports Feds. O'Neill, in addition to supporting the lower salary limit, is supporting, in a manner, the Feds. O'Neill expresses the hope that the Feds invade the Western circuit and snap up all the high salaried players in the league.

Charles Ebbets and Son Coming to Magnates' Meeting

Charles Ebbets, himself, will be a prominent figure at the base ball magnates' convention and board of arbitration meetings, which are scheduled for Omaha next month. Ebbets has written that he will attend. Charles Ebbets, Jr., son of the owner of the Brooklyn Nationals, and himself owner of the Newark Eastons, will also be here for the convention.

Dow Preening His Men for York Game

In preparation of the York college game at York Saturday Coach Dow of the University of Omaha put his players through strenuous scrimmage Tuesday at Miller park against former alumni players. The team found no difficulty in making touchdowns, getting away with a number of trick plays that easily fooled the former stars.

Gonding May Be an Umpire in Western

Johnny Gonding, former manager of the Bourke club, may be one of the number of umpires employed for the Western league next year. President O'Neill is seriously considering the appointment of Gonding as he realizes that Johnny is one of the most popular of players on the Western circuit and his appointment would make a hit with the fans in every city.

Dahlman Speaks for Democrats Before Creighton Club Men

Mayor Jim Dahlman hit the high spots in old-fashioned stump oratory last night when he declared himself in favor of the recall, against the election of R. B. Howell for governor, painted Sheriff Melhans in the roughest of colors, and hurled verbal bouquets at President Wilson and democracy in general, before the Creighton Political club at Washington hall.

CONTRACTS TO SUPPLY ENGLAND MANY HORSES

EDGEMONT, S. D., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—David Gloskan, of Spearfish, who went to England a month ago to figure on a contract to supply the British army with 10,000 horses, writes that instead he has signed an agreement to furnish double that number.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. "I advise the 'Bee' when they inquired for the Spanish war to take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with them, and have received many thanks for the advice given."

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Electric Company Makes City New Street Lighting Proposition.

HENRY ARTKOTTER FOUND DEAD

Evidently Had Been Struck on the Head and Died from Results After Retiring for the Night.

A committee was appointed by the city council at their Monday afternoon session to take up the city lighting question and to thoroughly consider and report on a proposition for street lighting presented to the body by J. B. Zimman.

Monday night at midnight the Omaha Electric Light and Power company's contract expired, and in lieu of this fact Zimman's proposition was evidently made. As outlined the plan calls for the installation of forty-four electric standards, each equipped with high power lamps, on Twenty-fourth street from J to O.

The plan provides that the lights on the standards along this thoroughfare burn till midnight, when from that time on two lights will remain lighted till dawn. The setting up of each post as provided by Mr. Zimman will cost approximately $68.

Henry Artkotter Found Dead

Henry Artkotter, aged 53 years, was found dead in bed Monday morning in his room over Paul Moliner's saloon, Twenty-second and Jefferson streets. Several bruises about his eyes and scratches on each cheek were plainly visible.

The remains were taken in charge by Deputy Coroner Larkin and an inquest will be held either today or tomorrow. The dead man had been a widower for a number of years and had been employed by the street cleaning department of the city for several months.

Cattle Receipts Are Off. Cattle receipts fell off sharply as compared with a week ago yesterday, some 300 cars, about 4,800 head, being received, as compared to 1,675 head, the record breaker on last Monday.

Repeat It. They say Shakespeare never repeats. Well, he wasn't in the clothing line. We told you time and time again "It's not what you pay that counts; it's what you get for your money." And we repeat it, and it's the easiest thing in the world to prove.

BILLY SUNDAY LINGERS HERE

Evangelist Stops Over Between Trains to Arrange Schedule.

OPENS SESSION IN THE SPRING

Tabernacle Site is Known to Board, but Location is Not Yet Divulged—All Churches to Be Organized Closed.

Billy Sunday, the famous evangelist, who will conduct a revival campaign in this city next spring, lingered in Omaha a few moments between trains Monday afternoon and spoke before an assembly of ministers and laymen at the Young Men's Christian association with regard to management of the revival.

The time of the revival was the first question broached. "We must have a reasonable time of the year," he said. "In some parts of the country it is too hot in May and June for success, and if there is any apprehension that the weather will be inclement we must know it now, as bad weather seriously impairs property of the meetings."

Sunday was eventually assured that the weather in all probability would be acceptable and it was agreed he should come here as soon after May 1 as possible.

Suitable Location Necessary. "Next we must have a suitable location for the tabernacle," declared Sunday. "In case the location is not easily accessible we had better call off the affair right now." The committee declared it had selected a location, but refused.

PAUSDENA NEXT MEETING PLACE

CINCINNATI, Oct. 27.—Pausdena, Cal., was today selected as the 1915 meeting place of the annual convention of the Commercial Law League of America by the executive committee in session here. The date set was August 2.

ELEVATORS DON'T SELL WELL

Dispose of Less Realty Than Railroad Bonds.

FEDERAL REFEREE TRIES IT

All Offers of Line of Fourteen Made by United States Court Official in Des Moines Are Rejected.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 27.—(Special Telegram)—Grain elevators sell less readily than even railroad bonds, as evidenced by results tried today. Referee Whitaker of the federal court tried to sell a line of fourteen elevators which belonged to the bankrupt B. A. Lockwood Grain company but all offers were rejected.

The property was appraised at $175,000 but the bids aggregated less than $50,000. On an mill in this city worth $60,000, only $7,000 was offered.

CEMETERY CUSTODIAN SHOOTS A BURGLAR

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 27.—(Special Telegram)—John Ridgeway, custodian of Lore Hill cemetery shot and seriously injured one of two burglars who ransacked his house this morning.

Ridgeway's first shot caught one of the burglars as he attempted to make his escape from the house. A yell of pain brought his pal to the kitchen door from his position as guard. The burglar picked up his wounded comrade and half carried and half dragged him away. They got a small amount of money.
