CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Buils had the advantage in the wheat market today, owing to a strong foreign demand accompanied by reports that Australia would need to import and that offerings to Europe from Argentina were scarce. The market closed steady at the same as last night to $\frac{1}{2}\) advance. Corn finished $\frac{1}{2}\) up, oats unchanged to $\frac{1}{2}\) of electron of the provisions varying from 2\frac{1}{2}\) decline to a provisions varying from 2\frac{1}{2}\) decline to a class of 12\frac{1}{2}\).

Official announcement that the yield of wheat in Australia would be 19,000,000 bushels short of home requirements gave buyers here encouragement from the start, as that country as a rule has a handsome surplus available for export Estimates were also at hand that France would require 55,000,000 bushels and Holiand 25,000,000 bushels and Holiand 25,000,000 bushels.

Admissions from Liverpool that offerings from Argentina were proving scanty counted likewise in favor of the buils. Besides, receipts at domestic points showed a notable falling off.

Difficulties in obtaining a sufficient Christie.

Difficulties in obtaining a sufficient number of vessels for immediate sailing tended to cause something of a reaction in the wheat market during the last part of the day. December delivery exhibited the effect most plainly. Late quotations showed the influence, too, of predictions that rather liberal receipts would continue to be the rule in the northwest. Shutting off of sales from producers and some increase in the export and domestic demand lifted the rule of corn. Adverse weather cut a good deal of figure, and so, too, did reports that stocks at all points east were light. Outs first bardened with other cereals, but afterwards liquidating sales in the December option formed the chief element of interest. Cash demand was only fair.

wards liquidating sales in the December option formed the chief element of interest. Cash demand was only fair.

Shorts were active buyers in the provision pit. The motive was a belief that the severe break which took place today in hos values would cause a decided curtaliment of receipts.

Provisions shorts, attempting to cover, four-fit he market burse of sellers. As a result prices soon took a sudden bulge, regardless of lower quotations for hogs.
