Peevish, Constipated Children Love "California Syrup of Figs"

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in just a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless fruit laxative; they love its delicious taste and it always makes them feel splendid.

before the Russian assault outside of Warsaw and he is being blamed for this reverse.

A dispatch received from Petrograd declares that the dissensions between General von Hindenburg, commander of the German forces in East Prussia, and General Dankl, the Austrian commander, are so acute that Austrian officers are refusing longer to co-operate with the German staff.

Vienna officially admits the withdrawal of the Austrians from western Galicia and the complete investment by the Russians of the Przemyel fortress, but up to yesterday the Austrian general staff was reporting continued success in the Austrian invasion of Serbia.

Russian army headquarters in the Caucasus report only minor actions, with the Russians still occupying the points in Armenia previously captured by them.

CARRANZA AND VILLA ARE AT WAR

First Chief Submits a New List of Conditions and They Are Rejected.

CONVENTION SEEMS DIVIDED

Some Generals Will Take Side of Carranza—First Important Clash Expected in Vicinity of Queretaro.

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—General Villa, at the head of a large column of troops, has begun marching south from Aguas Calientes to attack the Carranza forces under General Gonzalez at Queretaro. Official advices today say the Aguas Calientes convention ordered the movement.

General Blanco, who had announced his intention of remaining loyal to the convention, started for Mexico City to take command of his troops, but was arrested at Silao, by General Gonzalez, George C. Carothers, American consular agent, reported that he was accompanying Villa on his march south.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Uncertainty ruled again today in the Mexican situation. General Eulalio Gutierrez has taken the oath of office as provisional president at the Aguas Calientes convention, which declared General Carranza, hitherto first chief of the constitutionalists, as being in rebellion. Many generals, who swore their allegiance to the convention, are leaning to Carranza, while some of his most loyal followers are preparing to desert him.

This was the tenor of the official dispatches today from American Consul Hillman at Mexico City, and Leon Canova, special agent at Aguas Calientes. In the meantime President Wilson and Secretary Bryan were awaiting further word from Mexico before announcing the date of the evacuation of Vera Cruz.

Carranza is still at Cordoba and may move to Vera Cruz to celebrate the departure of the American forces. The convention is still in session at Aguas Calientes and there are rumors of fighting in the vicinity. Carranza has invited Gutierrez to meet him in conference in an effort to reach an agreement. Gutierrez declined. Carranza submitted a new list of conditions under which he would retire, but these were rejected. General Obregon and Villarreal did not return to the convention from their visit to Carranza at Cordoba and the belief in Aguas Calientes is that they will remain loyal to Carranza. Benavides was the only member of the commission who returned. Uncertainty prevails as to the attitude of General Obregon. Reports indicate that he may stand by the convention.

The governors of the federal district of Mexico and the state of Tamaulipas, Luis Calles and Victoriano, respectively, have telegraphed their repudiation of the convention. While the leading generals are wavering, telegrams are passing in plots and counterplots.

The point at which the first important clash is liable to come is in the vicinity of Queretaro, where General Pablo Gonzalez, who is loyal to Carranza, is stationed with several thousand troops. The loyalty of a large part of his force is doubted, and already one report to the convention said many of his men refused to obey his orders. Fighting at Leon, south of Aguas Calientes, also was reported, but no details have arrived.

BERLIN REPORTS EAST YSER BANK CLEAR OF ENEMY

The northeast of the Forest of Laigueux. "In the Argonne region the German attacks have been very serious, but have accomplished nothing."

Russ. Staff Statement. PETROGRAD, Nov. 12.—The Russian general staff issued the following statement today:

"In East Prussia on November 11 an action developed on the front of Stalluponen, Krouglinken and the region of Soldau. Our troops occupied Johannsburg in a small town of East Prussia, seventy miles to the southwest of Gumbinnen."

"Beyond the Vistula battles of secondary importance occurred in the region of Kallaz, Russian Poland, and Neschava, where advance guards of the enemy sought to progress.

"The Carpathian Austrian rear guards maintained at the crossings on the upper San in the region of Sanok, were attacked by our troops.

"The siege of Przemysl, which was suspended during the period in which the Austro-German armies were on the offensive, has been re-established."

Light Again on West. LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Russian successes in the east, which for a time were a predominant feature of the war news, must again divide space with the accounts of rekindled activity on the part of the Germans in West Flanders, where the forces of Emperor William have disproved the contention of the allies that their attempt to force their way to Dunkirk or Calais has finally failed.

With Dixmude in their possession the invaders today were less than fifty miles from Calais and much nearer Dunkirk, and the light they have been putting up in the face of tremendous losses seems to bear out what had also been said—that they will not abandon this struggle to reach the coast unless they are utterly crushed. The English and French theory is that the holding of Dixmude is only temporary; that its history will be much the same as that of other towns which have been taken and retaken in the fighting on the Yser.

