FED RAIDS BRING IN REAL ATHLETES

Since Close of the Base Ball Season Outlaws Have Signed Twelve Big League Stars.

COME FROM BOTH LEAGUES

Cream of Both National and American Circuits Jump to Gilmore's Band.

WALTER JOHNSON STARTS RUSH

His Leap is Followed by Bender, Plank, Konetchy and Others.

ALL EVENLY DISTRIBUTED

No Players to Indianapolis Club, Which Won 1914 Pennant, and Second Divisions Clubs Draw Most Stars.

While Generalissimo Lee Johnson may have a notion that the Federal league is a deceptive delusion, composed of pernicious and deleterious traitors engaged in a pernicious occupation for purely spurious motives, the unprejudiced public, which plunks down its little half dollar at the turnstile, is manifesting a somewhat different view of the matter these days, due to certain recent activities on the part of the Federal men in signing up desirable athletes. The unprejudiced public finds it difficult to regard the Federal as farcical as Organized Ball would make out.

Since the base ball season closed the Federal league has attached to its roster, in addition to several players who have yet to make a name for themselves, just an even dozen major league stars of enviable reputations. And the outlaws have also copped a couple of nifty umpires from the forces of O. B. B.

For a short time a few of the big men in Organized ball, reading the handwriting on the wall, made overtures of peace, but suddenly just as a compact was to be signed, Mr. C. Webb Murphy appeared on the scene of action, somebody told Organized ball the Feds were broke and peace negotiations were declared off. It was thought the Feds had shot their wad and were through.

Opened Money Bags.

But it was not to be. The Feds turned their battery of Kruppis loaded with dollar signs into the believed-to-be impregnable fortresses of Organized Ball and the dollar signs mowed down all in front. The result, twelve of Organized Ball's recognized stars and drawing cards, took the leap to the opposing army.

The twelve who transferred their affections from the old order to the newer and more remunerative organization are: Walter Johnson, Senators to Chicago; Eddie Plank, Athletics to St. Louis; Eddie Konetchy, Pirates to Pitts.; Leo Magee, Cardinals to Brooklyn; Ivy Wingo, Cardinals to Pitts.; Polly Perritt, Cardinals to Pitts.; Chief Bender, Athletics to Baltimore Feds.

Harry Allen, Dodgers to Pitts.; Ray Caldwell, Yankees to Buffeds; Rip Haeraman, Naps to Chicago; Rube Marquard, Giants to Brooklyn; Marty Berghammer, Reds to Pitts.; The umpires who took the jump are: W. T. Finnan, International league; Fred Westervelt, American association; Are Flashed Athletes.

Each and everyone of the twelve players mentioned is a finished athlete and would be sure to star on any team in either major league. The loss of those players is a severe blow to the majors despite numerous declarations of "damned well, I'll get 'em back."

THREE ON THE HONOR ROLL

Cornhuskers Chosen by the Judgment of Various Coaches. BUT ONE OTHER WESTERNER

Compiler of the Statistics for Outing Also Pays High Tribute to the Work of Coach Stelham.

Three Cornhuskers are named on the foot ball honor roll published in the January number of the Outing Magazine. They are Captain Vic Milligan, Captain-elect Dick Rutherford and Chamberlain.

The honor roll in Outing is selected by the various college coaches in the country. Every man on the roll is named as worthy of special mention by at least two coaches. But one other Missourian, Burton of Kansas, was named. Rutherford was conferred the honor in 1913.

In the article accompanying the honor list the editor of Outing makes a special concession in praising Nebraska. He says, "Further west, Nebraska had a very successful season, ending with the claim to the championship west of the Mississippi river. With that claim we have no concern. We are interested, however, in paying a tribute to Coach Stelham and his husky warriors, who are usually well up in the lists. Incidentally, eastern coaches and critics should bear in mind that the western coaches have a far harder problem in the matter of material than have the easterners.

There is, there, big men with experience at hard work, but the percentage of men who have played foot ball under competent instruction before entering college is far smaller than in the east. Our there "greenness" means just that so far as foot ball knowledge is concerned.

