OMAHA, Nov 21, 1914.

The receipts of wheat in both the great belts have commenced to fall off in earnest, according to the promises by the winter and whost countries in the winter and substitute in many weeks primary markets treceived less than 2,000,000 bushes yeater-clay. Messages were received from many sections of the southwest, where it was said that farmers are not selling any wheat to speak of, as they believe in higher prices for this grain. In addition to a big failing off in the receipts in the market so of the United States, Winniper 200 tonly 31 cars yesterday, while a year ago that market received 35 cars. This change in conditions was to the liking of the bulls, as well as the cash handlers in the trade. The decrease of 713,000 bushels in the stocks of wheat at Duluth for five days attracted general attention, and not only the stocks head there have been sold to go out, but a great deal of the grain to come forward has also been sold.

Receipts continue liberal and the eastern call is not urgent.

Shorts in hog products bought fair amounts of the various commodities because of the strength displayed in the hog market, coupled with rather tight offerings in the pit. January lard and May pork were bought by brokers who usually act for one of the larger packers. Smaller packers sold rather freely. Stock yards clients sold the list in fair quantibes. CATTLE-There were no cattle of any in the yards this morning, cipts for the week amount to and the receipts for the week amount to only 12,899 head, being the smallest of any by over 8,000 head. It will be readily understood that the cause for the light run is the cutting off of all receipts from the east side of the river due to the government quarantine.

The market from a seller's standpoint has been unsatisfactory this week. The Early advices that quotations at Rosario and Buenos Aires had suffered a sharp break on account of better weather, led to a decline in the market here, but the effect was moderated by later dispatches that referred to replanting having begun again in parts of Argentina and by the inference that the amount and quality of yield might yet prove to be relatively small.

Sentiment in favor of lower prices was increased by statements that additions to the domestic visible supply could be looked for until heavier export clearances became the rule. An expected liberal enlargement of the visible supply total on Monday will contrast with a decrease of 117,000 bushels at the corresponding time a year ago.

Offerings that were a little more plentiful from lowa, Nebraska and South Dakota had a depressing influence on the price of corn. The fine weather, regarded as likely to facilitate the crop movement from first hands, counted also against the bulis. Active buying a the part of the exporters made the oats marker firm, despite the weathers on those against the bulis. Active buying a the part of the exporters made the oats marker firm, despite the weathers on those as week ago.

Assertions that the embargo on hog shipments from lowa might be removed on Monday eased off provisions. Selling was led by houses that have been conspicuous buyers the last few days.

A shortage in the receipts has been one of the features of the trade this week, and of the features of the trade this week, and so live some $2.66 head have been reported in, being 19.463 short of last week, and 5,158 short of the corresponding time a year ago. While the recepts have fallen off a little, a very large percentage of the offerings has been from the range and the proportion of fed western stock has been very small, including few toppy grades of any kind. In spite of the short supply, closing quotations are 50c lower on lambs compared with Friday of last week and 75c off on yearlings and aged sheep.

Monday was the high time, with little change from the close of last week being moted, but owing to bad conditions on the eastern dressed mutton markets and the opening up of Chicago to receive supplies after the quarantine, prices slumped hadly. On Thursday and Friday part of the loss has been regained, but values still show considerable decline from a week ago, as noted above.

Superior Storm.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. II.-Anxlety as to the fate of the steamer C. F. Curtis and the lumber barge S. K. Marvin, which had not been heard from since they left Haraga, Mich., in the face of a heavy northwestern gale Wednesday who was driven back through Miwa and morning, was unabated early today, Eight odles and quantities of wreckage washed ashore near Grand Marais yesterday told the fate of the lumber-laden barge Annie M. Peterson and gave rise to grave appreside of our allies and have gained bension that the Curtis and Marvin likewise had gone down during the storm which had swept Lake Superior for the last three days. All three vessels were owned by the Edward Hines Lumber company of Chicago and were headed for Tonawanda, N. Y., the two barges in tow of the steamer, The Peterson carried a crew of seven and the finding of eight bodies led to the belief that one or both other boats had foundered. Life savers in power boats were searching the lake shore for wreckage, but no report has reached here that the fragments already found came from a ship other than the Peterson.

Two of the bodies found were those of

The storm created havon among lake shipping in the vicinity of Cheboygan, three freight steamers being driven ashere. The Sicken was forced on the rocks at Grace harbor and the Barth and Lackawanna were driven aground off Bois Blane Bland. Wreckage tugs, according to latest reports, had been unable to release any of them. The crews of these three steamers remained on board and none of them was injured so far as

The steamer J. J. H. Brown ran ashore on River Point, Mud Lake, last night in a blinding snowstorm. The vessel was reported to be in no danger and tugs have been sent to its assistance.
