

BEE EXTRAS TELL OF COLLEGE HERO

Pretty Debutantes and Society Girls Garner in the Shells for the Child Saving Institute.

THOUSANDS OF PAPERS SOLD Sweet Charity is Enriched Even Before Time for Big Show to Open Next Week at the Grand Opera Theater.

Although their voices are much better suited to singing the pretty songs of "The College Hero" at the Grand Opera Theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, for the benefit of the Child Saving Institute, over 30 young society women and high school girls played "newspaper" on Omaha streets, yesterday afternoon shouting and selling special "College Hero" extras of the Bee and other newspapers.

The hit they made could be second only to the great success they are expected to achieve this week in their musical comedy production. The money from the sale of the extras went to swell the fund for the Child Saving Institute, which fact, combined with the charming influence of the pretty young debutantes and society maids who sold the extras, caused the crowds on the streets to buy thousands of papers and pay liberally for them, without bothering about change.

The corps of society "newspaper" included the following young women, who will play principal characters or lead choruses in "The College Hero," Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday:

- Misses—Alice Davis, Marion Kuttin, Lucile Bacon, Elizabeth Davis, Daphne Peters, Mildred Collins, Marie Davis, Dorothy Meyers, Hazel Howard, Louise Schindler, Katherine Thummel, Harriet Sherman, Lenore Rose, Margaret Holden, Mildred Todd, Helen Van Dusen, Harriet Metz, Geraldine Johnson, Frances Hochstetler, Eugene Patterson, Carol Howard, Madames—John Foster, Harold Pritchett, Webster.

While the young women were selling their extras, the young men of the big "College Hero" company were hanging pennants all over town and on every auto and other vehicle that was on the streets. Some of the young men also helped the girls in selling extras.

Miles Is Candidate For Re-Election as State League Head

HASTINGS, Neb., Nov. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Replying to inquiries from a number of club managers, C. J. Miles today said he would be a candidate for re-election as president of the State Base Ball League, the annual meeting of which has been called for December 11 in Grand Island.

The league had its most successful season under Mr. Miles last year and his re-election is practically assured.

At the Grand Island meeting Mr. Miles will submit a tentative playing schedule for next year, hoping to secure the adoption of the season's program in sufficient time for publication in the guides.

would have the consolidation act adopted with the emergency clause, to become effective not later than the middle of March, and enable the annexed population to vote in both spring primary and election.

Another scheme still under the hat contemplates purchasing the same, and by the consolidation act, and putting onto a bill postponing the city election until next November and making the terms of the next administration begin the following January. If this were done it would give a tight-month's extra lease of life to all the present city officers, who naturally would welcome being kept on the payroll. The further argument is advanced, too, that the time between the election last fall and the one scheduled next spring is too short, and that the voters would, therefore, be grateful for the relief of a longer interval.

Dahlman May Quit City Politics. Likewise connected with this subject is the supposed acceptance by Secretary Bryson and Senator Hitchcock of Mayor Dahlman as a compromise candidate for the United States Internal Revenue collectorship. If Mayor "Jim" were to transfer his headquarters from the city hall to the federal building, it would take him out of the running for re-election, and he would not be so deeply interested in consolidation.

As the story goes, Bryson has indicated a willingness to let Dahlman be named, but Senator Hitchcock declines to make a compromise on any one office that does not include the whole list of federal appointments, and that is where he and Mr. Bryson are at far apart as ever. In the meanwhile the mayor has two strings to his bow and is not letting go of either of them.

Catarrh Ten Years

Cost Me A Lot of Money. Peruna Promptly Cured Me.

Mr. Charles B. Many, 12 Water St., Cambridge, N. Y., writes: "I had catarrh for ten years and tried a great many kinds of medicines, which cost me a lot of money but did me no good. Instead of getting better I seemed to get worse. My eyes were bloodshot, my nose swollen so bad that I was ashamed to go in company. I was night guard at the prison and I would get so dizzy that I would have to catch hold of something to keep from falling. I read about Peruna in the New York World, and thought I would give it a trial. I used about ten bottles, and I am cured of catarrh, and the dizzy feeling has left me and I am not bothered with it any more. I keep Peruna in the house, and when I feel a cold coming on I take a little bit of it and it does me good."

MME. ISADORE DUNCAN, the California dance interpreter, back from France. "I have been nursing wounded soldiers since the war began. My school near Paris has been transformed into a Red Cross hospital. For months past I have been tending the sick and wounded at the Deauville Casino, in Normandy. The war made it impossible for me to keep my pupils in the old, distracted world, so I sent them over here."

