

GEN. DODGE WRITES OF PIONEER TIMES

Grand Old Man of Council Bluffs Circulates Volume of Personal Recollections of Friends.

TELLS OF MEETING LINCOLN

Also Recently General Grant and Sherman and His Personal Relations and Friendship with These Noted Men.

General G. M. Dodge, widely known as the only surviving corps general of the civil war, and as the "grand old man of Council Bluffs," is circulating among his friends a volume of personal recollections of President Lincoln, General Grant and General Sherman. In this book he has compiled and rewritten all his data bearing on his personal relations and friendship with these noted men.

"Wholly local, and always interesting, is the general's account of Abraham Lincoln's visit to Council Bluffs when he first made his acquaintance, of which he writes as follows:

"My first acquaintance with Mr. Lincoln was in Council Bluffs, Ia., in August, 1858, I think the 15th day, right after his great debate with Douglas. He came here to look at some property in the middle tract on which he had loaned some money to Mr. N. B. Judd, the attorney for the Rock Island railroad. Mr. Judd was also the manager in the campaign with Douglas Mr. Lincoln, accompanied by Mr. O. M. Hatch, secretary of state of Illinois, came from Springfield to St. Joseph by rail, visited Kansas, then came by the Missouri river by steamboat. He found here two old friends who had lived in Springfield before they came to Council Bluffs, W. H. M. Pusey and Thomas Officer. While he was here the Hon. W. H. M. Pusey gave a reception at his residence that enabled our citizens generally to meet the two distinguished visitors. He was also induced to make a speech in Concert hall.

Talked to Lincoln.

"During the summer of 1859 I had been engaged in making reconnaissances west of the Missouri river for the Union Pacific railroad. I came back to Council Bluffs with my party, arriving here some time in August. Mr. Lincoln heard from someone of my explorations and surveys, and that I was in Council Bluffs, and he sought me out, and on the porch of the Pacific hotel, for two hours, he engaged me in conversation about what I knew of the country west of the Missouri river, and greatly impressed me by the great interest he displayed in the work in which I was engaged. He inquired particularly as to the comparative merit of the forty-second parallel or Platte valley lines, with the two southern and the northern lines surveyed by the government. As to the two southern I had no information, but about the northern survey I had obtained much valuable data.

"As a boy I worked on Mrs. Edward Lander's farm in Danvers, Mass. Her son, Frederick W. Lander, was a civil engineer, and I was acquainted with him. He was employed by Lieutenant Isaac N. Stevens, who had charge of the northern survey from St. Paul to Oregon.

Hours of Northern Route.

"Upon arrival of their party on the Pacific coast young Landers left it to examine what he believed to be a superior route—following the Columbia and Snake river valleys, thence through the South Pass and down the Snake valley nearly 1,000 miles to the Missouri river at Council Bluffs. I met him, and he gave me full information as to the main features of the northern route, and how far superior the natural line was to the followed—holding the Snake and Platte river line to be far superior to the northern survey. This method to please Mr. Lincoln, and the building of both these lines—the Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line, and the Northern Pacific—has fully proved Lander's statements. He stated that there was nothing more important before the nation at that time than the building of the railroad to the Pacific coast. I ingeniously extracted a great deal of information from me, and I found the secrets had been holding for my employers in the east had been given to him. This interview was of the greatest importance to me. It was a milestone in my life, and Mr. Lincoln never forgot it.

"While Mr. Lincoln was in Council Bluffs, the citizens took him up what is now Oakland avenue, to the point where the road turns into Robert park, and he was greatly impressed with the beauty of the landscape. It is one of the most beautiful views in the world. You can look up and down the broad Missouri river valley for ten miles, and can look across into Nebraska and see Omaha and from Florence to Des Moines.

"The Lincoln Memorial association organized in this city in connection with the Daughters of the American Revolution erected on that spot a monument or memorial to Abraham Lincoln."

The book is illustrated with many reproductions of historic photographs, and also gives the texts of numerous letters in correspondence passing between General Dodge and the men of whom he writes.

