

FINISHING BIG STADIUM

Princeton's Handsome Amphitheater Getting Finishing Touches.

SHAPE LIKE A HORSESHOE

New Athletic Field for the Tigers Similar to One at Harvard, with a Few Extra Features Incorporated.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 30.—Long before the Princeton football team enters its final stages of preparation for the Yale game on November 14, the new Palmer Stadium will be ready for the struggle. Not that the final touches on the handsome amphitheater will have been done, still the stands will be ready and the playing field prepared for the important contest.

The new stadium is without doubt the very last thing in an athletic field. Like the one at Cambridge, it is built in the shape of a big horseshoe with the south end open. Through this opening may be seen the woods and meadows that lie to the south of Princeton town. The buildings of the university lie to the west and on the east there is another picture of country beauty.

The stadium is nearer to the railway station than is the present athletic field. It will seat about 4,000 people against 20,000 spectators that were able to pack their way into the old wooden stands of the present athletic field. The seats in the stadium are so arranged that every spectator will have a splendid view of the playing field.

It is beautiful view. The field itself is a thing of beauty at the present moment. When the location of the stadium was chosen, the first thing done was to lay out a playing field.

The gridiron was so arranged that every yard is going to be in shadow on November 14. Turf was brought from neighboring lawns and before a single beam of the stadium was erected, a big emerald billiard board was waiting to be marked out for a college football game.

To have that visit Princeton will never again have to worry over New Jersey mud. It will take a flood similar to the one that visited Brother Noah to turn the big green billiard board into anything that resembles a quagmire. The drainage system is absolutely perfect and it is the result of years of experience on the part of men who have given all their time to the study of such matters.

To Have Iron Fence. Surrounding the stadium there is to be placed an iron fence. This is to protect it from vandalism. The present idea is to have the spectators, who arrive by automobile or carriage, enter the enclosure from the east side. On that side there is a parking place that will hold at least 5,000 automobiles. Those who arrive on foot will enter through the west gate.

Once inside the outside gates, the spectators may wander where they please. The runways to the seats land the people midway up the stands. They are not more than 10 yards in length and the angle of incline is very small. As the playing field is sunk below the surface of the ground, the spectators who use the runways land further up in the stands than is expected.

Like the stadium at Harvard, there is a promenade around the walls of the stadium. Here are going to be placed the stands for the press. No one else will be allowed to sit on the promenade as it is believed that the spectators will want to walk around the walls between the second and third periods of a football game. Beneath the stadium are retiring rooms for both men and women.

Contest at Lincoln Star Game in Valley

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30.—The Nebraska-Smoot football game at Lincoln, Neb., tomorrow occupies the place of greatest interest to followers of football in the Missouri valley. The Nebraskans have yet to taste defeat this year, and their showing in overwhelming the Michigan Aggies last Saturday made followers hopeful of victory. On the other hand, Ames has only the game with Minnesota in the lost column this season. A defeat would eliminate either team as a candidate for the valley championship.

The University of Kansas squad will clash with Oklahoma at Lawrence tomorrow, and Kansas coaches are pointing out that Kansas has yielded only two points to its opponents this season as evidence that the Lawrence men may be expected to defeat the Oklahomans.

Drake and Washington university will meet in St. Louis with prospects for victory looking brightest for the men from Des Moines, Ia. Washington suffered a defeat at the hands of Drury college last Saturday that somewhat discouraged its followers.

The Kansas State Agricultural college eleven will take on the University of Missouri team at Columbia. The Missouri squad is light this year and has not developed as rapidly as the coaches hoped.

BEATRICE, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Beatrice won a double victory yesterday. Beatrice High conquered the heavy Hastings eleven, 18 to 0, and the relative Beavers defeated Nebraska Military academy, 28 to 0.

With its goal line uncrossed, Beatrice meets Lincoln in two weeks for state championship honors. After struggling a scoreless first half the Queen City swept the field with three touchdowns. Bohner, Schultz, Day and Herman were Beatrice's notable gainers, while Whitehouse, Rife and Johnson starred for Hastings.