The players named on the roll of honor are:

- ENDS: Hardwick, Harvard; O'Hearn, Cornell; Merrill, Army; Cherry, Ohio State; Stavrum, Wisconsin; Robinson, Auburn.
- TACKLES: Halligan, Nebraska; Keeler, Wisconsin; Bullin, Kansas; Shull, Chicago; Talbot, Yale; Vanderbilt, Princeton; Trumbull, Harvard; Dobbins, Sewanee; Bruck, Wisconsin.
- GUARDS: White, Syracuse; Chapman, Illinois; Pennock, Harvard; Shonk, Princeton.
- CENTERS: Des Jardens, Chicago; Johnson, Pa.; Rosenthal, Minnesota; Fries, Auburn.
- HALFBACKS: Rutherford, Neb.; Chamberlain, Neb.; Maulbetsch, Mich.; Rose, Syracuse; Bradlee, Harvard; Mahan, Harvard; Moore, Princeton; Taylor, No. Carolina.
- QUARTERBACKS: Logan, Harvard; Glick, Princeton; Tow, Army; Frickard, Army; Padlock, Georgia; Curry, Vanderbilt; Wilson, Yale; Goeh, Virginia.
- FULLBACKS: Calce, Carlisle; Bender, Albright; Whitely, Dartmouth; Solon, Minnesota; Kenan, Wesleyan; Legore, Yale; Phipps, Cornell.

Menke Picks Four Western Players For All-American

At last one eastern foot ball critic has extended his expert vision into the west. Frank G. Menke, whose weekly sport letters are featured in The Sunday Bee, selected an All-American team for a number of eastern papers recently and four western players are given positions and above all, Victor Halligan, the peerless captain of the Cornhuskers, holds down one tackle.

Menke is one of the recognized critics of the east. His opinions are published in a number of papers and his word is accepted all over the east. So really Nebraska has received the distinction it deserves.

A singular fact in Menke's All-American is that eleven different teams are represented. Harvard, Yale and Princeton have but one man on the All-American, thus proving to the west that Menke's selection were at least unprejudiced.

Menke's All-American consists of: Hardwick, Harvard, end; Hallin, Princeton, tackle; Mucka, Wisconsin, guard; Peck, Dartmouth, guard; Spears, Dartmouth, guard; Halligan, Nebraska, tackle; Weaver, Harvard, end; Barrett, Cornell, quarterback; Spiegel, Washington and Jefferson, halfback; Maulbetsch, Michigan, halfback; Legore, Yale, fullback.

One-Man Coaching System for Tigers

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 12.—The Princeton Athletic Board of Control yesterday took definite action which points toward the selection of one-man coaching system for foot ball. The consensus of opinion expressed by the members of the board was that the coaching of next year's team should be directed by one man who should be the adviser of the captain.

The whole foot ball situation and all the related problems that confront Princeton were placed in the hands of a temporary committee that will make a careful investigation and present recommendations as to who the coach should be.

Older Base Ball Men Are Equal in a Team To the Youngsters

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Although only twenty-four of the 300 ball players who figured in the American and National league races of 1913, the last year of the American league base ball war, still remain in the big arena, a team composed of these veterans, all of whom have been in the game upward of fourteen seasons, would be capable of holding its own with any that might be selected today.

All of these players are far above the average in intelligence, which accounts for their remaining in the game so long, are excellent fielders, great batmen, and with one or two exceptions, grand base runners.

This all-star team would line up as follows: Mathewson, Plank and Hess, pitchers; Bresnahan and Doolan, catchers; Lajoie, short base; Evers, second base; Wagner, first base; Wallace, third base; Callahan, left field; coach, center field; Crawford, right field.

The manager for this team could be selected from among John McGraw, Fielder Jones, Clark Griffith, Hugh Jennings, Wilbur Robinson and Fred Clarke, all of these former stars were in the game in 1912. Griffith and McGraw are pilots, as now.

Three New Directors Of Carter Lake Club

More than three hundred members of the Carter Lake club congregated at the Paxton hotel last evening to elect directors and to talk over affairs of interest to the welfare of the club. G. Jaeger, T. E. Wood and James A. Woodman. Tom Quinlan led the voting, securing 131 votes out of 137 cast.

It was decided advisable for the heads of the organization to obtain figures for the establishment of a bi-monthly paper to be published in the interests of the club, and to secure bids on cement walks to front along the Carter Lake club property.

Kolhemainen led all the way, winning by about sixty yards from Arthur J. Fogel of the Irish-American Athletic club, who finished second, about thirty yards ahead of his club mate, Thomas Barden.

HUSKER BANQUET TUESDAY

Prides of Nebraska Will Be Guests of Omaha Alumni.

TO BE SOME ENTERTAINMENT

Large Wad Sunk on Cabaret Show and Special Stunts, the Nature of Which is Not Disclosed, Will Provide Entertainment.

"You know me, Al" comes the by word from the University of Nebraska camp in response to the invitation from the Omaha alumni of the university to the Cornhusker foot ball team to attend a big banquet and cabaret to be given at the University club here Tuesday evening. The Cornhuskers will be here and be here in force.

The Omaha men promise those heroes of the gridiron, who had the temerity to challenge Harvard and Illinois and made those two schools duck down behind conference pullings for four they would lose their cherished titles to the upstarts in the west, some banquet and some cabaret and anybody who knows the Omaha alumni will admit that that crowd never promised anything without making good on their word.

