STATE OUT OF DANGER ZONE

State Veterinarian Does Not Believe Nebraska Cattle Affected.

INSPECTION RULES VERY STRICT

Official Declares Little Chance of Affected Cattle Being Sent Here—Regulations Are to Be Fully Enforced.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—State Veterinarian Kigin received this morning a letter from John J. Ferguson, inspector of the United States Live Stock association, notifying him that the foot and mouth disease was raging among cattle in Indiana and Michigan.

He did not think there was any chance that Nebraska would be hit by the disease under the present live stock inspections and rules for prevention of live stock being shipped into the state. Sixty-six herds have been slaughtered in the two states mentioned and eighty-eight more are to be slaughtered very soon.

Wheeler Points Out Provision of Law Upon Amendments

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Is the law being carried out this year regarding the manner and form in which constitutional amendments shall be placed upon the ballot? H. H. Wheeler, compiler of statutes for many years, says it is not, and calls attention to section 204, revised statutes of 1913, which reads:

On constitutional questions submitted to the voter there a "for" or "against" vote is required and where any political party has in state convention taken action as a party either for or against such question, the county clerk shall have the name of such political party printed directly after the words "for" or "against," as the case may be, so as to plainly indicate to the voter the stand taken by such party on such question as shown in schedule A.

In the instructions given to county clerks for the printing of the ballot the statutes read: "Whenever the secretary of state has duly certified to the county clerk questions to be submitted to the voters of the county the county clerk shall have printed above the names of all candidates and below the questions a straight party vote upon the regular ballots the question in vote upon as will enable the voter to vote upon the question so presented." The law says that the ballot shall be printed in the form shown in this act. The form plainly shows that where endorsements of a constitutional amendment have been made by any political party that endorsement is shown by party designation the same as that which follows a candidate.

Secretary of State Wait says that this plan has not been followed out since the primary law came into effect. Mr. Wheeler insists that whenever a law is enacted it is supposed to be carried out, and he knows of counties which are not doing it, and believes the whole state is neglecting this provision of the election law regarding the constitutional amendments.

Official Information Via Berlin Says Fighting in Northern France Favorable.

BULGARIA IS WITH TURKEY

Semi-Official Paper in Sofia Declares that Two Countries Are United in Any Stand that May Be Taken.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—(By Wireless.)—Information given out today for the press in official quarters is as follows: "The progress of the fighting on the front in the north of France is regarded here as highly favorable. The report given out yesterday, with its news that the French had been thrown back across the Aisne at a point near Soissons, and that the operations already had been extended to the west front of Verdun, is regarded as the most favorable issue for some time past. "Letters from the front reaching Berlin describe the fighting between Nieuport and Ypres as probably the fiercest of the whole war. The Germans forced their way southward by repeated night attacks. The toll of death was great on both sides. "The fighting in Poland has not yet recommenced, but in Galicia, according to special dispatches, events would appear to be approaching a decisive movement. A dispatch received here from Cracow says the Russians have been thrown back across the San river and ejected from Leczanski, whence the Austrians pursued them for a distance of four miles. "The exploits of the Turkish fleet, which bombarded Odessa and Sebastopol and destroyed two Russian warships, sixteen transports and several oil tanks, excited unbounded enthusiasm here. El Imparcial, a newspaper of Madrid, reports that there is a dangerous unrest in Algeria. The natives have refused to enter the military service and have killed French policemen. "Bulgaria and Turkey All Right. "L'Echo de Bucarest, a semi-official newspaper published in Sofia, declares that the relations between Bulgaria and Turkey are in excellent shape. Both countries remember the lessons of 1912 and 1913. The secretary of the King of Bulgaria has gone to Constantinople to confer with leading Turkish statesmen. "The press declares that the British statement of October 27, saying that the governments of the neutrals in the triple entente have resolved shortly to effect a settlement of the very strained relations between the Balkan states, proves that Turkey is not guilty for the outbreak of hostilities in the near east. "The German government has organized a civil administration in the French mining districts of Longwy and Briey, where there are ore pits valued at 25,000,000 francs ($40,000,000). "The Dagblad, published at Stockholm, Sweden, declares in a dispatch from Petrograd that the Russian sanitary service is lacking in hospital requisites, such as bandages for the dressing of wounds. Some of the Russian hospitals look like slaughter houses, this paper says. "The Bulgarian minister at Rome has declared in an interview that a real understanding exists between Bulgaria and Turkey. "The University of Bonn has conferred the honorary degree of doctor on Herr von Krupp and Herr Haverstein. The latter is president of the Imperial bank and the degree was given him on account of Germany's splendid financial preparations for the war. "Bitter quarrels have broken out at Darmstadt between English and French prisoners of war. As a result it became necessary to move the English, among whom is Colonel Grey, into another camp."

