The charity ball, with Anna Pavlowa, the popular danseuse, at the Auditorium, Wednesday evening, is the event of social interest for the week.

Many parties are planned for this affair and all have responded nitest generously to the committee's call for aid .in making the evening a howling success

All charities are favoring alike in the proceeds, and each ticket purchaser is allowed the privilege of writing the name of the charity he wishes remembered on the back of his ticket. This is quite i new way of placing things as they are wished to be and the plan seems to be generally applauded.

The demand for boxes is so great, acording to the men on the box committee, that many more could very easily be disposed off were it possible to secure them. The fortunate ones to get in with the early bird are:

Cornell Glee Club Concert.

The Yuletide tdways brings to Omaha a glee club concert of high merit and dal interest. Last year it was the University of Michigan club and this year we are to be again favored with the Cornell University Musical club, red and white roses. Miniature foot ball which will sing Monday evening, December 28, at the American theater.

This club sang in Omaha four years ago, just at this time, and while here, all the members agreed that they had some time; so the committee in charge of arrangements for this performance is not leaving a stone unturned to come up to former records.