British Twelve-Inch Guns Work Havoc in Trenches of Germans

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The British embassy today made public the following official report of naval operations on the coast of Belgium, dated 4 a. m. today:

"The British naval flotilla continues to support the allied left since the morning of the 27th. The fire of the twelve-inch guns has been brought to bear upon the German positions and batteries. Reports received from shore testify to the effect and accuracy and to its sailing character. The flank thus was thoroughly maintained yesterday and the day before. The enemy brought up heavy guns and replied vigorously to the fire of Admiral Hood's ships. Vessels received only trifling structural damage.

"Today the opposition from the shore practically ceased. The preponderance of naval gunnery seems to be established. Casualties were very slight throughout, one shell exploding on the destroyer Falcon, killed one officer and eight men and wounded one officer and fifteen men. One killed and several wounded are reported from the Rinaldo. The enemy's submarines have been reported seeking opportunity to attack the bombardment ships, which are covered by British destroyers."

London Reports Daring Deeds of Indian Troopers

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail in Paris describes how the Gurkhas (native Indian troops) blew up a German ammunition park, thus causing some of the German coast batteries to move to the rear. He says:

"All the efforts of the allies' artillery against these batteries had been unavailing and the Germans were causing severe losses, when the air scouts located the ammunition stores seven miles behind the German lines.

"At night the Gurkha detachment embarked on gunboats, which proceeded to the mouth of the Yser and after a long, silent march, the Gurkhas reached the German ammunition stores, guarded by six sentries. Six silent figures moved to ward them, each carrying a long knife. Then a sound like the cracking of a frog was heard and the six sentries disappeared.

Shortly after the general staff of the allies saw a great flash of light on the horizon and heard a great explosion, followed by countless others, as the shells and shrapnel in their cases exploded in all directions. The Gurkhas returned safely to the gunboats."

BACKFIELD WORKS LIKE CLOCK

Four Touchdowns and Two Place Kicks Scored by Baptists, and Home Goal Never in Peril.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Grand Island college's backfield machine worked like a clock today and the team from Doane college at Crete went down by the decisive defeat of 33 to 0.

From the very start the Baptists waded through the Doane line, circled the ends and sniped the visitors as poor centerers for intercollegiate championship honors.

Four touchdowns and two place kicks were scored by the Baptists, while on the other hand the Grand Island goal was never in danger. Prominently Doane was forced to punt back out of danger only to have the ball brought back and sent over the line. Springer, Carlson, Lowry and Rose were the big ground gainers for Grand Island. Doane failed to make the required ten yards a dozen times in the whole game.

PERU OVERWHELMS COTNER

Home Team Humbles Visitors by Twenty-Seven to Seven.

CONTEST IS SPECTACULAR ONE

Ratston, After First Few Minutes of War, Receives Forward Pass and Runs Sixty-Five Yards for Touchdown.

PERU, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—A fit field before a large crowd with a perfect day Peru's football warriors humbled the Cotner university eleven this afternoon by a score of 27 to 7.

It was by far the most spectacular game seen on the local field this year. After the first few minutes of play Ratston received a forward pass and ran sixty-five yards for a touchdown. Captain Lowe hoisted the ball squarely between the posts. During the remainder of the quarter the ball was kept in Cotner's territory most of the time.

During the second quarter forward passes and an exchange of punts, with an occasional dash at line bucks, gave thrills to the onlookers, but ended with neither team scoring.

In the third quarter Peru kicked to Cotner. A pretty catch was made on the thirty-yard line, and Cotner's little quarterback ran through a ragged field for a touchdown. A kick netted the preachers another point, but that was their last. Peru secured another, but failed at goal in the final spurt. Peru had everything its own way, and by good work succeeded in putting the ball behind the line twice and getting two more points by Long's good kicking.

Germans May Abandon Some Parts of Belgium

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A Daily Telegraph correspondent sends a dispatch from the Belgian frontier that the Germans are making preparations to retreat from their present positions in Belgium. They are removing their wounded from Bruges to Brussels and are throwing up entrenchments all the way along the proposed line of retreat from Ostend.

