Britons to Meet-Omaha citizens of British lineage will meet with the British Empire association next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Jacob's hall, 1716 Dodge street. John L. Kennedy will preside. This association has already remitted $1,000 to Belgian and British sufferers through the British embassy at Washington.

Good Puture for Colorado-R. S. Ruble, assistant general passenger agent of the Union Pacific at Denver, is in town for a day. He is enthusiastic over the future outlook for Colorado, asserting that the state has raised the best all around crop in its history, and that business is showing decided signs of improvement. While Colorado went dry, Mr Rubel asserts that the law does not become effective until January, 1916, and no one can forecast what may happen prior Wants Mitchcook to Speak-Now that Jerry Howard is elected to the legislature, he has not stopped circulating petitions. He circulated a petition and secured thirty-five names of what he called the executive committee of the poorly-paid and unemployed. The peti-- tion is addressed to Senator Hitchcock, asking him to speak at McCrann's hall at 2:30 Sunday afternoon in South Omaha on the "Industrial Unrest."

Soliciting of Funds For Newsboys' Home Is Not Authorized

Referring to a report in one of the Omaha papers to the effect that he was supporting the efforts of certain newsboys to raise money for a newsboys' home, Truant Officer John B. Carver has issued a flat denial. He says he has not endorsed the project, is not in favor of it as it is now being conducted by some of the boys and has nothing to do with it, Probation Officer Mogy Bernstein makes a similar statement. He says that there is a regular committee of newsboy leaders, consisting of Mike Barto, Tony Costanzo, Sam Zigman and himself, which has raised some money for a newsboys' home. That committee is not behind the soffciting, and warns business men that it is unauthorized and being done by irresponsible boys, some of whom are said to be only temporary residents

It is alleged that certain boys collected a little money from business men, supposedly for their proposed home, and then spent the money for a big "feed."

MINISTER DOES NOT CREDIT

SUNDAY WITH DRY VICTORY "I do not share the view of some that Rev. Mr. Sunday's meetings in Denver were largely instrumental in closing up the saloons of Colorado," said Rev. E. R. Currie, D. D., of Boulder, formerly pastor of Caivary Baptist church of Omaha. who stopped in the city returning from Chicago. "Mr. Sunday's meeting may have been a great success, but other conditions in Colorado had much more to do with making the state dry than any influence wielded by the evangelist. Of that there! is no question. In some of the mining towns, such as Trinidad, which went dry, people had a brief experience with pro-When the federal government interposed its efforts at effecting peace and order in the strike region, the saloons were closed. Business men in those places set up the common wail that this would ruin business. Time proved the contrary, however. Business was not ruined, but vastly benefited, so were the people. This is one thing that helped along prohibition. Another thing was the determination on the part of so many people to rebuke the shameful abuse of privilege in Denver and other places. Colorado is facing the future with a clear vision, not fearing the consequences of what it did on election day.

"The new law gives the liquor people one year in which to get rid of their business, which seems to us very fair and reasonable, At least, it is plenty long."

SUIT STARTED TO QUIET

POPPLETON ESTATE TITLE An unusual suit has just been started in district court seeking to quiet title to the old Poppleton homestead on North Sixteenth street, in spite of the fact that the property has been in the possession of the Poppleton family since 1879. The tract extends from Sixteenth to Eighteenth streets on the south side of Spruce street, is $27x545 feet square, and is said to be worth over $50,000.

Mrs. Caroline Poppleton, widow of the late Judge Andrew J. Poppleton, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Helen S. Poppleton, widow of the late William S. Poppleton, and her daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth E. Shannon and Mrs. Mary D. Learned, are plaintiffs in the suit, which is filed against the unknown heirs and devises of Samuel Mahon, deceased. Mahon owned the tract in the early days before the Poppletons bought it, and a slight cloud is believed to obstruct clear title to the tract.

An Extraordinary Sale Thursday of the Surplus Stocks of Wanted Winter Merchandise of All Kinds

Bought From St. Louis, Eastern and Local Manufacturers and Wholesalers at a Tremendous Price Reduction and Offered to You the Same Way

THE adverse weather conditions throughout the country naturally brought a slowup in the wholesale markets and manufacturers and wholesalers alike found themselves greatly ▲ overstocked. Our way of merchandising—keeping our stocks at a point that permits of taking advantage of every underprice opportunity when the merchandise is right—placed us in a position to buy freely. Practically every department of this big "Economy" Supply Center is represented, so you can look for a break in prices all along the line. The merchandise is all new and the prices are all of a most unusual nature.
