

Magnificent Cast Ready to Present "The College Hero"

MANY IN THE COLLEGE HERO

Over Five Hundred of Best Known Young People Taking Part.

SUCCESS OF PLAY IS ASSURED

Is to Raise Funds for the Benefit of Child Saving Institute—To Be Shown Three Nights at the Brandeis Theater.

"The College Hero," to be staged at the Brandeis theater on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Wednesday matinee for the benefit of the Child's Saving Institute, is a musical burlesque, and well it has been named, for at the rehearsal of the 500 participants on the stage of the Brandeis last Wednesday, it was burlesque burlesque, hip, hip, hurrah! from the rise to the fall of the curtain. The cheering, filled every corner of the big auditorium; it lasted terms; it almost raised the roof.

Whipped Into Shape.
Rehearsals have been in progress for four weeks and the huge chorus of 500 participants have been whipped into shape. The production promises to be the most popular of its kind ever staged, and it will undoubtedly yield splendid sums toward the work of the Child's Saving Institute.

The advance sale of tickets at the Brandeis theater assures great financial success. The nursery committee of the Child's Saving Institute have labored continually for over four weeks to bring this about, and their work has not been in vain, for thousands of dollars worth of tickets have been sold, so that financially, as well as artistically, "The College Hero" will be a winner next week.

Never before has an amateur cast become so popular, every one of the great army of 500 taking part, from Mrs. Pritchett's and Miss Patterson's café and foot ball guest group, down to the smallest jockey boys, taking part in the play, are wild with enthusiasm.

New scenery and costumes have arrived from eastern cities and are all ready for the production. At the blowing of the whistle on Monday morning a great force of carpenters, stage hands and electrician will start to work on the stage of the Brandeis, adjusting the heavy platforms and scenery and putting it into place.

Bossie Says Omaha Has No Reason to Complain of Milk

Dairy Inspector Claude Bossie criticizes the Hiascon park women who recently declared preservatives were used in milk sold in their district by city dairymen. "We make from 300 to 500 tests a year, and for six years we have found no milk in which preservatives were used," said the inspector. "Anyway, what would be the use of preservatives at this season of the year? The women complain that milk will stay sweet for a week. It will stay sweet for a much longer period if kept at a temperature of say 48 degrees. The dairymen do not need to use preservatives. Omaha is not suffering from an over-supply of milk. The entire product is sold each day."

Fontanelles and New Bank May Celebrate Opening Same Time

A tentative plan is now on foot whereby the Fontanelles hotel and the United States National bank will celebrate their opening days together sometime in February. The contract for the construction of the Fontanelles reads that it shall be turned over to the occupants by February 5. The United States National bank building is to be turned over to the occupants about that time also. A plan is being considered where by the dedicatory exercises for both might be held on Washington's birthday, February 22.
