ELKS HOLD MEMORIAL TODAY

Omaha Lodge to Honor Dead with Annual Service This Morning.

NINETEEN ON THE ROSTER

That Many of the Organization Died During the Last Year—Special Music for the Occasion.

Following a custom that is as old as the order itself, the Omaha Elks today will hold memorial services for the members of the lodge who have died during the last year. The services will be held at the Orpheum theater, beginning promptly at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Members of the Omaha lodge will attend in a body and will occupy seats in the center, lower floor, where a section has been reserved for them.

All over the United States and in every place where there is an Elk's lodge, the first Sunday in December of each year is set apart as a day for gathering at a public service, conducted by the Elks, an hour is given over to mourning the dead brothers who have passed to the great beyond. This year the services conducted by the Omaha Elks give promise of being most impressive and beautiful.

Of the Omaha lodge of Elks, nineteen members have died during the last year, the last to answer the call being W. B. Townsend, who passed away Thursday afternoon. The following are the deceased and for whom the services will be held:

John Hughes, J. A. Combs. H. C. Markell, P. Jenkins. D. Clem Deaver, A. L. Gere. Edward Sigumley, T. F. Lee. S. Montgomery, S. A. Orvander. E. M. Proudfoot, S. A. Orvander. George T. Mills, W. R. Mulvihill. C. R. Dugdale, W. B. Townsend. Dr. J. T. Rinsler.

One of the features of the services will be the music. Secretary Bliner of the Omaha lodge of Elks, having secured the best talent available. In the past there has been considerable music, but nothing like as much as upon the occasion this year. The Elks' Glee club, regarded as one of the best musical organizations in the city, will render two selections, and an additional feature there will be solos and duets by Miss Alice Duval and Miss Ruth Ganson.

Kaiser Denies Attack Upon Krupp Factory

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—(By Wireless to London)—An official statement was issued here today, denying the report that the Krupp plant at Essen had been bombed by a foreign aeronaut. The report referred to was contained in a dispatch from The Hague to the Exchange Telegraph company in London on December 3, which stated that a message had been received there from Berlin, telling of the report by an aviator of the buildings at the Krupp plant which are devoted to the manufacture of cannon. It was stated that the avian escaped uninjured and that the extent of the damage had not been ascertained.

Howell Lets Ten of Defendants in Wild Horse Swindle Go

Death of two of the defendants and lack of sufficient evidence against some of the others in the famous "wild horse" cases, started in federal court last spring, has led United States District Attorney F. S. Howell to nolle the prosecution in ten instances. The prosecution still stands against J. S. Smith and others, but the case will not come to trial until the April term of court, it is understood.

S. S. Montgomery of Omaha and B. A. Mead and A. J. Higley of Kansas City are the latest defendants to be dismissed from prosecution. A. E. Snow and A. J. Dinwiddie were the defendants who died, and they were included in the first group, when a "nolle pro" was entered in October.

Notices in The Bee of Federal Jobs Brings Seekers

Following publication of an article in The Bee, to the effect that twenty civil service vacancies had resulted in only two applications, several dozen applicants to government jobs besieged the office of Miss Viola Coffin, secretary of the local civil service bureau. She said that The Bee's item about the civil service examinations brought more applicants than the government's official announcements. The vacancies are mostly in technical lines, and carry salaries of from $1,000 to $1,600. Special training and experience are necessary for most of them. More examinations will be held December 8, 10 and 22.

New High Mark for Durum Wheat Fails to Buy Two Cars

The grain market was strong again, though prices were inclined to be a little under the high of Friday, wheat selling at $1.06 1/2. Corn reached 56 cents, but the bulk of sales were made around 55 1/2 cents per bushel. Rye marked up another high price, the top being $1.50 1/2. The only durum wheat on the market consisted of a couple of cars held over. For this $1.24 1/2, a new high price, was bid, but there were no sales.

On corn receipts Omaha passed all the markets except Chicago. The receipts here were 122 cars. Wheat receipts were 72 and oats 27 cars.

McVann Tells the Warehouse Men to Have Laws Changed

If the warehouse men of the country don't want the railroads as competitors in the storage business, they must go ahead and get the law changed instead of hammering the railroads. This, in substance, is what E. J. McVann, manager of the traffic bureau of the Omaha Commercial club, told the delegates to the National Warehousemen's association at the meeting in Kansas City Friday morning.

The warehousemen had been doing a great deal of complaining in the course of the convention about the competition growing out of the railroads' entrance into the storage business. McVann pointed out that the law compels the railroads to store in certain cases, and that the way to get them out of the way as competitors of the warehouses is to amend the law instead of hammering at the roads.

Mr. McVann was the guest of President George S. Lovejoy of Boston at the annual banquet of the association Thursday night.