McShane is Silent as to His Deputies

Deputies in the office of Sheriff McShane do not know whether they are to be reappointed for next year, according to political gossip at the court house. It is said that the sheriff directed them to secure the G. K. of the Douglas county democratic central committee, and that this organization promptly "passed the buck" back to the sheriff by endorsing all the deputies. The next move has not been disclosed. The sheriff had nothing to say on the subject.

JACK McCABE BURIED AT HOLY SEPULCHER

Jack McCabe, aged 55 years, who died of heart disease at the home of his mother, Mrs. John McCabe, Benson, has been buried at Holy Sepulcher cemetery. Services were held at St. Bernard's church in Benson. Surviving besides the mother are two brothers and one sister.

CHARLES PARKER HELD AS FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE

Charles Parker, who gave his home as Denver, was arrested by Detective Rich and is being held at police headquarters as a fugitive from justice. He is wanted in Kansas City on a charge of embezzlement.

operating as through the traffic department. Therefore, he resigned and accepted the position of clerk in the office of E. P. Vining, then general freight agent. He held this position until 1874 when he was appointed agent for the Colorado Southern railroad, a property just completed and owned at that time by the Union Pacific. He was stationed at Floyd, Colo. There he remained one year, and at the end of that time was brought back to Omaha and given a clerkship in the general freight office of the Union Pacific. In 1877 he became car accountant and at the same time filled the position of chief clerk to the general superintendent of the road.

Mr. Nash continued with the Union Pacific until 1882, when he resigned to accept the general agency of the Milwaukee road, with headquarters in this city. He held this position ten years and was then promoted to the position of general western agent of the company, his jurisdiction extending over all of the Milwaukee and south of the Dakotas. He was a close friend of President Earling and was frequently called into Chicago to confer with the executive officers of the road relative to matters connected with extensions and traffic.

Besides having been a railroad man practically all his life Mr. Nash found time to look after many outside business matters, so great was his capacity for handling big transactions and looking after details. For more than ten years he was president of the Omaha Electric Light and Power company, resigning the office a few weeks ago, but still continuing as a director and in a general way looking after the company's business.

Belonged to Many Clubs.

While Fred A. Nash was too busy during his lifetime to devote much attention to clubs and club life he was a member of practically all of them. He was a member of the Country, Field and Omaha clubs. He was also a member of the Elks. There are probably few men in Omaha who gave more to charity than did Fred A. Nash. He was a regular contributor to every charitable association and every enterprise that had for its purpose the aiding of the poor, the suffering and the afflicted. Men who were close to him during the last years of his life assert that his gifts to charity amounted to thousands of dollars annually.

Funeral services will be held at St. John's Catholic church, Twenty-fifth and California streets, Monday morning, at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

Mr. Nash is survived by his widow and two children, Fred A., Jr., and Emma, besides several nieces and nephews, all of whom are residents of the city. Friends are requested to please omit flowers.

The flag on the Omaha club building is at half-mast because of the death of Mr. Nash.

Nebraska Clothing Co. CORRECT APPAREL FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Be Sure You GET Pure Milk

Many epidemics of disease in cities are daily being traced to the milk supply. Germs thrive in milk. They thrive in milk that has been pasteurized as well as in unpasteurized milk.

Chicago Health Bulletin No. 8 says that ten cases of typhoid fever were traced to one milk-wagon driver who stayed at work after he felt sick. This driver wiped the top of each milk bottle with a piece of cheesecloth and so spread the disease.

It's not enough to have milk start pure for your kitchen. For you to be protected it must be pure when it reaches you.

Pasteurization of milk on the dairy farm is good so far as it goes, but all dangers in milk are not overcome by that process. There are still the exposures to contamination in bottling, handling and delivering the milk.

Your surest protection from the dangers of impure milk lies in Cottage Milk is perfectly sterilized, and delivered to you in germ-proof packages. It isn't exposed from the time it is packed under the most sanitary conditions until you open it in your own kitchen.

And it is as good in every way and for every purpose as bottle milk. It has more than twice the food value of bottle milk. Cottage Milk is the richest milk from the best dairying regions of the country, with nothing added and with nothing taken out except water.

It is more economical, more convenient and more uniform than raw milk, as well as more sanitary.

Cottage Milk solves every problem connected with milk supply. Get some today and see how superior it is.
