

Nebraska FAVORS CONVENTION PLAN Captain Dolan of Western Suggests Way to Modify System. PUBLIC TO ELECT DELEGATES

Believes Body Constituted in This Fashion Will Have Respect for People and Nominate Satisfactory Men.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The failure of the primary to solve the problem which it was expected to solve when the system was inaugurated in this state is deplored by one more than the father of the law, the man who believes he introduced the first bill in the United States for the adoption of the primary for the selection of public officials.

In 1890, Captain D. E. Dolan, now a merchant of western Nebraska, was a member of the Massachusetts legislature. For years Captain Dolan had studied the proposition of securing some better method for the selection of state candidates in the old Bay state than the caucus and state convention way.

Not Favored at First. "My bill was looked upon not very favorably when I introduced it, and it was such a novelty that it did not meet with very much consideration. However, I was not discouraged, and being elected to the next session, I again introduced the bill and had the satisfaction of seeing it pass the house, out that was as far as it got. In 1893 I tried it again, and this time it passed and became a law, and is still in force.

"The new law was satisfactory at first, but evils crept in and the new method soon produced the same evils which it was intended to cure. The party responsibility which governed nominations under the old system was superseded by irresponsibility caused by individuals who nominated themselves by personal solicitation and not party action. This system lowered, in many cases, the personnel of the candidates.

Suggests Two Remedies. "There are two principal remedies which have been proposed for the solution of the problem of the state, and these have been in the state four years. I have seen the workings of the primary, and as it is the same as in my old state, I think I am in a position to discuss the matter.

"The first proposition deals with the matter of expedition in voting and efficiency in management of the state. It is known as the ballot, and I believe a good thing. But as it will take a constitutional amendment before this proposition can be adopted, there must be something which can be arrived at quicker and something which our coming legislature can solve. I am in favor of the abolition of the present state-wide primary and a return to the old convention system.

Favors Convention. "The state convention is all right if the delegates come direct from the people. By the old caucus system this was not always the case. I am in favor of a law which will allow each political party, at the same time it selects its county candidates in the primary, to select its quota to a state convention.

"Neither of these propositions conflict with the other. Under the short ballot system, such officials as may be selected can be selected by the other system and there is no conflict. I am of the opinion that both will work in harmony.

"By selecting delegates to a state convention who will select the candidates there is a responsibility placed on these delegates and in that way we look for good judgment in their selections just as we look to our agents whom we may send out to perform any business mission. They come in contact with the candidates for nomination to the various offices. They have an opportunity to enquire about them from the other delegates and acting for their constituents they can make selections which will be a credit to the party they represent, and if elected, good officials."

Both Sides Claiming Senator in Nevada. RENO, Nev., Nov. 8.—With the republican state central committee claiming the election of Sam Platt, republican, over Francis G. Newlands by fifteen votes and the democratic state central committee claiming a lead for Newlands still was in doubt tonight. Unofficial returns from all but eight precincts in the state have been accounted for. The eight precincts contain about 150 registered voters. It will require the official count, which will be made Friday, to determine the result.

Nebraska FULLER IS REPUBLICAN NOW Declares Progressive Party Has Been Turned Down by Voters. IN LINE WITH OLD ORGANIZATION

Believes that Four Years of Democratic Experiments Will Satisfy People, Who Will Turn to Party of Achievement.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—The republican party in Nebraska can come back and regain its former place in epoch making, according to Lucian B. Fuller of Lincoln, former private secretary to Governor Chester H. Aldrich, and who as a result of the split in the party two years ago allied himself with the third party movement and was this fall a candidate for the legislature on the bull moose ticket in Lancaster county.

Mr. Fuller is convinced that the third party can never accomplish what it set out to do, and that through the republican party all the progressive legislation needed can be enacted, and from now on his efforts will be given to building up in this state a united party.

Expresses His Views. Mr. Fuller is convinced that there is nothing to be gained by a third party and this morning prepared the following statement: "The recent election has demonstrated the fact that the progressive party as a distinct organization does not appeal to the voters of this state. Having been largely recruited from the republican party the progressives evidently believe that the republican party is the most effective instrument by means of which they can accomplish the enactment into law of the things for which they stand. The late election has also demonstrated without any doubt that the majority of voters in this country believe firmly in the general economic and governmental policies for which the republican party stands. The republican party in Nebraska is largely progressive and the rank and file of that party stand for practically the same things, in the way of social reforms, demanded by the progressives.

No Use Keeping Up Fight. "There is no use urging the progressive to return to the republican party because they have already done so, and the leaders of the movement should recognize the fact that it is better to continue the fight for progressive principles within the republican party, for to do otherwise will lay them open to the charge of being simply political bushwackers and an aid to the democratic party rather than the sincere advocates of any reform.