REVISING QUARANTINE RULES

Iowa Animal Health Board Holds Meeting with Veterinarian.

FREE SECTION TO BE PROTECTED

Michael Christensen Arrested at Spencer on Charge of Sending Padded Payroll to Bridge Company.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Members of the state animal health board held a meeting with the state veterinarians today for the purpose of revising the rules as to quarantine or making special rules to govern in Iowa. Rules will be arranged so as to protect the rest of the state from danger of foot and mouth diseases. State and federal experts expect to be engaged in for many months yet stamping out the disease in Iowa. No information has been received as yet regarding any lifting of the quarantine.

Best Padded Payroll. Michael Christensen was arrested by federal officers on a charge of sending in padded payrolls through the mails. He was employed as foreman for the Des Moines Bridge and Iron Works at Spencer. According to a postoffice inspector, Christensen is alleged to have secured approximately $100 of the firm's money.

Report of Parole Board. The board of parole today filed with the governor its third biennial report, and the abstract of criminal statistics as reported to it by the clerks of the district courts. This report covers the two years from July 1, 1912, to June 30, 1914. In that period the board paroled 263 persons from the prisons, and eight before commitment, and recommended to the governor the pardon or parole or commutation of seventy-five others. Of those recommended to the governor, all have been released, so the total number going out by action of the board, or of its recommendation, is 338. Since the organization of the board seven years ago, 23.9 per cent of the entire number paroled proved derelict, 47.6 per cent have been recommended for discharge and 28.5 per cent are still reporting, and 241 per cent have died or their cases have been reversed by the supreme court. Of the entire number paroled since the board's organization on July 1, 1912, all have been discharged or otherwise disposed of, so the final result in these first 51 cases paroled is known. Of these, 18.5 per cent were revoked and returned, 14.6 per cent absconded and are not yet apprehended, but several of them will likely be apprehended and returned, 1.54 per cent convicted of other crimes while on parole and returned; the remainder, or 65.36 per cent, were recommended for discharge, and represent the per cent of success of the completed group of paroled prisoners.

The board renews its recommendation for the purely indeterminate sentence, saying "there are men who have so often been convicted of crime, and so often been imprisoned, as that safety to society and their own good require that they should be under constant care longer than the maximum period provided for the particular offense for which they were last committed."

Hoffman, Henry Bundison, H. Leen and Louis Zuehl, of that place, for breaking the game and fish law. Lyman Acker First Winner in Cattle Judging Contest

Lyman Acker of Harvard, Neb., took first prize in the stock judging contest held Saturday at the state fair and won the first of the stock yards offerings. The Union Stock Yards offers $100 in prizes each year to the men who pass the best judgments on live stock. The contest is regarded as a tryout for the big stock judging contests which is held annually in Chicago.

Following is the list of winners in the contest of November 21: Lyman Acker, Harvard, Lewis Reynolds, Ashland, John Rice, Norfolk, P. C. Smith, Beaver City, S. H. Whitehead, Harvard, H. J. Fossen, Hayes Center, P. T. Myers, Hendley, Frank Carver, Cambridge, Sam Chamberlain, Beatrice, George Neumann, Greeley, Colo., Albert Chestem, Tekamah.

Prizes classes of stock were placed, three classes of cattle, two of horses, one of mules, three of sheep and six of pigs. Some of the contestants were of the team that had been picked to represent the University of Nebraska at the International Stock show, which was to be held in Chicago during the month of December, but which was called off on account of foot and mouth disease. It has been the custom for some years past for the South Omaha Stock Yards company to pay the expense of the university judging team which attended the International Stock show, but owing to the fact the show this year has been cancelled, it was arranged to hold a contest at the university farm, so that the boys who had fitted themselves for the big Chicago event might have an opportunity of displaying their skill along judging lines. After the contest was over a meeting was held at the university where short talks were made by various members of the university faculty, at which time the announcement of winners was made.

Ward Off Winter Complexion Ills

To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all winter, there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercolized wax. Rough, chapped or discolored skin, inevitable in this weather, is gently absorbed by the wax and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, the latter being applied at bedtime and washed off morning. Creams, powders and rouges, on the other hand, are apt to appear conspicuous at this season, because of alternating expansion and contraction of the skin, due to changing temperatures. I advise you to try this simple treatment. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store and use like cold cream. This will help any skin at once, and in a week or so the complexion will look remarkably youthful and healthy. Winds and flying dust often cause squinting and other contortions which make wrinkles. You can quickly get rid of every wrinkle, however produced, by using a harmless face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salicylate in 1/2 pt. witch hazel.—Advertisement.