Between 6 and 7 Million Belgians Almost Without Homes or Country

BRUSSELS, Nov. 2.—(Via London.)—Between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 Belgians have little or nothing to call "home." They are people almost without a country. Foodstuffs, forage, horses, cattle and automobiles not commandeered by the Belgian army when the war broke out, have been seized by the Germans. Practically every acre is now swept of everything valuable. It is estimated that there are now 200,000 Belgians in England and 800,000 in Holland. The lowest estimate made here placed the number of Belgian homes destroyed, or so badly damaged as to be uninhabitable, at 1,000,000. Malles, Louvain, Liege, Namur, Charleroi, Mons, Dinant and a score of smaller places have been so shattered by the artillery fire of the opposing armies that less than half of the normal population are decently sheltered. A report from Limbourg says supplies for the bread line have been exhausted and the feeling can be resumed only when American food arrives. The seizure of cattle for the armies has left the country without beef, milk and cheese. The supply of grain ordinarily imported from the United States and Canada has been cut off. For several weeks Flanders was able to help the eastern portion, but now that the lowlands have become the scene of fighting, Bruges, Ghent, Antwerp and Ostend are suffering the same distress. At Liege, the Pittsburgh of Belgium, the steel industry has been brought to a standstill. At Antwerp, the New York of the Belgians, all shipping has stopped. Hundreds of big steamers lie idle at the docks along the Scheldt. Thousands of freight trucks are rusting beside the docks, while the horses are dead in Flemish battlefields. The drivers and freight handlers are in hospitals or with King Albert's army. Nieuport and Ostend, the latter suggesting Atlantic City to an American, are occupied by the Germans and the hotels are filled with German wounded. At Brussels, the deserted capital, industries are shut down. The stores have no food to sell and the public no money to buy if opportunity offered. Members of noble families have discharged their servants and joined the bread line. The fear is commonly expressed that the city with its famous buildings will be destroyed either by attack or by the Germans themselves, should they be compelled to retire. Everywhere one hears stories of buildings having been mined so they can be blown up in case the city cannot be held. Every Citizen's Duty. Judge English explained to the men summoned for jury service that such was a part of the duty of every citizen, and he told them not to ask to be excused unless it was necessary. He said all classes were represented in the list of 150 as drawn by chance from the big tin drum by himself, the county clerk and the clerk of the district court. It was explained that if the men best qualified to serve as jurors should be excused those remaining on the panel would not be a thorough representation of the citizen-ship. Some of the reasons assigned for the excuses were sickness, death in the family, a pending lawsuit, business duties, deafness and inability to speak English. After all excuses had been granted about 100 men out of the 150 remained on the panel. Some of these will prove ineligible to serve on account of having moved from the district.

JURORS UP BEFORE ENGLISH

Presiding Judge of District Court Examines the List Drawn.

MANY EXCUSES ARE OFFERED

Drawing Brings Out Number of Well-Known Citizens—Twenty-Nine Are Excused from Duty for Term.

The list of petit jurors drawn to serve for the third three weeks of the September term of district court was called before Presiding Judge James P. English yesterday morning. Many excuses were offered by men who had been drawn and did not want to serve. Among those excused for a few days were William Elcke of a country precinct, Paul Moore of 1311 Locust street and Kenneth H. Patterson of 45 North Forty-first street, who had been previously chosen by the election commissioner under the pure election law to serve on election boards Tuesday. The fact that these three and many other citizens of wide acquaintance and high standing were summoned to serve on the jury panel was noted by court attaches as indicating the character and dependability of the panel. Nineteen men summoned failed to appear or arrange to be excused when the roll was called. Three of them, William G. Rapp, Mike Seaton and N. H. Howard, had died since the jury list was compiled last January. The others are being looked up and are thought to have moved away from the district. Twenty-nine men were excused for the term, including Milton Darling, William Ehlers, Frank Keogh, Martin Kirk, B. J. Larkin, Kenneth H. Patterson, John W. Smith, Thomas F. Swift, George D. Tunnicliffe, Joel H. Wright, Jr., and other men who have qualifications recommended by the panel.

Allies Are Slowly Advancing Toward the City of Ostend

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The correspondent of the Times, in northern France, telegraphing under date of Sunday, sums up the situation on the battle front by stating that the allies are daily creeping toward Ostend, which is now hardly occupied at all in a military sense. The number of Germans holding it is so negligible, he says, that if the allies achieve a definite victory in the fight for the river, Ostend will fall unresistingly into their hands.