"I hope that the republican party two years from now will nominate a republican candidate for governor who is not identified with any faction or clique, make a straight-from-the-shoulder republican campaign for republican principles, without any apologies and equivocations. If this is done there is no question about the result. We know from the past that four years of democratic experiments is a maximum dose for the people of this country, and history will repeat itself in the next election. Therefore, no good can come from further continuing the family row among republicans in Nebraska. The rank and file of the voters here want no more of it and it is up to the leaders to fall in line."

"But we are here to stay. They can put the guarantee up to $500 if they want to, but Wichita will still fight. We can't force the rest of this Western league. They will have to buy the franchise to do it, and we will get our price."

Would Deliver Ultimatum. Brees is in favor of the minors declaring themselves to be the big leagues. The Wichita owner has an idea he intends to spring before the convention. At the present time if a player is sent back to the minors by a big league club it is necessary for the A.A. leagues to waive on him before he can be sent to a Class A club, of which class the Western league is a member. As Brees puts it, a player passed by the double-A boys is not fast enough for this league. That ruling Brees wants eliminated, and he intends to spring the idea when the convention meets.

Brees, like all other minors, is in favor of settling the Federal league proposition. He wants peace some way, and it is up to him to make it. If the powers that be in organized ball refuse to entertain plans for peace and still continue to make the minors the goat, Brees declares he would like to see the minors desert organized base ball for the Federals.

Asks Only Decent Treatment. "I am for organized ball," said the Kansas magnate, "but I object to jeopardizing my business just for the arbitrary actions of the majors. If they can't protect us, we must protect ourselves. If we get decent treatment in organized ball I get for taking up the colors of the Federals."

In regard to transferring the Topkapi franchise, Brees favors Kansas City, Kan. He declares most strenuously that the big boys can't keep a Western league franchise out of Kansas City, Kan., no matter how hard they try. By playing in Kansas City, Kan., when the Kansas City, Mo., association is on the road, a club in the Kansas town would be a paying proposition, says Brees.

Special Train Today. A special train on the Rock Island from Chicago will bring a flock of magnates from the east and south into Omaha this morning. Most of the magnates will be in today. The meeting of the board of arbitration will be held this morning at the Paxton hotel at 11:30.

The convention will open Tuesday morning at the Paxton hotel. The magnates who are not interested in the meeting of the arbitration board will arrive on Tuesday morning.

PROHIBITION HIT BLOW AT A. F. L. CONVENTION PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—The brewers' workers affiliated with the American Federation of Labor won a victory today when the convention of the union label trades department of the federation went on record as being opposed to prohibition. It was the result of a resolution probably will be carried by the convention of the federation, which opens here next week.

Censor Won't Pass News Dispatch Because It Is Very Badly Written

(Correspondence of The Associated Press.) PARIS, Oct. 29.—Censors at the war office are being recruited from professors of languages at French universities. Force of habit is so strong with these improvised officials that it is sometimes hard for them to realize they are on sterner duty than correcting recitation text. All Bordeaux was amused when it was reported that a telegram transmitting a news dispatch from the battle front was stopped on the sole ground that it contained defects of style.

FIGHTING IS LESS VIOLENT French Report Struggle Between North Sea and Lys Slowing Up.

TELL OF SOME ADVANCES Allies Are Said to Have Made a Little Progress Near Valenciennes, Armentieres, Chavonne and Soupir.

PARIS, Nov. 8.—The Sunday afternoon French official war statement says: "Yesterday between the North Sea and the Lys the fighting was less violent. Some attacks, not general, of the enemy were repulsed in the direction of Dixmude and to the northeast of Ypres. On almost all of this front we in turn took the offensive and advanced, notably in the region to the north of Messines.

"In the neighborhood of Armentieres, the British troops progressed slightly. Between La Bassée and Arras the attacks of the enemy were repulsed. "From Arras to Solons nothing worthy of note took place.

French Advance at Solons. "Around Solons our forces made a marked advance. In the region of Valenciennes and equally on the right bank of the Aisne we strengthened our progress to the north of Chavonne and Soupir. A German attack on Craonne and Heurtoise was repulsed.

In the neighborhood of Verdun to the northeast and to the southeast of the place we are establishing the supporting positions recently gained. "A dense fog prevailed all day in the north as well as in Champagne and Lorraine, hampering the action of the artillery and the aviation corps.

Elsewhere along the line the usual attacks and counter attacks have been delivered with success first to one and then to the other side, but without making the material change in the situation. Things are moving slowly in the near east so far as is known here. The only news from there today concerns the bombardment of the ports of Zungulidak and Kuzulu, on the Asia Minor coast of Turkey, by a Russian fleet and the sinking of several Turkish transports.

It is said also that the Russians have occupied the entire region to the northeast of Erzerum in Asia Minor. Russia is said to be finding useful allies in the Armenians, who at last see a hope of being rid of Turkish rule.