Also considerable of Omaha will be at the banquet and cabaret. Two-fifty is a stiff price, but war prices are in now and the dollars couldn't be run off cheaper. An expenditure of $15 has already been made on the cabaret show so it can be seen that the above declaration of some cabaret is right.

To Show Movies. Professor George E. Condra is going to bring his little package of films along and play the Michigan Aggie, Kansas and Iowa games over again on the movie screen so that those persons who didn't see the games can root now.

But the big surprise is being kept secret. The Omaha men merely declare they have a few stunts on. But they will be considerable stunts for even the originators admit they are ingenious. So if anybody wants to see the said stunts, two-fifty is the price.

Amos Thomas, Sam Rees, Stuart Gould, Frank Woodland and a few other of the irrefragable Nebraska alumni are working over time selling tickets and planning the events. The tickets are selling fairly well, but the committee has hopes of more success. Every Nebraska alumnus, be he young or old, is in for a tough time if he doesn't cough loose with the two-fifty assessed him.

Tuesday will certainly be a gala night for Nebraska men and Nebraska supporters, for it is not necessary to be a Nebraska alumnus to attend the banquet, anybody is invited, and the fan, who saw that wonderful Cornhusker machine in action this fall and fails to assist in giving those husky youths, who made up that machine, the time of their lives, should be treated for insanity for there is certainly nobody home.

Wagner at Basket Ball.

There is said to be no objection whatever on the part of the Pirate management against Hans Wagner playing base ball during the winter and it is practically an assured fact that the Boston man will be seen on the floors of the West Penn circuit. Hans likes the floor game, but the management did not encourage him to play it.

MICHIGAN MAY PLAY TIGERS

Possibility of Wolverines Meeting Princeton is Being Discussed.

WOULD MEAN NO HARVARD MIX

Schedule Makers of Crimson Decided Upon Radical Change in Foot Ball Card for Eleven Next Season.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 12.—The schedule makers for the Harvard foot ball team of next year have decided upon a radical change from the list of last season, according to a statement from an authentic source tonight. Five of the teams which the Crimson faced this fall have been dropped. These are the University of Michigan, Washington and Jefferson, Springfield Young Men's Christian association college, Tutts and Bates.

Colby will open the season at the stadium, it is now proposed; trinity, a new concern, has been allotted the second game, and negotiations have been closed with Pennsylvania for the return of that team.

Order of Closing. The Princeton, Brown and Yale contests again will close the season in that order.

For the three mid-season dates thus left open, five teams are under consideration. These are Virginia, which has not previously appeared on a Harvard schedule; West point, Carlisle, Cornell and Williams, each of which has been absent from the stadium for one or more seasons.

May Play Tigers. ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 12.—Reports that the Michigan foot ball eleven will play Princeton instead of Harvard next autumn have been current in university circles here for several days. The report has not yet received official confirmation. It was admitted recently, however, by officials in charge of Michigan's 1915 foot ball schedule that Harvard would not give the Wolverines a return game at Ann Arbor next fall. Students have been discussing a report, that Princeton was willing to sign a two-year foot ball contract with Michigan, one of the games to be played here and the other at Princeton.

CREIGHTON LAW MEN TO PLAY BELLEVUE TUESDAY

The basket ball team composed of Creighton law students will meet the Bellevue college team at Bellevue next Tuesday evening in the opening game for the lawyers.

The bar-rieters have decided that both the Tri-City and the Commercial league are too fat company and that they will play independently.

CAPTAIN JOHNNY EVERS HAS COMFORTABLE NIGHT

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Captain Johnny Evers of the Boston Braves, who is ill with pneumonia at a local hotel, was said to be resting easier today, having passed a comfortable night.

HUSKER FOOT BALL RECEIPTS BIT LOW

Fall $3,500 Short of Record Established During the Banner Season of 1913.

STILL HAS COIN IN TREASURY

Balance of Little Over Nine Thousand Remains After All Expenses Have Been Paid.

M. A. C. GAME DOES NOT DRAW

Final Fray at Iowa City Also Financial Disappointment.

KANSAS GAME THE BIG ONE

Nebraska's Share Almost $10,000, Which with Student Ticket Sale and Balance on Hand Leaves Good Margin in Exchequer.

By JAMES E. LAWRENCE. LINCOLN, Dec. 12.—(Special.)—Nebraska foot ball receipts fell approximately $3,500 short of the record set in 1913, but still the Cornhuskers were enabled to clear over $7,000 on the 1914 season. The report of Athletic Manager Gus E. Reed made public today shows the Huskers have a balance in the treasury of $3,667.57, but there are a few small outstanding debts which will probably cut that down $500.

