Mill Company Gets Judgment Against Insurance Agent

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Dec. 17-In. the case of the Farmers Alfalfa Milling district judge directed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant for $10,000 and interest. The plaintiff sued the defendant for $10,000 on account of the fact that the defendant had procured insurance for that mount upon their alfalfa milling plant at Hershey, Neb. in 1910. It was shown that the companies in which the insurance were placed were three Philadelphia concerns and were defunct organizations and had no authority to do business in Nebraska. The law at that time provided to remain. Steckley says he did not want that if an agent should place insurance in an unauthorized company and a loss should occur and the insured should be unable to collects that a judgment could be obtained against the person placing the insurance for the amount due on the policy. The mill was entirely destroyed by fire in Uovember, 1910 day evening a call for an ambulance came from the home of E. H. Steckley, 1946 D company against Harry E. Worrell, the street, where a domestic employed by the family had been suddenly taken ill. The girl was removed and on the way to the hospital gave birth to a child, which was dead when the hospital was reached. The loctor says death resulted either from suffocation or exposure

Public interest in the case rests on the allegation that Steckley refused to allow the girl to remain at his home, after he had been informed of th egirl's condition, and insisted on her being removed at once, despite her pleadings to be allowed to work and hardship on the girl and that she insisted on being allowed to go to the hospital and that he only removed hereffects after she had been taken to the ambulance. He says neither himself nor his wife was at home when the amvestigating. The girl is recovering.

RECRUITS IN RUSH TO BRITISH COLORS

German Naval Raid on Coast Towns Greatly Stimulates the Enlistments.

ALLIES ARE ON THE OFFENSIVE

Attack on Germans in France and Belgium Being Pushed-Tentons Continue to Advance West of Warsaw.

LONDON, Dec. 17 .- The German naval raid on the east coast of England has had the effect of stimulating recruiting In the British Isles. The increase in the number of men joining the colors today is attributed almost solely to this cause.

In the western arena of the war, cape cially in Flanders, the roles of the contending armies would appear today to have been clearly reversed. All the recent official communications issued by both the allies and the Germans refer to the allied offensive from Ypres to the sea. Consequently the Germans are on the defensive. A British squadron still is standing off the coast and has aided the attack in the vicinity of Nieuport but nowhere has marked progress been noted. It may be said, nevertheless, that the attempt of the allies to push the Germans out of Belgium has definitely begun and that the results so far recorded in Flanders have converted the German line into a series of tenaciously-held positions rather than a straight front. At many points allied wedges have been driven in Russia claims to have checked for the noment the movement of the Austrians cross the Carpathian passes; it contends also that it has pushed the Germans further back toward the east Prussian frontier, at the northern extremity of the eastern front. West of Warsaw, however, the Germans continue their ad-

The German press, commenting on the situation in the west, has expressed the opinion that operations of importance are impending in Alsace, where, it is believed, French reinforcements are being brought up. A new French attack from the direction of Toul also is expected in Berin. It is added that the German guns did considerable damage to the French position in the Vosges, south of St. Die.

The increase in recruiting resulting The increase in recruiting resulting from the bombardment of east towns is particularly marked in London, where the rush of the applicants resembles in many respects the scenes witnessed at the outbreak of the war.