There is no change in the political situation in the Balkans, none of the at present neutral states having made any move. It is said, however, that agitation has been renewed in Rumania for the participation of that country in the war on the side of the allies.

The fall of Tsing Tau naturally caused rejoicing here. It is believed that with the surrender of the German fortress the Anglo-Japanese fleet which took part in the capture of the old Bases, the Austrian cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth, five German merchant men and several prizes the Germans had taken. Of these vessels one destroyer ran ashore and was captured, and it is believed the Austrian cruiser was blown up. It is possible that the German ship met a similar fate.

Great Britain is not satisfied that all has been told of the Pacific naval battle and continues to hope that the German Leipzig and Dresden, which engaged the Glasgow and which have not been reported since the battle, have at least been damaged.

Lamar Pleads Not Guilty to Charge NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—David Lamar, indicted in 1913 on a charge of impersonating government officers with intent to defraud, pleaded not guilty today to each of the three indictments and was held in $20,000 bail. Lamar, who had been fighting replevin from the District of Columbia since his indictment, was arrested last night in an uptown hotel by agents of the Department of Justice. He spent the night in a police station cell.

Edward Lauterbach, indicted with Lamar, will surrender Monday. It is charged that Lamar telephoned New York financiers, urging them to help Lamar, who is a lawyer, and that in these telephone conversations he represented himself at various times as various members of congress.

Notes of West Point. WEST POINT, Neb., Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The regular fall term of district court of Cuming county will convene on Monday next. On Tuesday morning the jury will report for duty. At this term there are five criminal and forty-three civil matters for hearing. Among this number are some very important cases, both civil and criminal. Among the latter the case of the state against Joseph Vance. The annual conference of the church of the Later Day Saints is now in session at the Landholm farm home, east of this city. Three hundred delegates and visitors were present.

Rev. Peter Grobel, pastor of St. Anthony's church at Charles, in this county arrived last evening from Europe, where he has spent several months. He left West Point, June 4 and reached Germany a few days before the war broke out. He was compelled to remain there until September 27, when he obtained passage from Rotterdam. He says the Germans are confident of victory and the war has not caused much difference in business conditions.

Gustav Zimmerman and Miss Olive Swedhelm were married at Fremont on Tuesday. News has reached the city of the marriage at Brunswick, Neb., of Carl L. Uring and Miss Kate Wortman.

RUSSIAN ARMIES ESTABLISHED ON GERMAN BORDER

That they would do this with enormous Russian forces threatening their own territory, to military men here seems highly improbable unless the Germans are satisfied that a small force can prevent the Russians from entering Silesia and east Prussia.

Give Comparative Rest. In the west the same ding-dong fighting which has been going on for months continues. The Belgians, who hold the line along the coast, are being given a comparative rest after their three months of almost continuous fighting. The Germans still are concentrating around Ypres, where they are trying to hack their way through the Anglo-French troops, which bar their way to the coast.

Both sides claim to have made progress here, but without making the material change in the situation. Things are moving slowly in the near east so far as is known here. BOYS RUSHED TO FIGHT FOR KAISER

Trains Arriving in Belgium Enroute to Front Filled with Youths from 17 to 20.

TEUTONS BELIEVED RETIRING German Army Said to Be Evacuating Its Positions on Yser in Order to Open Strong Attack on Ypres.

ROOSSENDAAL (Via London), Nov. 8.—A Belgian who under cover of darkness managed to cross the frontier at an unguarded point and reach this city, declares that Antwerp and other Belgian towns are very lightly guarded. Every available German soldier, he says, apparently has been to the front. Brussels, Antwerp, Brussels and Louvain are being filled up with an ever-increasing number of wounded soldiers.

No civilian is allowed near the railway stations, but the age of most of the men who are transported in litters indicates that the majority of them are members of the older landsturm. On the other hand, trains arriving from Germany en route to the front are filled with boys from 17 to 20 years old, who having volunteered at the beginning of the war, are now sufficiently trained to enter the combat.

No correspondent, if known, is allowed who, because they were able to speak Flemish and behaved like citizens, frequently managed to reach villages on the front, is that the Germans are slowly, but surely retreating. They base their opinion on the fact that the German division staff on November 3 moved from Thieft to Ghent, thirty-three kilometers to the east and that the line from Ghent, Alost to Brussels was being heavily entrenched until November 4, when the engineers in charge were hastily called to the front to fill vacancies. It is clear, according to these correspondents, that the Germans have been concentrating large forces down from the south-eastern battle line upon the front near Nieupoort and Dixmude.

