What Stands In the Way of Your Getting a Better Job?

Not what you do, but what you cannot do.

If you had the head bookkeeper's job you would get a better salary.

BUT. you can't do his work—you don't know how.

If you could write a better hand you think it would pay.

BUT, you can't.

Your job is not paying well, but if you could take dictation, and do the type-writing work, you would be all right.

BUT, you don't know how.

If you could run up a column of figures a little faster and knew them to be correct, you would get a better position, probably in a bank.

BUT, you don't know how.

You sometimes wish you had a railroad job, know how to send and receive messages rapidly, and could get to be station agent with a good salary.

BUT, you don't know any of these things.

You would apply to Uncle Sam for a life-time Civil Service position.

BUT, you can't pass the examination.

So it is what you do not know that is keeping you back and not what you do that is pushing you forward. Do you want to learn any of these things?

BOOKKEEPING—STENOGRAPHY—TYPEWRITING—TELEGRAPHY—

If it is lack of knowing any of these that keeps you back, why not learn them? They are taught and taught thoroughly at Boyles College. What's more and better, there is a constant demand at the college by business men who want young people who know these things to come and help them. They want people who know things and can do them.

There are night sessions at Boyles College if you cannot attend in the day-time. Send for catalogue today.
