Movement in Under Way to Again Take Up the Question Which Created Such a Storm on Wednesday Night.

George Coupland of Eigin was unantously re-elected president of the Nebraska Farmers' congress with no other candidate in the field. The secretary was instructed to east the unanimous vote of the convention for Mr. Coupland.

J. B. Grinnell of Sarpy county was elected secretary over W. S. Delano of Custer county, who ran for re-election. George Junkin of Smithfield was reelected treasurer, Frank Tannehill of Norfolk was made first vice president, Homer McKelvy of Clay county second E. and R. D. Smith of Colfax county third

To Reconsider Warehouses. Now that the smoke of Wednesday's batbattle over the warehouse bill has cleared away, there is a movement in the air to reconsider the action of Wednesday night, when the proposition for a law creating some of its advocates steam-rollered. Frank G Odell, who was one of the leaders in the fight against the warehous law, appeared in the hall with his pockets stuffed with statistics, government reports and similar documents, with which he hoped to choke anyone who brought the subject up again. However when a number of the advocates of the warehouse bill began to talk of reconsidering the matter, they got Odell interested and he said he believed a way could be devised to bring the matter up again and get favorable action on it that would be satisfactory to all factions. The forenoon was given over to the election of officials, a number of dis-

Throughout that portion of Wyoming n the east slope of the Rocky mountains, according to reports to the railroads, winter is on, with temperatures Wednesday night ranging from 8 to 10 degrees below zero around Billings, Crow Agency and Sheridan, with a couple of degrees warmer in the Basin country. In Nebraska the temperature worked down toward zero, but did not quite touch the mark, 2 degrees above at Randolph being the coldest reported to the railroads. Generally the temperatures were around 19 to 24 degrees above.

It has stopped snowing out in the state, but a blanket of two to six inches of snow covers the ground, lying as it fell, there having been but little wind. On account of the cold, trains were alightly off schedule, the engines being unable to make steam

The Bee offers ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY FOR UNSELFISH GIV-ING in the list of worthy needy families RIGHT HERE IN OMAHA, for which a little help will tide their struggle through the winter and put them on their feet.

Each of these cases has been CAREFULLY INVESTIGATED AND VOUCHED FOR as deserving by the Associated Charities, and they are referred to by letter instead of name in order not to publicly advertise their want.

Here are three more unfortunate families that should appeal to your sympathies, and others will follow:

D. Woman deserted and five children-Girl 15, boy 10, girl 6, boy 9 and girl 5. Own house, which is in very bad repair. Mother washes, but has had very little work. Mothers' pension of $20 a month. Need good, nourishing food, as whole family is undernourished; clothing and shoes for children.

Bohemian family of four-Here since March. Father insane and recently sent back to State Asylum for the Insane at Lincoln for the third time this year. Mother does not speak English. Children are boy 5, girl 3 and girl 1. Mother very clean and neat about her home and the children well cared for. Mother has applied for mothers' pension. Mother wants to place children in an institution so that she can go out to work; should be at home with her family. County helps with groceries and coal. Need rent-$5 a month-paid, and extra food

Woman and three children-Deserted recently. Children, boy 5, girl 3 and baby girl 8 months old. Family was about to be evicted, but friends came to the rescue and offered them a temporary home. County helps with groceries and coal. Need about $2.50 weekly to supplement county supplies until some plan can be formulated for the care of the family, as the mother should be allowed to stay with