Yser Positions Evacuated. LONDON, Nov. 8.—Wiring from Amsterdam, the correspondent of Reuters Telegram company says that the German authorities at Brussels have placed a proclamation on the front of the town hall stating that the German army has evacuated its positions on the Yser in order to open a strong attack on Ypres. At Ghis, Roulers, Lichtervelde and Thourout (towns in West Flanders) as well as in other villages to the east of the fighting line, great movements of German troops can be observed. Exhausted soldiers are returning from the battlefields, while reinforcements of fresh men are advancing in the direction of Ypres and Dixmude.

"I'm a prohibitionist, local, state-wide, national, world-wide. I am a democrat and a better democrat because I am a prohibitionist. If I see a saloon business is being done, I see it as a business which is right then let us stop punishing it, but if it is wrong, let us cease temporizing and destroy it.

"Within the next ten years this land will be prohibition. We have been a little slow in getting started, but we will not stop until we have been victorious. The saloon business, the traffic in alcoholic liquors, is dangerous and I am opposed to it because it is the greatest of all wastes. It dulls the edge of human endeavor; it poisons the very springs of justice. It is the chief destroyer of the lalot box, the enemy of the home and when the home becomes weakened and is undermined, American liberty will fall. As long as the home remains intact, American civilization will live.

Duty of Government. "I am not one who believes we can squirt morals into a man, but I believe we can remove a temptation and make it harder to do wrong and easier to do right. It is the duty of this government to its citizens to do this. I have a narrow-minded on this subject. I have been on both sides of it and I have had as much experience as the next man, but it is my solemn conviction that the only way to achieve the end we seek is to secure national prohibition.

"I never saw a square circle, an honest thief, a straight crook nor a respectable saloon. The only respectable saloon is the one that has been closed.

This country from 1818 to 1852 passed through its golden age and during that time it did not derive a dollar of revenue from the liquor traffic. Do we need to degrade our men that we may make money? But there is another economic side to this. Business men are recognizing that the money spent for intoxicating liquors is diverted from the channels of legitimate trade."

Mr. Patterson said this country should cease to "accept blood money." He asserted the government was inconsistent in licensing saloons and then discharging its employees for drinking intoxicants and forbidding the use of strong drink in the navy. He declared that any man who drinks, drinks too much.

Before he changed his mind on the subject, Mr. Patterson said he drank and "humiliated himself," believing in "personal liberty" and the other "cants and hypocrites."

He concluded with a thrilling arraignment of the government's attitude toward moonshiners, whom he said, were too poor to pay the "blood" money that permitted the brewers to thrive.

Physical and Mental Effect. Dr. Bane spoke chiefly of the physical and mental effect of alcoholics. He too, asserted that the nation must be made all white and declared the proposed constitutional amendment, which must be ratified by thirty-six states, would be adopted within five years.

The policy of the National Anti-Saloon league was outlined by Dr. Bane in his call for subscriptions. A daily paper, the biggest prohibition publication in the world, will be launched in Washington the first week in December and it is the plan of the league to establish daily papers all over the country and carry the fight through to the finish.

Concluding Dr. Bane said: "New York City has as many saloons as thirty-seven states I could name. Chicago has as many saloons as can be found south of the Mason and Dixon line, but we are bottling up the saloons for the final slaughter."

—in its three forms—rolls, shingles and built-up form—is the best that money can buy, and its extensive use on factories, warehouses, skyscrapers, business blocks, farm buildings, army and navy stations, residences, barns, etc., proves it is the most popular roofing on the market today.

This popularity is the result of the excellent service Certain-teed Roofing gives on the roof and the reasonable price at which dealers sell it.

BUSINESS PROSPERITY. No Reason for Industrial Depression. Prosperity is a happy state. It does not come from high prices, employment of wage earners and a general confidence in the future.

Of late there seems to have been an unnecessary amount of business depression, due mostly to the lack of fairness of one class toward another. It is not fair to be overgenerous scattered through all the classes, but not in a majority of any of them.

In a country of our enormous natural resources we should have little to worry about. The United States, Alaska is nearly as large as Europe. Our coasts are indented with harbors and inlets, and we have by far, the finest and cheapest coast railroad transportation in the whole world, making communication cheap and easy. We have tremendous water power and every variety of climate and soil. Magnificent forest coverings and a variety of mineral wealth with our vast agricultural wealth we had the world in a great many things.

When corporations are renovated and their affairs brought to order and when business men begin to deal with each other on a basis of fairness and justice, when we have fair public policy in politics and in government; when business managers and employees treat each other on a basis of fairness and justice, when we have causes for apparent depression will disappear and real prosperity will return and stay with us.

Certain-teed Roll Roofing is guaranteed 5 years for 1-ply, 10 years for 2-ply and 15 years for 3-ply and the written guarantee is backed by the assets of our big mills.

In addition to above we also make a complete line of other roofing, building papers, etc. Ask your dealer. He will be glad to furnish further information about our goods and will quote you reasonable prices.
