

Council Bluffs ENTER MOONLAND'S REALM Guests from Southwest Iowa Are Royally Entertained. OMAHA MEN ARE VISITORS Mayor Dahlman Delivers Address and Praises Council Bluffs Artists for Their Ceremony. The gates of that wonderful enchanted realm, Moonland, were opened last night and editors from southwestern Iowa, as special guests of the Knights of the Full Moon, were given the opportunity to see some of its wonders. Several hundred of the knights and a sufficient number of their friends to fill the ground floor seats of the Auditorium building enjoyed the same privilege. That they were surprised, as well as delighted, was evidenced by the demonstrative enthusiasm that frequently reached the boiling point. Among the especially honored and welcomed guests were Mayor Dahlman and	Council Bluffs about fifty Ak-Sar-Ben workers from Omaha and South Omaha. They were so well pleased with the show and the whole evening's experience that thirty of them asked for membership tickets in addition to the fifty who had previously purchased tickets. At the end of the inflammatory ceremonies, when the culprits accused of stealing the king's treasure, the big Swede cook, Hilda, had been properly tortured for their crimes, Mayor Dahlman was called forward and made a speech and sang a song. Appreciation by Dahlman. The speech was an appreciative expression of the pleasure enjoyed, and in the name of the Omaha and South Omaha men he expressed the sentiment that the show was the best they had ever seen and measured up with everything Samson had evolved in the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities. The show was keenly appreciated and the encores were so frequent that it was almost 11 o'clock before the critical stages of the imitations were reached. The stage settings met the fullest approval and excited real surprise. When the lights were turned on the audience was confronted by a huge dragon, whose monstrous head	Council Bluffs and enormous mouth formed the proscenium arch and whose scaly body extended the full length of the building. It was a unique and wonderful creation of paper mache, paint and gilt. Huge teeth descended from the upper jaw like huge stalactites and basilisk eyes gleamed balefully from the wrinkled front. The dragon idea was evolved in the fertile brain of E. P. Schoentgen, who made the working sketches from which J. C. Johnson and his assistants constructed the monster. They worked all of Thursday night and all day yesterday without rest to complete the task. The last paint was put on after 4 o'clock last evening. Plenty of Refreshments. When the canvas upon which was painted the dragon's body was lifted at the end of the show it very properly disclosed the refreshment tables, where sandwiches, coffee and cider were served to those present. The next show will be given on December 4, when a large portion of the paraphernalia which was not quite ready for use last night will be ready and a fresh lot of victims will experience the surprise it provides.	Iowa EIGHT INDICTMENTS ARE IN Federal Grand Jury Reports to Judge Van Valkenberg. ROBBERY CASES TO THE FRONT Most of the Charges Made in Des Moines Tribunal Are Connected with the Theft of Property. (From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Nov. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—Eight persons were indicted by the federal grand jury which reported to Judge Arba E. Van Valkenberg. Carl McCune, Jesse Beck and Ed Gibson are accused by the grand jury of having forced an entrance to the postoffice at Altoona. They also are facing indictments in the district court charging them with robbing a grocery store at Altoona. J. A. Wright and J. DeFord were indicted for breaking into railroad cars containing interstate shipments. The rest	Iowa were for minor offenses. To Fight Franchise. An organization has been perfected in Des Moines for the purpose of opposing the street car franchise which the company has prepared to be submitted to the voters at a later date, and active work will be done in securing votes in opposition. Dr. Thomas Dubigg is president of the association, and it includes representatives of the professions, trades and business men of all classes. The basis of the opposition is in support of the city council in its effort to secure a franchise which would protect the interests of the public. The company has ignored the city council and sought to go direct to the people with the franchise desired. The district court having decided that the council must be considered, the date for the election has been postponed. Business of Des Moines Banks. Des Moines banks have made a good showing to the state banking department on the call of November 4. Their deposits then aggregated $19,119,984.1. The decrease from the call of September 2 was only about $300,000, and the decrease from June was about $1,000,000. This has been largely due to the supplying of cash for the larger banks of the east and the	Iowa payment on account of the reserve bank business. The report to the state is on ten savings banks, four state banks and three trust companies that are all organized under state law. The statement as to the banks of the entire state has not yet been completed. Testimony in Kelly Trial. In the Kelly trial in district court testimony was given by William Simeral, Leslie Eilers, Philip Betz, Ira Kelly and Dr. S. B. MacDiarmid; also there was read the testimony in the former trial of Dr. H. H. Stevens and J. C. Robinson. Nothing new was developed in the case, but merely there is an accumulation of evidence bearing on the question of Dr. Kelly's sanity. Agricultural Convention. The annual Iowa state agricultural convention will be held in the rooms of the department of agriculture in the state house on December 5, when the Board of Agriculture will be elected by the delegates from all over the state. The officers are arranging a program for the meeting, which will include an address by Prof. Bliss on the work of the college extension department and John Coverdale on what is being done by the county agents. There will be a special meeting	Iowa for those interested in the faire and this will be addressed by persons interested in faire. Cannot Borrow Money Now. The city of Des Moines is finding it difficult to borrow money just at this time. It has been directed by the voters to borrow on bonds to pay for the city water works the price fixed by a commission, being $2,352,522. The city has asked the federal court to postpone the date for the final purchase of the water works until some time next spring because of the condition of the financial world and inability to borrow money now on good terms. About thirty carloads of corn have been contributed by Iowa people for the Belgian relief and nearly $4,000 in cash to be used in purchase of additional meal. AUSTRIAN STEAMER HITS MINE AND FOUNDERS LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Morning Post's Rome correspondent says the Austrian-Lloyd steamer Metchowitch, has struck a mine off the Dalmatian coast and foundered.
