

Ladies! Darken Your Gray Hair

Look years younger! Use Grandmother's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know. The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time.

Acid Mouth—Loose Teeth—Corrected

Everyone should avoid exposing the teeth to extremes of temperature, says the London Chronicle. Hot and cold substances have a tendency to break the enamel, and when these cracks are exposed to dental microbes there is danger for the teeth, as infections occur in which the tiny little animal microbes bore their way through the enamel, gradually eating big holes into the large molars.

School Children of Omaha Exhibit Specimens of Their Handiwork

By ELIZABETH P. ALLAN. During the last few days it has been the source of much satisfaction to the school authorities and teaching force of Omaha to note the interest taken in the exhibition of elementary manual training now being held in the assembly room on the fifth floor of the city hall. While this work was placed for the benefit of the members of the Nebraska State Teachers' association primarily, Superintendent Graff believes that there are many of the school patrons who would enjoy the opportunity of seeing what is being accomplished in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of those schools where manual training has been established, and so he has decided to keep the work on display during this week.

The men were especially pleased with the fine finish in their bench work, and the women manual training teachers of Omaha (and all are women, by the way, except in the high school) noted with much satisfaction these men teachers with rule and notebook in hand taking measurements and designs of bench and carving problems. The hallograph was well worked out by Clifton Hill pupils, and this attracted the young visitors, who came in with parents and old friends.

Many of our own grade teachers expressed the surprise they felt over the results that the manual training departments have accomplished, but it must not be understood that these material results are the end and aim of the work. The respect it engenders for the hand worker and his craft, the strengthening of patience and power of observation, the relief from the restraint of the geometrically laid out school room with its hours of passive listening, all tend to develop the whole life of the pupil—his active nature and social powers as well as the passive nature and intellectual powers. He continues to learn from practical experience just as he learned his first lessons in a play world.

The work on display includes clay modeling from fifth, sixth and eighth grades; bench work from the sixth and seventh grades; carving from the fifth, seventh and eighth grades; sewing from the sixth and seventh grade girls. Both girls and boys have done the modeling and carving.

A Queenly Complexion in a Few Days' Time—Beauty Secrets

Valeska Suratt, Theatrical Star, Gives Some of the Secrets Which Made Her Famous for Her Self-Made Beauty.

By Miss Valeska Suratt. BEAUTY is more a matter of "skin" these days, than anything else. For this reason beauty is more easy to attain now than it has ever been before. Yet there are millions of women who are positively making it hard for themselves, and might say, too, that the thousand and one preparations sold for the purpose of beautifying the skin help to make it hard instead of easy for the women themselves. The trouble is that the ingredients are nearly all the same, and when you have tried one you have practically tried them all. Besides, a skin beautifying cream should be used INEZ P. T.—No matter how hard you scrub the scalp, what kind of soap you use, you will never be able to move dandruff. A teaspoonful of eggol in half a cup of hot water has a peculiar chemical action, in that it dissolves all fatty accumulations and dandruff scales. As a head-wash and shampoo it simply has no equal. Hair lotion is wonderfully rich and it leaves the hair easy to do up. Enough eggol for a few moments, much to your surprise, washes can be secured at any drug store at a moderate price.

WORTHY.—Constant hair-falling means early baldness. You can prevent falling hair, and absolutely prevent a very little, if any, value, against this condition. A mixture of one ounce of beta-quinol with a half pint of water and a half pint of alcohol, or a full pint of bay rum instead if desired, will when liberally used, stop your hair from falling. This gives intense nourishment to the hair roots, gives wonderful life and vigor to the hair, and makes it grow, and you will no longer find handfuls of hair coming out at every combing. Try it by all means. It makes the hair so economical and effective hair treatment known.

MISS I. M. T.—Steaming the face is never successful against blackheads. Basting does no good, splashing with water, or using any of the lotions, or by simply sprinkling a little norexin on a hot wet sponge and rubbing the blackheads with it, will not make them go. Blackheads have entirely vanished, even to the most minute ones. This is a formula worth remembering and using. It never fails.

DEBORAH G. S.—Dissolving away superfluous or wild hairs is the only way to remove them. You simply injure the skin by using the burning depilatory usually sold. By using the simple sulfo solution the hair is completely and thoroughly dissolved away, no mark or red spot is left, and no one can tell you have used anything for removing superfluous hair. No matter how stiff, or soft, how heavy or light the hair, or whether the skin is extremely sensitive or not, it removes the hair perfectly and in a few moments. Your druggist will supply you with the simple sulfo solution.

WILLING.—If anything can develop the bust this certainly should, as it has been very successful in many cases, though of course you know that development cannot always be assured. Add two ounces of rucetone and half a cup of sugar, to a half pint of cold water. Mix thoroughly and take two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bedtime. I would not advise the use of tablets, pills or mechanical instruments. The formula given above is perfectly safe.

SOOPY.—Instead of having your armpits hot and wringing wet from excessive perspiration, and having your garments faded and ruined in the bargain, you can stop it quickly and have the armpits as cool and dry as the back of your hand if you will simply use hydrolyzed tann. This also destroys all perspiration and odor, and is splendid for perspiring feet.—Advertisement.
