Lobeck and Howard Speak to Jobless Men at South Omaha

"Go back to the farm," advised Congressman C. O. Lobeck to the 1,500 idle men who attended the Jerry Howard meeting yesterday morning at 7 o'clock on the west end of the Q street viaduct. The meeting was called by Howard in order to interest the congressman in the large number of idle men in South Omaha. Howard wanted Lobeck to take the question to Washington for solution. Lobeck seemed nonplussed and natied Howard what he would suggest on the matter. "I have no suggestions," said Jerry That is for you. All I know about the matter is that this large crowd of Jobess men are a menace to the men who have jobs here because when a man is hungry it is easy to get him to work for less than the man who is on the job now. Either that or the man now working must suffer a keen loss in

At the end of the viaduct meeting about 250 men followed Howard to the city ball, where he again addressed them. They wanted work and said so. Just then Mayor Hoctor hove in sight and the crowd demanded work. Hoctor said he had no work to give them.

MAGNATES WIRE FOR HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS

Another telegram, confirming a pre Mous message, has been received by Dick Kitchen of the Paxton hotel, reserving four rooms and a parler for August Herrmann and the other members of the National Base Ball commission. They will arrive Tuesday morning, and the whole commission will be in session here to help dispell the war clouds in organized base ball and effect an agreement that will restore peace and prosperity to the great national game.

And there you are. Some comfort for all kinds of people. The viewpoint of the individual counts for much. Circumstances and environment for still more.

And yet in politics as well as business, there are certain fundamentals, as Laurie J. Quinby wo. ld say, that are fixed and eternal as the everlasting hills. Constant dropping it is said will wear away stone, and pegging away at abuses finany removes them. In season and out of season THOMAS KILPATRICK & CO. have talked truthfulness and honesty in business-Better still they have always aimed to have their deeds measure up to their words. All this by way of preamble and as information for the strangers within our gates-the home folks know.

It's a Mighty Long Time Since We Gave You Any Sweet Talk

A short time-ago we were off on a trip. Starting in the Northwest we traveled from Duluth almost to the Canada line in the Northeastand we sampled confectionery everywhere-many times we longed for Cobb's-rarely did we find an equal and never a superior. So in talking to Mr. Cobb he said-Let's say something about candy for Saturday-so here goes.

Old fashioned Butter Scotch Patties, made | don't get you-well-you haven't a sweet with creamery butter, rich, pure and delicious, 25c lb. box instead of 40c.