"All that has been said regarding the severity of the fighting around Dixmude," continues the dispatch, "has been too mild. Dixmude itself is in ruins and not a single house is standing in the adjacent villages of Beers, Keyem, Essen and Vindries. All five places are practically a shambles, the streets, beset with German dead left behind in the retreat forced by the allies' artillery.

"Many German stragglers have been found in a condition of hysteria, shattered by the ordeal through which they had passed. A sign of demoralization in the German ranks is the number of deserters and stragglers seeking safety beyond the Dutch borders. The German authorities have sent out patrols to prevent these desertions."

Lincoln Highway Bridges and Markers to Be Made Uniform

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President Burghis of the American Institute of Architects has appointed a committee, composed of Elmer C. Jensen of Chicago, Wilbur T. Mills of Columbus and Benjamin Hibbell of Cleveland, that was announced here today, to act in an advisory capacity to the Lincoln Highway association, which plans to build a great national highway from coast to coast.

In purpose, it was declared, was to secure uniformly intelligent architectural treatment of all the bridges, markers, stations and monuments which are to define the course of the great thoroughfare.

Advocates Closing North Sea to All Maritime Traffic

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The newspapers continue to urge upon the admiralty the desirability of the entire closing of the North Sea in order to prevent the alleged action of the Germans in sending out mine layers in the guise of peaceful, neutral trading vessels. In this connection the Times says:

"We refer again to the disquieting discovery of mines on the main route between Liverpool and America. There is an increasing conviction that this danger will continue to grow and that the only remedy is the closing of the North Sea to neutral maritime traffic.

"The flags of neutrals have been persistently abused and we can take no risks with the fortunes of the empire and the race at stake."

Help the Stomach Digest Your Food

When the stomach fails to digest and distribute that which is eaten, the bowels become clogged with a mass of waste and refuse that ferments and generates poisons that are gradually forced into the blood, causing distress and often serious illness.

Most people naturally object to the drastic cathartic and purgative agents that shock the system. A mild, gentle laxative, positive in its effect and that will quickly relieve constipation is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. It does not grip or cramp, but acts easily and pleasantly and is therefore the most satisfactory remedy for children, women and elderly persons. For free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 631 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Labor and Capital Unite

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, says: "I personally most emphatically favor the principles of an automatic Compensation Act, first, in order to avoid law suits; second, in order to avoid expense; third, removal of anxiety and suspense; fourth, the securing of immediate pecuniary benefits for afflicted workmen's families during the period of stress and trouble when such funds are the most needed by the injured workman's family."

Nebraska Manufacturers' Association says: "Recognizing the unfairness of the present Employer's Liability Law and the necessity for a system which will award fixed and prompt payments for all injuries to employes, without litigation or deduction of attorney's fees or court expenses, and believing further that such a system will tend to reduce the number of accidents in our mills and factories, be it

RESOLVED, that this Association urges the voters of Nebraska to vote "YES" on the Workmen's Compensation Law at the General Election to be held November 3d.

Members of Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Commission say:

"While several provisions of the law finally enacted are not what they would be if we had written them, the underlying principle of compensation in place of litigation for industrial accidents is so sound and so far ahead of the present law, and in accord with the progressive thought of the time, that we believe it far better for the voters to approve the law, and thus put it into effect, relying on the legislature later to remedy or perfect such features as experience may show need improvement.

"It is notorious that this referendum was inspired and financed by certain so-called personal-injury lawyers, who rightly figured that the money they would spend would be more than made up to them out of their shares of damage verdicts obtained during the year and a half the law would be held in abeyance even if it were finally adopted.

"We fear the same agencies would find it profitable to take a referendum upon any future law enacted as a substitute, so that Nebraska could never adopt the compensation principle without an affirmative vote on referendum. What the people are to vote on, therefore, is not this particular compensation law, as against a better one, but this law as against no compensation law at all. On that issue, we freely advise the approval of the law."
