F. S. HUNTER. Due to the wonderful showing made by the Cornhusker foot ball team this season of 1914, the Missouri Valley conference for the second time steps up to the front rank and occupies as bright a spot in the calcium as the Western conference or any other circle of teams around these parts. Even the Jayhawk, Nebraska's most hated rival, must admit that the Huskers are there when it comes to holding up the honor of the Missouri Valley conference.

For four times now Nebraska has wor the Missouri Valley conference championship and this year for the second time took into camp two schools asserted to be of greater caliber than any Missouri Valley schools. In 1913 Minnesota and Iowa fell before Nebraska and the Huskers had a claim on the western champion ship then. This year the Michigan Aggies and Iowa succumbed to Nebraska, and for the second time the Huskers can hold up their own in asserting western su-

Picks All-Valley Team Composed of Cornhusker Team

The Kansas City Journal's foot ball expert has so much faith in the University of Nebraska foot ball team that he selects an All-Missouri valley team which consists wholly of Cornhusker athletes. Never before in any conference has one entire team been selected as an all-conference team. And the Kansas City man's choice is all the more remarkable because his paper circulates in Kansas and Missouri, both of which schools had to be content with positions on the second team.

Coyotes Practice for Creighton Game

VERMILLON, S. D., Nov. 23.-(Special.) The Coyotes came out of the Yankton game in fine shape, practically no one receiving even a serious bump. Saturday evening Cortright raced his men through strenuous scrimmage preparatory to the Creighton game Thanksgiving day, as but two practices are left this season on Dacotah field. The Catholics are looked on as strong antagonists. They always put up a strenuous scrap, and in light of comparison, via the South Dakota (20)-Morningside (0), Morningside (6)-Nebraska Wesleyan (13), Creighton (13)-Nebraska Wesleyan (7) route appear to be worthy foes. At least the coach is taking no chances and will send his heaviest lineup against them.

Blood Sufferers Want to Know

The Light is Turned on to a Subject of Darkness.

The mere fact that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, drives out disease is a world's story, a topic of conversation wher-