Left of Yser. In certain places north of Dixmude, the Germans are at least on the left bank of the Yser, that is, on the side nearest the French coast towns and their attacks. Instead of concentrating to the southwest below Ypres, apparently have been renewed almost on the coast line. Here they drove the allies from Lombartsyde, only in turn to be driven out themselves.

The official announcement given out by Paris this afternoon says that the Germans again are trying to take Lombartsyde, which is to the north of Neuport, and within a stone's throw of the sea. How they can operate in this locality if British and French warships still are placed among the shores is not quite clear to British observers. For some time past there has been no mention of naval activity on this coast, but it has been assumed that this was explained by the reported German retirement from the coast of France and Belgium and the news that they were delivering their attacks further to the south.

built brick houses, with their walled court yards and sometimes with deep ditches, make excellent bases for small detachments and play an important part in the long battle. The struggle is taking place among the farms in the open at the border towns of Compiere, Wervick and Menin.

The combats around LeBassee and Arras, where the British are operating, have shown no decisive change. The ground here has been successfully and steadfastly maintained. The British repelling attack after attack.

Aviators Report Movements. Aviators report the movement of troops and heavy guns on a large scale in the interior of Belgium, some going towards Germany, others toward Antwerp, and yet others toward Courtrai. The explanation of this movement appears to be that solid troops capable of operating in the open are being sent to Eastern Prussia, their place in the trenches being taken by less trained men. The guns going to Antwerp, it is believed here, are due to a desire to have a strong flank position against the allies in case they advance on Brussels.

The object of the continuous German attacks in Belgium and in the Armentieres region, according to some of the French military critics, is to achieve a real victory which will oblige the allies' left to fall back in order to reorganize and repair its losses. The Germans would then leave a small force as they seemed set to hold the allies and send the rest against Russia.

SUSPECTED CATTLE ARE BEING TRACED

to the record runs at Kansas City, where 70,000 head of cattle have been received within the last few days.

Stanton Holds Up. At the local market 9,900 sheep sold at $7.45 to $7.55 for bulk and $7.55 toppers. Eleven thousand sheep held the market steady with an upward trend of 4c. Lambs sold at $10 and ewes at 8c. This is getting back to the $2.50 lambs of Monday, which fell off Tuesday and Wednesday about 10 cents. Short fed cattle were off 25 cents and the market slow.

Of all the packers Armour & Co. was the only one that tried to hold the market up when it threatened to tumble Monday. Armour bought most of the Monday offerings. Today, however, the packers all were more or less laggard in offering, and when they did bid the price was at much as 75 cents off, with but few takers.

At that, however, the packers contend that they are fighting to keep the price of meat down. The farmers and stockmen are getting the best of the market, while the packers, when they buy high must sell high. This is exemplified in the recent raise on sheep, which showed up at once in the retail market. Speculators who have been out of the yards for some days were doing a little business yesterday, with the expectation of being in strong when the market opens next Monday. Short fed cattle, which are regarded as not reliable from the killer's standpoint, were not much in demand today, buyers being suspicious that the weight and fat would not stand up as well as the corn-fed stuff.

Five Chicago Plants Disinfected. CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Five more packing houses doing business outside the Chicago stock yards have completed disinfection against the foot and mouth disease, and tonight will make formal application to have the quarantine lifted. The ban was lifted from one concern yesterday. Under the terms of the agreement, none of the packers will resume slaughtering until all join. This is expected next Monday.

East St. Louis Yards Reopen. EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Nov. 12.—The St. Louis National stock yards were reopened here this morning for the receipt of native cattle and hogs, after having been closed since last Saturday in compliance with the federal quarantine order resulting from the spread of the foot and mouth disease. Cattle and hogs only will be accepted from states now not quarantined, and will be slaughtered as rapidly as they can be sent to the packing houses. The quarantine order partially lifted by the state veterinarian does not yet permit the East St. Louis yards to hold cattle or to reship them.

More Cases Disclosed. WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Spread of the foot and mouth disease to four more counties in Illinois—Hancock, LaSalle, Warren and Mercer—and from Bullitt county to Henry county, Kentucky, was reported to the Department of Agriculture today by field inspectors. Reinfection of two herds of cattle in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, also was reported.

Children Possibly Infected. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 12.—Fear that the foot and mouth disease had spread to human beings was expressed by federal and state authorities today. Four children of a Providence man who owned infected cattle were found to have sores in their mouths. A boy of 14 who had taken care of cows had the most pronounced symptoms. The children have been examined by several doctors, but the nature of the disease has not been determined definitely.