The failure of the Michigan Aggie game to draw in Lincoln last fall and the drop in receipts of the Iowa-Nebraska game at Iowa City is the reason for the slump in the financial returns from the game. The Michigan Aggie game fell nearly $5,000 short of the amount it was expected to bring in, while the Iowa game was nearly $1,000 short of the amount which the Cornhuskers received as its share of the spoils in 1913.

Kansas Receipts Largest. The Kansas game brought in the largest receipts of any on the 1914 Cornhusker schedule, netting close to $10,000. The most of the early season games also paid better in 1913 and the sale of season tickets to the students also helped to swell the treasury, but they could not make up the drop in attendance at the so-called big games.

Even at that, however, the 1914 foot ball season has placed the Husker exchequer in fine shape and the athletic department will be able to carry on all branches of sport and still quit the year with a snug balance in the treasury. The department will have to finance basket ball, which is sure of pretty near splitting even financially, and track, which is nearly always good for a $1,000 loss. In addition there is inter-department sport, so that if the Cornhuskers wind up the year with a $3,000 balance, it can be considered a very successful season.

Record for Season. Following is Athletic Manager Reed's report on the foot ball season:

RECEIPTS.
Washington	450.00
South Dakota	324.00
Phillips	1,200.00
Michigan Aggie	6,835.50
Minnesota	1,100.00
Ames	1,000.00
Morningside	1,000.00
Kansas	9,714.00
Iowa University	2,200.00
From sale season tickets	4,523.00
Miscellaneous (commissions)	220.00
Balance on hand, September 1	2,044.61
Total receipts	$32,948.57

EXPENDITURES.
Guarantee to visiting teams	$ 1,725.25
Equipment, food and supplies	1,725.25
Traveling expense of squad	1,530.30
Coaching	1,200.00
Officials	311.48
Labour (upkeep of field)	873.07
Salary of manager	675.26
Printing and advertising	252.66
Medical expenses	98.50
Training	178.34
Polishing athletic field	22.00
Office expenses	69.38
Incidentals	453.11
Cross-country squad	1,200.00
Out debts outstanding	1,320.25
Total expenditures	$18,481.29

Balance on hand, December 12, 1914, $3,667.57. The athletic board must still provide gold foot ball emblems for the members of the varsity squad in accordance with its usual custom, and reserve sweaters for the members of the freshmen team. Manager Reed believes the total expense for supplies and all other items standing against the fund is about $200, so the Huskers will wind up the foot ball season with about $3,000 in the treasury.

ONLY FIFTEEN .300 BATTERS

List of Hard Hitters Reduced in Proportion to Last Year.

NINE FIFTY-GAME PLAYERS

Daubert, Becker, Wheat and Magee Are Four Men Who Appear on Both Long and Short Roster.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A comparison of the official batting averages of the National league for the seasons of 1913 and 1914 develops some interesting and puzzling features. Including all those players who participated in any manner, in fifteen or more games each season the roster for this year shows 138 names against 132 twelve months ago. Notwithstanding this increase in the total number of batters enrolled in the records, but fifteen of the 1914 hitters hammered their way into the 300 or better ranks while in 1913 the select list included twenty-three names.

When these lists are again reduced by eliminating all those players who did not participate in at least fifty games or approximately one-third of the season, the record shows that fourteen batters qualified in 1913 to nine this season. Of this number but four, Daubert, Becker, Wheat and Magee appear in both lists. Whether the pitching which the batters faced during 1914 was better than a year ago or a sort of sympathetic slump existed in the National league, it is impossible to state, but the fact remains that a number of those who batted their way into the 300 class in 1913 could not duplicate the feat during the last summer.

Batters Drop in Average.

Cravath of the Philadelphia club hit .341 in 1913 and .299 in 1914. Viox of Pittsburgh dropped from .317 to .265; Zimmerman this morning at 10:30 to compete with ten of Omaha's cranks. The Columbus men will be greeted at the depot with automobiles and they will be rushed immediately across the bridge to the grounds of the new Omaha Gun club. Shooting will start at 11 o'clock and continue for 100 targets, probably ending about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Then the Columbus shooters will be the guests of the Omaha men at a big dinner.

COLUMBUS SHOOTERS WILL BATTLE OMAHANS TODAY

Headed by Lester Gates and Gus Schroeder, ten of the shooters from Columbus, will arrive in Omaha this morning at 10:30 to compete with ten of Omaha's cranks. The Columbus men will be greeted at the depot with automobiles and they will be rushed immediately across the bridge to the grounds of the new Omaha Gun club. Shooting will start at 11 o'clock and continue for 100 targets, probably ending about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Then the Columbus shooters will be the guests of the Omaha men at a big dinner.
